21 Are Seized In Crackdown; 6 Still Sought

U.S. Takes Action Against Syndicate Of Organized Crime

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal agents have seized 21 delegates to the 1957 Apalachin, N.Y., underworld convention after one of the biggest federal crackdowns on a national syndicate which allegedly controls organized crime. They are searching for six more of the delegates.

Shortly after sunrise Thursday, agents began a coast-to-coast roundup in the wake of an indictment charging the 27 with conspiracy to obstruct justice. Those seized were being held in bonds as high as $100,000 for appearance later in federal court.

If convicted each defendant faces up to five years in prison.

Thirty-six other men surprised at the upstate conclave were named in the indictment as conspirators but not defendants.

The government contends the delegates formed the executive board of "the largest criminal syndicate in the country."

The Apalachin meeting Nov. 14, 1957, at the estate of Joseph Barbara Sr., was broken up by New York state police. The latter could find no charges for holding the 63 delegates, who contended they merely "dropped in" on the ailing Barbara. Various grand juries and state agencies have tried to crack the riddle of Apalachin without success.

While the roundup was going on, the hilltop mansion and 53-acre estate of Barbara was sold for $130,000. Russell Terry of Endicott, N.Y., a real estate dealer, said he and Larue Quick of Endwell, N.Y., a builder, will reopen the place to sightseers at a fee to be determined.

Showers To Continue With More Humidity

More scattered showers are forecast for the Ohio Valley but the rain apparently will only increase the humidity and not reduce temperatures in the spring "heat wave".

Dam 8 at Newell reported 0.29 inch of rain Thursday night, mainly in the brief but hard storm about 7:30, and a lesser shower period about 9:30. It cut little from the temperature.

More scattered showers are forecast for this afternoon and possibly tonight. It will continue warm and humid with a high of 80 to 85 forecast for today and a low of 54 to 59 tonight. Thursday's high was 87 degrees and the overnight low was only 69. Saturday may turn cooler.

Cleanup Ordered

Ohio Senate Eyes 2 More Tax Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic majority leaders in the Ohio Senate have high hopes for bringing to a vote in the upper house next week two more bills in Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's third-of-a-billion-dollar increased tax program.

The legislators wound up their 20th work week Thursday and went home until Monday.

Senate Majority Leader Frank W. King (D-Lucas) said he expects to try for enactment, either Tuesday or Wednesday, of the bill to boost corporation franchise taxes 96 million dollars in the next biennium. The other measure is the omnibus sales tax bill.

King was ready to put the franchise tax bill to a vote last Wednesday. He said he had the needed 17 votes for it but that one of the Democrats backed out and the bill was not put on the calendar that day.

The franchise tax bill, King said, must go to a vote before the sales tax bill. They are involved in a compromise to which DiSalle agreed.

The franchise tax bill, as approved by the House, called for an increase of only 32 million dollars in two years.

The sales tax bill was stalled in the Senate Taxation Committee because it contained provisions to put a sales tax on new farm and factory machinery.

Under the compromise, those provisions were taken out of the sales tax bill. The boost in the franchise tax was then tripled over the House figure to make up for the sales tax loss.

Now both bills rest in the Senate Rules Committee. King will not let them be assigned for a floor vote until he is certain he has the votes to pass them, especially the franchise tax measure.

King still faces a bitter fight over DiSalle's plan to eliminate the sales tax stamps in the other bill.

He may let that bill go to a vote on the Senate floor despite the fact that seven or eight of the 20-member Democratic majority are against doing away with the stamps.

He and DiSalle still are working to line up the required 17 votes to eliminate the stamps.

In other action Thursday, the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill requiring at least a year of parole for prison inmates before their final release from supervision.

In addition to tightening parole measures generally, the bill also officially transfers the Bureau of Probation and Parole from the Welfare Department to the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

Rep. Michael A. Sweeney (D-Cuyahoga), co-sponsor of the parole bill, said 112 convicts were released from prison last year without a period of supervision.

"That was wrong," he said.

The one-year parole requirement in the bill would not apply to prisoners who serve out their maximum sentences.

House Minority Leader Roger Cloud (R-Logan) sought to eliminate the requirement altogether, asserting that the Pardon and Pole Commission should be allowed to consider cases on their merits.

The bill also calls for appointment of a superintendent of probation and parole.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate measures to:

Increase the license fees for nets used by commercial fishermen in Lake Erie and change the spring season opening from March 15 to April 1, in an effort to boost the lake's depleted pickerel population.

Tighten regulations for certified public accountants and create a five-member administrative committee appointed by the governor to enforce higher professional standards.

Senate Has 4 Choices In Wheat Battle

Seeks Plan To Ease Surpluses; Present One Due For Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator had a choice of at least four widely varying wheat programs today as they tried to choose a way to ease mounting grain surpluses.

It appeared likely that no matter what their decision, the present wheat program—which helped build up the huge grain stocks—must continue another year.

On June 1—just 10 days away—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson must announce a new national wheat program. Present law requires an allotment of at least 55 million acres and a support price of not less than 75 per cent of parity.

Parity is a price determined under farm law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Both the Senate and House would have to agree on a new program before June 1 to make it effective for the coming year. The House, working on a different program, is not expected to act on it before that date.

Wheat is grown under strict production controls, with each farmer allotted a specific number of acres for his crop. He is penalized if he grows more. But despite sharp acreage cutbacks, the amount of wheat grown has greatly exceeded that sold. The government holds more than a full year's supply obtained under price support loans.

How to cut production still urther without hurting the farmers who grow the wheat has become a major problem.

Benson, who has had difficulty winning congressional approval of his farm plans, wants to lower wheat price supports over the next three years, and gradually let farmers grow as much wheat as they want. His theory is that lower prices will cause many farmers to quit growing wheat.

He proposes to base price supports not on parity, but on average market prices of the three preceding years. A bill to authorize his program was introduced Thursday by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill), the GOP floor leader, as a possible substitute.

Pending before the Senate is a stopgap wheat program for the next two years approved by its Agriculture Committee.

It would retain the 55-million-acre planting allotment, lower supports to 65 per cent of parity for those complying with individual farm allotments, and tighten penalties for excess planting. Those who voluntarily reduce planting 20 per cent below their allotments would be offered price supports at 80 per cent of parity.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), acting for a group of Midwest wheat senators, offered a similar plan that would keep the minimum support rate at 75 per cent and offer 85 per cent of parity support for those cutting back 20 per cent of allotments.

Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan) urged a plan that would let farmers sell wheat at market levels, give them an incentive payment above this on their share of the domestic market, and let surpluses move into export at world price levels.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind) offered the most drastic proposal. He would cut off all farm price supports at the end of this year and then freeze the 9 or 10 billions worth of wheat and other commodities now in government hands because of past programs.

He said the huge surpluses could be disposed in an orderly way over the next several years.

Hour Before He Was To Die In Chair

Starkweather, Killer Of 11, Granted Stay Of Execution

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) Charles Starkweather, 20, slayer of 11, won a two weeks stay of execution today a little more than an hour before he was to go to the electric chair.

Chief U.S. Dist. Judge Richard Robinson of Omaha stayed the execution until June 4. He said that would give Starkweather time to appeal a District Court denial of a writ of habeas corpus.

Starkweather was scheduled for execution about 6 a.m. for one of the slayings during a murder rampage 16 months ago. The stubby red-haired youth admitted 11 gun and knife killings.

Official witnesses and newsmen were already gathering in a predawn thunderstorm when the acting state penitentiary warden, John Greenholtz, notified them the execution had been stayed.

Protestant Chaplain Robert Klein had relayed the word of a possible stay to Starkweather. Half an hour later Starkweather learned the reprieve actually had been granted.

"He was pretty shaky," said Greenholtz. "He was all prepared to go."

CHARLES STARKWEATHER
Wins Last-Hour Reprieve.

Before the execution was called off, Starkweather had spent a nervous night drinking a good bit of coffee, the warden said.

At the Women's State Reformatory in York, where Caril Fugate, Starkweather's murder tour companion, is serving a life sentence, Supt. Hattie Bowley said the girl had not been told of the stay of execution, and probably won't learn of it from reformatory officials.

What Caril has learned of the case in the past has come from her attorneys, Mrs. Bowley said.

The 11th hour effort to save Starkweather from death was conducted by his father, Guy.

The elder Starkweather first phoned Judge Archibald K. Gardner of the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in Huron, S.D.

Judge Gardner referred Starkweather to Judge Robinson who was routed from bed at 1:45 a.m.

Robinson called U.S. Dist. Judge Robert Van Pelt in Lincoln. Van Pelt was the judge who rejected the habeas corpus application.

Judge Robinson observed that Starkweather had been without help of an attorney in seeking the habeas corpus writ and that he contends his constitutional rights are being violated.

Von Bretano Urges Big 3 Get Promise

Says It Could Be Basis For Accord At Summit Parley

GENEVA (AP)—West Germany pressed the Big Three Western powers today to get a permanent hands-off-Berlin pledge from the Soviet Union before agreeing to a summit conference.

Foreign Minister Heinrich von Bretano told a news conference he believes the United States, Britain and France must obtain Soviet "confirmation of the existing rights of the West in Berlin as a precondition for a summit meeting."

If the commitment could be secured informally from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko here, he said, it could be made the basis for a formal agreement at the summit. It would bind the Soviet Union to accept the right of the Western powers to keep troops in Berlin and to supply them across East Germany.

After nearly two weeks of formal sessions, the Big Four ministers are now moving into a new phase in which they expect shortly to get down to hard-boiled bargaining in secret over the Berlin and summit issues.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and Von Brentano decided today the bargaining will have to go on in small secret gatherings over lunch and dinner tables. These will parallel the big meetings at the Palace of Nations —making this a split-level conference developing partly open and partly secret.

Informants also said the Western ministers adopted a strategy of patience for dealing with Gromyko. They decided they can outwait him and need not make the

House Passes $2.1 Billion Housing Bill

Democrats' Victory Stirs Their Hopes For Other Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A walkaway victory by House Democrats in their battle for large-scale federal housing aids enhanced prospects today for other Democratic programs.

By a lusty 261-160 vote Thursday, the House passed a Democratic-backed $2,100,000,000 housing bill after upsetting every Republican effort to whittle it down to administration size.

The result put Congress squarely at odds with President Eisenhower in the politically tinged hassle over spending versus the balanced budget.

A more immediate result was to generate new steam behind proposals for a billion dollars of federal aid for local public works projects, and a quarter billion dollars of government loans and grants to assist depressed areas.

Pottery Union, Sanitary Firm Talk Pay Pact

Negotiations over a new wage agreement are under way in New York City between the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters and the American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp., affecting workers in six plants of the sanitary ware concern.

The contract covers American Standard plants at Tiffin, Kokomo, Ind., Torrance, Calif., Trenton, N. J., New Orleans and Toronto, Canada. A plant at Plainfield, Conn., is under separate contract.

The union announced it is seeking pay increases and improvements in an insurance, hospital and welfare plan which expires June 1.

The IBOP negotiators are headed by E. L. Wheatley, president, and five vice presidents, W. E. Clawges, Arthur Devlin and George Smith, all of Trenton, George Barbaree of Camden, N. J., and William Rail of Huntington Park, Calif. Each local union also is represented.

The IBOP said the negotiations have been under way since Tuesday at the Manhattan Hotel in New York.

Chester Joins Battle Against Gas Rate Hike

Councilman Starts Petitions At Request Of District Residents

A move to file protest petitions with the West Virginia Public Service Commission concerning increased rates for the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. was launched in Chester Thursday afternoon.

Councilman Charles Kology said he had the petitions prepared at the request of many residents of Chester, Newell and other surrounding areas affected by the gas rate hike which went into effect last Friday. They face a further rate boost.

The First Ward Councilman said anyone may sign the petitions at the City Hall or obtain petitions to circulate in the area.

The PSC Monday approved interim rates for the gas utility and the United Fuel Gas Co. — both subsidiaries of the Columbia Gas Co. The rate raises were asked to pay for higher charges of wholesale suppliers, and add from $1.10

County Board Lists 8 For November Ballot

The first eight candidates have filed for non-partisan ballot places in the Nov. 3 general election in which officials will be named for small villages, townships and school districts, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Columbiana County Election Board, they said today.

The eight filed to date are seeking trustee, clerk and constable posts in five townships — St. Clair, Madison, Elkrun, Butler and Fairfield.

The candidates and the posts they seek: Paul J. Buzzard, for St. Clair Township constable; Francis J. Brickner and Isaac L. Jones, both for trustee of Madison Township; William Shores, for trustee, and Ernest K. Moser, for clerk, both in Butler Township; Wilmer D. Swope and John H. Trotter, both for trustee of Fairfield Township, and L. H. Baker, for clerk of Elkrun Township.

The deadline for the filings from townships, school districts and small villages is Wednesday, Aug. 5, at 4 p. m., O'Hanlon reminded would-be candidates. The petitions must be accompanied by a filing fee of one-half of one per cent of the annual salary of the office sought, but not less than $1.

The county's eight cities and larger villages conduct primaries in May to nominate candidates for the November balloting. The aspirants in the small villages, townships and school districts bypass the primaries, running on independent or non-partisan ballots in the November general election.

The candidates and the posts they seek: Paul J. Buzzard, for St. Clair Township constable; Francis J. Brickner and Isaac L. Jones, both for trustee of Madison Township; William Shores, for trustee, and Ernest K. Moser, for clerk, both in Butler Township; Wilmer D. Swope and John H. Trotter, both for trustee of Fairfield Township, and L. H. Baker, for clerk of Elkrun Township.

The deadline for the filings from townships, school districts and small villages is Wednesday, Aug. 5, at 4 p. m., O'Hanlon reminded would-be candidates. The petitions must be accompanied by a filing fee of one-half of one per cent of the annual salary of the office sought, but not less than $1.

The county's eight cities and larger villages conduct primaries in May to nominate candidates for the November balloting. The aspirants in the small villages, townships and school districts bypass the primaries, running on independent or non-partisan ballots in the November general election.

Showers To Continue With More Humidity

More scattered showers are forecast for the Ohio Valley but the rain apparently will only increase the humidity and not reduce temperatures in the spring "heat wave".

Dam 8 at Newell reported 0.29 inch of rain Thursday night, mainly in the brief but hard storm about 7:30, and a lesser shower period about 9:30. It cut little from the temperature.

More scattered showers are forecast for this afternoon and possibly tonight. It will continue warm and humid with a high of 80 to 85 forecast for today and a low of 54 to 59 tonight. Thursday's high was 87 degrees and the overnight low was only 69. Saturday may turn cooler.

Cleanup Ordered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad has 60 days to put in sanitary facilities at its East Liverpool freight station, the Utilities Commission says. The Brotherhoods of Railway and Steamship Clerks had complained about conditions.

Notice Local 131. Special meeting Sat., May 23, 4 p. m. Room 4, to elect delegates to convention. Meeting called to give members working night turn on regular meeting night, a chance to vote. By order of Pres.—Ad.

$3,295 Contract Let For Painting Reservoir

A bid for cleaning and painting the Midland Heights water reservoir was awarded to the George Tarbuk Co. of Midland for $3,295 at a meeting of the Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday evening.

The bid was awarded following tabulation of three other bids by Michael Baker Jr. Inc., of Rochester. Bids were accepted at the April meeting of the authority.

The Tarbuk Co., who plans to begin cleaning and painting soon, has 60 days to complete the job, once notified, Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman, said. It is 150,000 gallon capacity.

Completion of painting of the 500,000 gallon 8th St. reservoir is scheduled this weekend, he said.

Next meeting will be June 17.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove coffee stains?

A. If the stains can not be removed by warm water and soap, pour on boiling water from a height of two to three feet. With silks, put between clean damp cloths, and press with a hot iron.

Q. How can I make use of leftover fruit syrups?

A. Syrup that has been left over from spiced fruits makes an excellent basting for ham, pork, or veal roasts and steaks.

Q. How can I easily remove grease from linoleum?

A. Do not wash grease spots on linoleum or wood floors with hot water, as this will set the grease. Wash with soap powder and cold water until the grease comes out.

Sign Changed Slightly

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)— Traffic officers erected a new sign at a busy street intersection on the North Carolina State College campus this week. It said: "Yield." It bears a new message now. Someone appended: "Not to temptation."

School Area's Petitions Due At Vote Board

County School Supt. James McBride said at Lisbon he expects to turn over today to the County Election Board the petitions filed with the County Board of Education Tuesday night seeking a vote Nov. 3 on dissolution of the Fairfield - Waterford School District.

The Election Board will be asked to determine the validity of each of the 839 signatures on the petition, McBride explained. The Board of Education acknowledged receipt of the petition at its meeting Tuesday, then agreed to turn it over to the Election Board here for a check on the signatures.

As signers of such a petition must be qualified electors, the check poses a task for the Election Board. Voter registration is not required in rural areas, so a person conceivably could reside in such a district all his life without voting and still be a qualified elector in the eyes of the law.

Under the proposal, Fairfield Township would be merged with Columbiana schools and Unity Township in the Waterford District would be merged with East Palestine.

Law allows the County Board of Education 60 days to act after filing of the petition. To appear on the November ballot, the question must be certified to the Election Board by Aug. 5 at 4 p. m.

Lisbon CD Aide Holds Class For City Women

Al Rutecki, supply officer of the Civil Defense 31st Mobile Support Group headquarters in Lisbon, spoke on emergency supplies and evacuation Wednesday night at the Salvation Army Citadel — another in a series of weekly classes on home preparedness for women sponsored by the Women's Civil Defense Council.

Rutecki was aided by Mrs. Ethel Gleckner and Mrs. Vera Brereton of the CD Council. The fourth in the series of classes will be given next Wednesday night on emergency food supplies. The instructors will be Miss Justine Miller, home economist for the Ohio Valley Gas Co., and Mrs. Freda Toft and Mrs. Ethel Evans of the Women's CD Council.

'Slight Improvement' Seen In Injured Man

William Hunt, 45, of 201 Baum St., who suffered loss of an arm and other injuries in a car mishap on Shadyside Ave. Wednesday night, is in "very poor" condition today at City Hospital.

Hunt, who had been in "critical" condition, has shown some slight improvement, hospital authorities said. Hunt suffered amputation of his left arm, multiple lacerations of the face and severe shock.

His car, headed south, hit the rear of a truck, then smashed into a fire hydrant and a utility pole, according to police.

Brag Wasn't Hot Air

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Gene Nau, 21, bragged to his fraternity brothers he could roll an empty 55-gallon oil drum 17 miles in less than half a day. Thursday he did it, pushing the drum over back roads from Lone Star Lake to Lawrence in 5 hours 20 minutes.

To Appeal $5 Fine

DALLAS (AP)—Everett Norton plans to appeal a $5 fine for illegal parking on his own parking lot. Police said Norton's car extended into a public walkway. Norton said the walkway actually is on his property.

Raleigh, N. C., shortstop Paul Yastrzemski of Riverhead, N. Y., left Notre Dame to accept a bonus from the Boston Red Sox.

'Agreement' Joke Heard At Steel Parley

NEW YORK (AP)—A little joke by the two top negotiators came on the eve of today's continued contract talks seeking to prevent a strike by 500,000 workers in the basic steel industry.

The fun came from R. Conrad Cooper, head bargainer for the industry and executive vice president of the U.S. Steel Corp., and David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers.

After Thursday's closed negotiations, they issued a "joint statement" to newsmen saying they had reached "agreement."

They quickly added that the agreement was on "congratulations and good luck" to H. C. Lumb, general counsel of the Republic Steel Corp., on his elevation to a vice presidency.

He is one of the industry negotitators working with Cooper as four-man teams for the industry and union seek agreement on a new contract to replace the three-year pact expiring June 30.

Neither side would comment on the course of Thursday's talks.

The union is seeking a cut in the 40-hour work week and substantial wage increases which have not been specified publicly. Basic wage is now $3.03 an hour.

Damages Of $550 Seen In Lisbon Area Blaze

An estimated $550 damage was caused in an early morning fire Thursday at the home of Samuel Mosley of Lisbon R. D. 3, Chief Kenneth Mills of the Glenmoor volunteer fire department reported.

Mills said an outside wall of a bedroom at the 3-room bungalow on Route 7 near Beaver Local School was damaged by the fire, which apparently was caused by a short circuit in the wiring.

The chief said the exact cause of the fire hasn't been determined but firemen found a wire had been spliced and retaped.

Fourteen men with 2 trucks responded to the alarm at 4 a. m.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Injuries received in a car-truck collision that killed his wife were fatal Wednesday to Clyde Holloway, 78, of nearby Lyndon. His wife, Margaret, 77, was with him when their car collided with a truck on Ohio 28 near here May 12.

Poll Winners Named In Art Show Of Clubs

Popular poll winners were announced for the Spring Open Art Show, sponsored by the City Federation of Women's Clubs held for the past two weeks at Carnegie Public Library.

Jack McDevitt received 250 votes for his painting, "Wintertime;" E. W. Friess, 200, for "Wintertide," and Miss Sherrill Shaw, 75, for "Self Portrait", in the adult division.

Bob Bonnell received 500 votes for "Southern Sunset;" Cathy Toft, 200, for "Red House", and Christopher Porter, 75, for "Horn of Plenty" in the student class.

The show will be open Sunday from 2 to 5 p. m. for the final day.

The library will be open until 6 p. m. Saturday.

Some of the winners will be shown in the lobby of the First National Bank next week.

Artists may pick up their work at the library after 5 p. m. Sunday.

Mrs. Don Schreckengost, chairman, reported that the show has been so favorably received that there is a definite plan to continue it as an annual affair. Each year a different set of judges will make the awards.

Man Held For Court In Double Crash Death

A 21-year-old trucker involved in a Williamsport traffic crash which took the lives of two Elkton area men was bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury Thursday at a hearing at East Palestine.

Jack W. Bartson of Fremont was held for court by County Judge Earl Spalding on two counts of second degree manslaughter as a result of the collision of his truck and a car last Saturday on Route 7.

William Cameron, 42, driver of the car, died Saturday night from injuries received in the head - on crash, and Frank Cameron, 64, father of the driver, died Sunday night.

Judge Spalding set $500 bond on each charge.

The family home was in Republic, Ohio.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Florence Lawton Hoppel, two sons, Charles Hoppel and Edward Hoppel, and a daughter, Barbara Hoppel, all at home.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Bame Funeral Home in Tiffin. Burial will be in St. Jacob's Cemetery there.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p. m. Saturday.

Lucian Flesher

Lucian M. Flesher of Harrisville, W. Va., near Ripley, a former resident of East Liverpool, died suddenly of an apparent heart attack at his home Thursday noon. He was 56.

He was born in West Virginia, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flesher. He was a member of the Ripley Presbyterian Church, where he served as a Sunday School teacher, and a member of Ripley Masonic Lodge. He attended elementary school here.

Besides his parents, who resides at Ripley, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Louise Flesher at home. He was a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barrett of East Liverpool.

Services will be conducted Monday at Ripley and burial will be in Harrisville.

Infant Crute

Graveside services for a son born dead to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Crute, 365 Penn Ave., Midland, Thursday at 3 a. m. at City Hospital, were held this morning at 11 at the Oak Grove Cemetery in Industry Township.

Besides the parents, the infant leaves a sister, Linda Crute at home; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Crute, and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Vanlier, all of Midland.

The Leavell Funeral Home at Midland was in charge of services.

$3,295 Contract Let For Painting Reservoir

A bid for cleaning and painting the Midland Heights water reservoir was awarded to the George Tarbuk Co. of Midland for $3,295 at a meeting of the Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday evening.

The bid was awarded following tabulation of three other bids by Michael Baker Jr. Inc., of Rochester. Bids were accepted at the April meeting of the authority.

The Tarbuk Co., who plans to begin cleaning and painting soon, has 60 days to complete the job, once notified, Dr. Zanvel Sigal, chairman, said. It is 150,000 gallon capacity.

Completion of painting of the 500,000 gallon 8th St. reservoir is scheduled this weekend, he said.

Next meeting will be June 17.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove coffee stains?

A. If the stains can not be removed by warm water and soap, pour on boiling water from a height of two to three feet. With silks, put between clean damp cloths, and press with a hot iron.

Q. How can I make use of left-over fruit syrups?

A. Syrup that has been left over from spiced fruits makes an excellent basting for ham, pork, or veal roasts and steaks.

Q. How can I easily remove grease from linoleum?

A. Do not wash grease spots on linoleum or wood floors with hot water, as this will set the grease. Wash with soap powder and cold water until the grease comes out.

Sign Changed Slightly

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)— Traffic officers erected a new sign at a busy street intersection on the North Carolina State College campus this week. It said: "Yield." It bears a new message now. Someone appended: "Not to temptation."

School Area's Petitions Due At Vote Board

County School Supt. James McBride said at Lisbon he expects to turn over today to the County Election Board the petitions filed with the County Board of Education Tuesday night seeking a vote Nov. 3 on dissolution of the Fairfield - Waterford School District.

The Election Board will be asked to determine the validity of each of the 839 signatures on the petition, McBride explained. The Board of Education acknowledged receipt of the petition at its meeting Tuesday, then agreed to turn it over to the Election Board here for a check on the signatures.

As signers of such a petition must be qualified electors, the check poses a task for the Election Board. Voter registration is not required in rural areas, so a person conceivably could reside in such a district all his life without voting and still be a qualified elector in the eyes of the law.

Under the proposal, Fairfield Township would be merged with Columbiana schools and Unity Township in the Waterford District would be merged with East Palestine.

Law allows the County Board of Education 60 days to act after filing of the petition. To appear on the November ballot, the question must be certified to the Election Board by Aug. 5 at 4 p. m.

Lisbon CD Aide Holds Class For City Women

Al Rutecki, supply officer of the Civil Defense 31st Mobile Support Group headquarters in Lisbon, spoke on emergency supplies and evacuation Wednesday night at the Salvation Army Citadel — another in a series of weekly classes on home preparedness for women sponsored by the Women's Civil Defense Council.

Rutecki was aided by Mrs. Ethel Gleckner and Mrs. Vera Brereton of the CD Council. The fourth in the series of classes will be given next Wednesday night on emergency food supplies. The instructors will be Miss Justine Miller, home economist for the Ohio Valley Gas Co., and Mrs. Freda Toft and Mrs. Ethel Evans of the Women's CD Council.

'Slight Improvement' Seen In Injured Man

William Hunt, 45, of 201 Baum St., who suffered loss of an arm and other injuries in a car mishap on Shadyside Ave. Wednesday night, is in "very poor" condition today at City Hospital.

Hunt, who had been in "critical" condition, has shown some slight improvement, hospital authorities said. Hunt suffered amputation of his left arm, multiple lacerations of the face and severe shock.

His car, headed south, hit the rear of a truck, then smashed into a fire hydrant and a utility pole, according to police.

Brag Wasn't Hot Air

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Gene Nau, 21, bragged to his fraternity brothers he could roll an empty 55-gallon oil drum 17 miles in less than half a day. Thursday he did it, pushing the drum over back roads from Lone Star Lake to Lawrence in 5 hours 20 minutes.

To Appeal $5 Fine

DALLAS (AP)—Everett Norton plans to appeal a $5 fine for illegal parking on his own parking lot. Police said Norton's car extended into a public walkway. Norton said the walkway actually is on his property.

'Agreement' Joke Heard At Steel Parley

NEW YORK (AP)—A little joke by the two top negotiators came on the eve of today's continued contract talks seeking to prevent a strike by 500,000 workers in the basic steel industry.

The fun came from R. Conrad Cooper, head bargainer for the industry and executive vice president of the U.S. Steel Corp., and David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers.

After Thursday's closed negotiations, they issued a "joint statement" to newsmen saying they had reached "agreement."

They quickly added that the agreement was on "congratulations and good luck" to H. C. Lumb, general counsel of the Republic Steel Corp., on his elevation to a vice presidency.

He is one of the industry negotiators working with Cooper as four-man teams for the industry and union seek agreement on a new contract to replace the three-year pact expiring June 30.

Neither side would comment on the course of Thursday's talks.

The union is seeking a cut in the 40-hour work week and substantial wage increases which have not been specified publicly. Basic wage is now $3.03 an hour.

Damages Of $550 Seen In Lisbon Area Blaze

An estimated $550 damage was caused in an early morning fire Thursday at the home of Samuel Mosley of Lisbon R. D. 3, Chief Kenneth Mills of the Glenmoor volunteer fire department reported.

Mills said an outside wall of a bedroom at the 3-room bungalow on Route 7 near Beaver Local School was damaged by the fire, which apparently was caused by a short circuit in the wiring.

The chief said the exact cause of the fire hasn't been determined but firemen found a wire had been spliced and retaped.

Fourteen men with 2 trucks responded to the alarm at 4 a. m.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Injuries received in a car-truck collision that killed his wife were fatal Wednesday to Clyde Holloway, 78, of nearby Lyndon. His wife, Margaret, 77, was with him when their car collided with a truck on Ohio 28 near here May 12.

Pittsburgher Fined

LISBON — William Seay, 55, of Pittsburgh was fined $25 and costs Thursday by Mayor John Todd for driving without a license. He was also fined $10 for crossing the yellow line. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Poll Winners Named In Art Show Of Clubs

Popular poll winners were announced for the Spring Open Art Show, sponsored by the City Federation of Women's Clubs held for the past two weeks at Carnegie Public Library.

Jack McDevitt received 250 votes for his painting, "Wintertime;" E. W. Friess, 200, for "Wintertide," and Miss Sherrill Shaw, 75, for "Self Portrait", in the adult division.

Bob Bonnell received 500 votes for "Southern Sunset;" Cathy Toft, 200, for "Red House", and Christopher Porter, 75, for "Horn of Plenty" in the student class.

The show will be open Sunday from 2 to 5 p. m. for the final day.

The library will be open until 6 p. m. Saturday.

Some of the winners will be shown in the lobby of the First National Bank next week.

Artists may pick up their work at the library after 5 p. m. Sunday.

Mrs. Don Schreckengost, chairman, reported that the show has been so favorably received that there is a definite plan to continue it as an annual affair. Each year a different set of judges will make the awards.

Man Held For Court In Double Crash Death

A 21-year-old trucker involved in a Williamsport traffic crash which took the lives of two Elkton area men was bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury Thursday at a hearing at East Palestine.

Jack W. Bartson of Fremont was held for court by County Judge Earl Spalding on two counts of second degree manslaughter as a result of the collision of his truck and a car last Saturday on Route 7.

William Cameron, 42, driver of the car, died Saturday night from injuries received in the head - on crash, and Frank Cameron, 64, father of the driver, died Sunday night.

Judge Spalding set $500 bond on each charge.

More Than Meets The Ear At Geneva

The large press corps assembled in Geneva to record every syllable and inflection has been floundering as badly as the newsmen assigned to cover the steel negotiations in New York City. There is no progress to report.

In both cases, the negotiators are still taking batting practice. They are sharpening up for the real thing, when they will play for keeps. They are saying what they feel they must say for the benefit of their partisans. But eventually, with the benefit of whatever privacy can be achieved in a glass house, they will get down to business.

The foreign ministers are in Geneva for a purpose, not for their health. The purpose is to make it possible for Nikita Khrushchev in behalf of the Communists to sit down vis-a-vis Dwight Eisenhower in behalf of the Western Allies and the non-Communist world. They deny it, but they could have no other purpose.

Even though the President has nothing to gain from such a meeting, except a tenuous understanding with a government whose word is shaky, he has no choice but to agree to it, unless the Russians make his attendance impossible by willful obstinacy.

They are not likely to do that. Their premier has everything to gain from this form of recognition as the chief negotiator for the Communist world and the diplomatic equal of President Eisenhower. The omen for a summit meeting continues to be good, despite the fact no one can be satisfied with Geneva.

President Wilson said international negotiations were impossible under such close scrutiny. It is a handicap. But the foreign ministers conference never was intended to negotiate anything. It was to be exploratory.

Before wondering why it seems to be getting nowhere, a critic must consider that in even so tiny a world problem as whether or not the Steelworkers Union will tie up with the U.S. steel industry in a strike this summer negotiators have been at work longer than the diplomats in Geneva without accomplishing anything either.

But they have not failed in either New York City or Geneva. They simply have not succeeded in settling an questions so far.

Silence Can Be A Crime, Too

From this point forward, every hoodlum suspect who is asked a question and refuses to give a straight answer will find himself staring at potential indictment for conspiracy to balk justice. The federal government has forged a new weapon to fight racketeers.

Its first large-scale test is the indictment of 27 of the visitors who showed up at Apalachin, N.Y., last summer — the cream of the underworld in the United States. If their legal defense turns into the same kind of showdown the federal government had with the 11 top Communist defendants who fought indictment on a charge of conspiracy, legal history will be made.

This is obviously the hope of the Department of Justice, which has set up a special division to work out the details of a legal offense against entrenched racketeering. It is no longer enough to look at a suspect's income tax return. Major malefactors can hire all the high-priced help they need to keep their accounts in apple-pie order.

They will have high-priced help to take care of them in court, too.

But so did the Communists whose trial in Judge Harold R. Medina's court in 1949 resulted in five jail sentences for the defense lawyers besides terms for 10 of the 11 defendants. The U.S. Supreme Court upheld the findings for both the defendants and their counsel.

The Apalachin trials will be even more important; there is more at stake. Sooner or later it must be found out whether racketeering by any name and under any auspices finally has grown so powerful that it can control government from within, whereas Communists conspire to overthrow government from without.

Something To Cover The Carpet?

A taxpayer — any taxpayer — can be pardoned for finding a moral in the way the U.S. Senate solved the problem of slippery floors in its new 25-million-dollar office building.

The moral is that public spenders rarely can be counted on to show private sense. The money they spend is abstract. They did not earn it. They do not have to replace it. They do not have to choose between spending it for one thing or another. There's always more where that came from.

Consequently, when the tile floors in the new Senate buildings proved to be dangerously slippery, the easiest thing for a public spender to do was order enough wall-to-wall carpeting to cover up the tile floors.

Bear in mind that the floors, themselves, were special. They had not been put down with a view to covering them with carpet.

In office buildings all over this country the problem of slippery tile floors has been faced and solved. Particularly for people whose shoes do not have rubber heels—and especially for women in high-heeled shoes—tile floors can be hazardous, unless they are covered with a kind of wax that inhibits their tendency to be slippery.

The wax is cheap. It makes cheap maintenance possible. It is, therefore, the obvious solution to the problem of slipperiness.

But among public spenders the obvious solution is to spend more money — to buy wall-to-wall carpeting, to make everything a little bigger, to appropriate an extra million or billion, to do things up brown. It's only money to a public spender. To all the rest of us it's earning power. It makes a difference.

Little Leaguers

The Little League baseball season will get under way here again next week.

A league of this nature is made up of many parts that must function as one to assure its success.

There must be a group of young ballplayers eager and willing to learn the game and play it to the limit; there must be sponsors to foot much of the bill necessary to keep things going; there must be league officials, managers, coaches and umpires giving of their time and enthusiasm on behalf of youth.

The local Little League has been blessed with all of these and can look forward to another outstanding season. The overwhelming support of the fans could make it a banner one.

The youngsters play an interesting and enjoyable game of ball. Get out and watch them.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mrs. Zadie Bunker, 71 and a great grandmother, just broke the sound barrier in an 800-mile-per-hour jet, piloting it part of the way. That's nothing. Grandma Samantha ("The Rocket") Hosley, of our neighborhood, took her first flight at 70, immediately following the fifth cocktail at her birthday party, using only a broom. She was up two miles before realizing that she was operating it by will power.

She is now 86 and thinks nothing of doing her washing and ironing, and then taking off into the stratosphere in her own jet. For years she refused to use a motor, and depended entirely on a four-leaf clover.

GRANNIE HOSLEY was airplane minded even as a child. She once took a red apple to teacher by a rocket. While a teen-ager she flew the ocean but had no press agent and got no recognition.

"He never admitted it, but Slim Lindbergh got his ocean route from me and I made the sandwich he carried," she said today. "These jets are wonderful but 800 miles per hour is pretty slow from the standpoint of a grandmother who has been around."

She took all her flying lessons by mail and made most of her stratospheric flights without neglecting her housework or 11 kids.

She once flew an ironing board around the Capitol at Washington, fell out while repairing a wing and circled the building four times before realizing the plane was no longer with her. The order of finish was — plane first; false teeth second; grannie third. Only grandma finished unharmed.

"It's a shame they're choosing kids for the first U.S. moon flights," said Grannie. "I could be first into outer space with half the fuss. I hereby volunteer to fly the first moon ship, bake a cake and compose a theme song for the boys at Cape Canaveral at the same time."

JOE COOK, famed comedian who died the other day, had a golf course with putting-green shaped like a funnel. No guest at his Sleepless Hollow home could miss a hole-in-one. His Four Hawaiians routine was well known but we found funnier his description, street-by-street of a trip downtown in Evansville.

FLORIDA BOOM makes that of the 20's seem small-time. No note of caution moves buyers and we just read where a development was quickly sold despite a frank advertisement, "We will sell these lots by acre or by gallon. If you see 'em you won't buy 'em. But if you don't buy 'em you will miss golden opportunity."

Shelley Berman is best comic to hit scene in years. Here is a comedian of quality and depth. In a day when so many depend on physical energy, perspiration, it's great to find a performer who can sit quietly in a chair and by sheer ability grip an audience with a memorable routine. His sketch on his delicatessen-shop father reacting to his request for $100 to take acting lessons is alternately side-splitting and touching. . . .

TV's half hour in which three Cuban officials got equal time to attack Stuart Novens' recent charge of Red influence in Cuba was a curious proceeding. A senator and Leo Cherne also appeared, with result that nobody got over his point, let alone Novens.

LONG DELAYED AID from church and synagogue in a war on the potential killer at the wheel of an auto may be forecast by proposal of French bishop that reckless driving be included in the catechism as a grave sin.

Disrespect for human life is a sin in any form and especially in the wide form represented by the selfish, arrogant auto driver visible on all roads at all times, the bishop indicates. This is smacking the nail on head.

Why can't every church devote at least a couple of minutes every Sunday to the killer-tactics of millions who hog it up on highways?

We haven't heard more than an annual reference, and a very casual one, from any pulpit in a long time. (Even where the pastors have to step gingerly crossing a street immediately following the services.)

Thumbs Down!

Chinese Reds Don't Trust Khrushchev

By Victor Riesel

This is an exclusive interview with the Dalai Lama's brother, who was not only the intimate and constant companion of the God-King, but also a member of the governing Tibetan high council before the Communists took over.

Those very clever people, the Chinese Communist leaders, neither trust Nikita Khrushchev nor do they seem to be fond of the burly little man, said Lobsang Samden of the Tibetan God King's House of Tahkla in a voice through which echoed the wisdom and weariness of the Orient. Young Lobsang knows.

Victor Riesel

He and his brother observed it in Peiping. His brother the Dalai Lama, now in Mussoorie, India, binding up the wounds of his refugee people — wounds from the machine guns of Red Chinese pursuit planes.

Slim, graceful, 26-year-old Lobsang, not too long ago a member of the Dalai Lama's five-man high government council, is in New York. We talked for hours the other day of the months he spent with his God-King brother watching Khrushchev, Mao Tze-Tung, Liu Shao-chi and the others in the global Communist high command trying futilely to brainwash or break the Dalai Lama.

"I SPENT A YEAR with my brother in Peiping," Lobsang said as we sat somewhere in mid-Manhattan. "One day the Communists drove us out to the airport. We found ourselves shaking hands with Khrushchev and Bulganin. The next night there was a big state banquet. Afterwards, Khrushchev sought out my brother, who was being isolated from all ambassadors.

"Khrushchev talked to us privately. He told us how lucky we were to be liberated from the Americans and British. He said that religion was evil. He would send engineers and technicians into Tibet and show us they could do what God couldn't.

"Just then the Chinese Foreign Office official in charge of the Tibetan - Mongolian - Manchurian section came over. He asked us to excuse ourselves for a moment. We went with him. He told us neither to speak to the Russians nor to trust them. They seemed to hate each other," Lobsang continued.

THE TIBETAN spoke quickly, apologetic for his occasionally broken English. His gracious voice grew wistful and nostalgic when he talked of his four brothers and two sisters. He is closest to the Dalai Lama.

When they returned to Lhasa from Peiping, they found Russian engineers digging for oil in the north and trying to locate iron and lead deposits.

"The Russians dug. But the Chinese Communists began wiping us out as a people — all six million of us. In Peiping, Mao and Liu told us that religion is poison. He said the monks — and I am one of them — should be put to work," Lobsang said.

"They were brainwashing some 7,000 of our young people, from the ages of 7 to 27. They took them from Lhasa and the farms.

"The Communists brought them to Peiping where I saw 2,000 of them. They taught our young people to hate us and to speak only Chinese. Then they sent them back into Tibet — 500 at a time. They used them to form youth groups, women's groups, business groups and unions.

"The Chinese have burned all our temples. They have stolen much of our food and goods. The wool of the yaks, which used to go to the United States and India, now is taken by them. They take butter, cheese, grain as well as the yaks. They used to pay in gold; then with Chinese silver. Then they just took the people's food and goods on credit."

I asked Lobsang why he left Tibet in 1957. He was with his brother, the Dalai Lama, in Sikkim, India, then.

"It is not enough to say there is no freedom," he replied looking at me and the gentle fellow from the Church World Service, now caring for Lobsang.

"IT IS SLOW DEATH in an open air prison. The Communists built roads and said you can travel. But you need a pass and they didn't give us any. They created a 'public' bus system. But we found that only the Red soldiers can travel, just as only they could eat much of our food.

"It is all — all China — a big prison. When we were there, they surrounded our party of 250 with secret police. Two to each 10 of us. They always kept talking about God being Marx and Lenin and Mao. They showed us the so-called industrial wonders of Manchuria, the big machinery. They said it was made by the Communists. But the little plates said 'Made in U.S.A.'"

"In Harbin, we saw few people on the street and no traffic. Everybody was working all day in big factories — except a few. Children were packed into nurseries and taught to say God is evil, Lenin and Mao are good.

"I said to my brother I do not return to a prison. The Dalai Lama said in Tibetan as one young brother to another even in your country, 'Take it easy, go your way. Find Freedom.'

"I find it here in your country. And I hope to find some way to help my people."

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

No matter how hard I try, the image of Eddie and Liz doesn't light up my vicarious existence—the side of me that is supposed to sigh, "Gee, I sure wish I was that lucky!"

Whenever I see the latest report on the rise in employment and the decline in unemployment I mentally catalog the things that could change all that in a hurry, beginning with the probable decision to call a steel strike on July 1.

It occurs to me that she has been in the White House as first lady for more than six years but I have no firm opinion about Mamie Eisenhower one way or the other — nothing like the ones I had about Bess Truman, Eleanor Roosevelt and Lou Henry Hoover.

I have just discovered my packet of Alaskan wildflower seeds where I had forgotten I put them —in the food freezer. The directions said to freeze and thaw them three times to get them in shape. But on the other hand it must be too late for Alaskan wildflowers now.

I think it would be interesting in all cases to know what public officials get for stating opinions and answering questions on sponsored television, especially when the information should be put into the public domain without charge, as it is when newspapers go after it.

I wonder how many people remember that all government schemes for making workers retire and limiting their work week by edict originated in the minds of the kind of people who flocked around the first New Deal in Washington and at one time were making gaint strides toward an American form of fascism.

I, for one, am taking no stock in the idea of a tax revolt until most of the people I know give legislators strict orders to spend no more money on any account—not even to build new roads, airports, lakes, waterways, or veterans' hospitals that would boom business in the old home town.

Caviar does not have to be sturgeon eggs, but if it isn't it's only fish eggs as far as I'm concerned.

At least one senator won't let them put down any of the $150,000 worth of carpet the silly senators bought to cover up the $100,000 tile floor in their new 25-million-dollar office building that has turned out to be a monument to senatorial snafu.

In case you lost track, the four white youths accused of raping a Negro co-ed in Tallahassee have pleaded not guilty. Rape is punishable by death in Florida. No white man, of course, ever has been found guilty of raping a Negro, if you've lost track of that, too.

A discovery that could revolutionize public affairs is that businessmen who go into government have everything to gain and nothing to lose if they steer clear of partisanship at local levels and concentrate on public affairs.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The Rev. W. H. Baker, pastor of the First Church of Christ, was elected president of the Columbiana County Sunday School Association.

Mrs. Dorothy Brand, first honor student, and Miss Mattie Bryant, "greatest effort student" in the high school graduating class were presented gold medals by the Rotary Club.

Open Door Conference

Clarifying Some Things About Geneva

GENEVA

What a lot of fancy names there are in public affairs to make people believe that things are different from what they really are. For instance, the impression is widely held — as a result of extensive publicity — that there is somehow a real difference between the Foreign Ministers' conference and a summit meeting of heads of states.

David Lawrence

The fact is that each of the foreign ministers at Geneva is in constant and instantaneous touch with the head of his own government and would not dare make any move without consulting his chief of state.

Then there's the theory that a "negotiation" is taking place here. The assumption is that three men are sitting down with a fourth to talk things out and, in a sort of give-and-take way, are trying to find a means of agreeing on something substantial to improve the world situation.

Actually, the Foreign Ministers conference now has been going on for a week and a half and there hasn't been a single occasion when the four principals sat down together without a lot of advisers, secretaries, translators and other personnel present taking notes.

Each meeting is virtually public and not a private consultation at all. The press is "briefed" immediately afterward.

WHAT MAY SURPRISE many people is that every subject discussed here has been threshed out by planning committees and policy boards on both sides and within each government over a long period prior to this conference. So there is no such thing as an off-the-cuff negotiation, though at social gatherings occasionally some frank exchanges occur.

The three Western foreign ministers came to Geneva reconciled to the idea that the first week or more of the conference would be devoted to speech making and propaganda operations but they were convinced that sooner or later there would have to be restricted sessions, with the consulations confined to the four foreign ministers and perhaps a limited number of advisory personnel. The question now has arisen as to who shall attend restricted sessions — four foreign ministers or six?

Over the radio, the Soviets have already told the people behind the Iron Curtain that this is really a six-power conference and that the envoys from East and West Germany respectively are "participants" and not just "observers."

So the first obstacle that has to be overcome is to undo the damage that was done by giving the East and West German envoys places at any table — round or square. Certainly there cannot be any intimate discussion by the four foreign ministers if they have to do their talking in the presence of the East and West German representatives and if everyone is taking notes.

Until there are fewer persons in the conference room, there will be no such thing as a "negotiation" in the sense in which the term is ordinarily used. Even if there were a chance to "negotiate," would the foreign ministers be able to deviate from their previously adopted positions?

To a certain extent this is possible on both sides but the initiative in this conference is held by Nikita Khrushchev. What he tells his foreign minister to do is the key.

Would it be any different at a summit conference? The answer is necessarily negative. For, while it might be assumed that the Soviet premier could make up his mind on the spur of the moment, the questions involved are far too complex and relate to too many other problems to be given an impromptu treatment.

THE BIGGEST FALLACY in the world is that, because the Soviets have a one-man dictatorship, the answers to broad questions of international policy affecting the relations of the East and West can be quickly given. Even if there were concessions from the Soviet side, further study would be required and also subsequent verification to find out what the spoken words mean when reduced to writing.

This has been a frustrating experience in the past and there is no reason to believe a change in technique will come from a man who thinks he has the Western world at his mercy.

Khrushchev talks glibly every now and then in conciliatory phrases but they all add up to a demand for the unconditional surrender of the West.

Any summit meeting will prove useless just as the conference here has already demonstrated, because the Soviets think they can outlast the West.

They believe they can win by frightening our side or by getting the propaganda help of those politicians in Western countries who seek to make capital out of the inability of their own governments to change by diplomatic "negotiation" the behavior of the Communist regime.

What Will History Say?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

John Foster Dulles, from the moment he resigned as secretary of state because of his spreading cancer, belonged to history. What will history say of him?

It can never deny that this 71-year-old man gave to the service and welfare of his country tremendous and tireless dedication. He quit only because of the illness which incapacitated him.

But only unfolding events—history itself—can ever give a final answer to the central question of his stewardship: Was he a good secretary of state in the sense that the policy he pursued was wise?

His great task was dealing with communism. If his whole policy toward the world of the Soviets and Red Chinese were to be summed up in a single sentence, this could be it: "Hold tight and don't let them budge an inch."

This was exactly the "containment" policy of his predecessor, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson. It called for military alliances all around the Communist perimeter and economic help to friends and neutrals.

The purpose was direct, obvious and simple: to keep communism from gaining any more ground, militarily, economically or politically. It was essentially a defensive policy, not an aggressive one.

Dulles disagreed with it thoroughly in the 1952 presidential campaign before he became secretary. He called it "negative, futile and immoral." He said it was limited to reacting to Soviet actions. In short, he said the United States should create crises for the Soviet Union instead of letting the Soviet Union create crises for us.

But when he became secretary he took over the Acheson policy, made it his own, even expanded on it with new military ailiances.

Yet Dulles had hardly taken office before Soviet policy changed, at least outwardly. Forty-four days after Dulles was sworn in, the old dictator, Joseph Stalin, died, and with him went the needlessly savage Soviet foreign policy.

His successors took a softer line although their purpose, and they made no bones about it, was the same: Communist expansion. They managed to increase their influence beyond their borders but American military alliances and power remained firm and the Soviets didn't gain an extra foot of real estate.

Yet, the Soviets and Red Chinese went ahead by leaps in their own internal development, particularly the Soviet Union in the field of weapons which put added pressure on the West to stand back. The cold war between East and West was just as intense when Dulles went to the hospital as when he took office six years ago.

This is why many years must pass before history can give a final verdict on the policy and wisdom of Dulles, for it will take many years and many events as they unfold to show:

1. Whether his policy led, or helped lead, to the ultimate ruination or triumph of communism or to a peaceful understanding between East and West.

2. Whether, by the time he took office and Stalin died, the Acheson policy was outmoded and Dulles should have sought and pursued a different one of his own making, with more aggressiveness and less defensiveness, or with more friendliness and less hostility.

3. Whether the forces already let loose before he became secretary in 1953—ultimately favorable or unfavorable to the West—were already too powerful to be affected in their direction or destination by him or any one man.

4. Whether he was wise in depending so much on his own thinking or whether he should have made far greater use of the minds of the men around him in the State Department.

No one now—and certainly not Dulles, whose sense of history was too sharp for that—can claim to know positively the answers to the questions just raised. But no one can challenge this about him: he did his best as he saw it.

More Than Meets The Ear At Geneva

The large press corps assembled in Geneva to record every syllable and inflection has been floundering as badly as the newsmen assigned to cover the steel negotiations in New York City. There is no progress to report.

In both cases, the negotiators are still taking batting practice. They are sharpening up for the real thing, when they will play for keeps. They are saying what they feel they must say for the benefit of their partisans. But eventually, with the benefit of whatever privacy can be achieved in a glass house, they will get down to business.

The foreign ministers are in Geneva for a purpose, not for their health. The purpose is to make it possible for Nikita Khrushchev in behalf of the Communists to sit down vis-a-vis Dwight Eisenhower in behalf of the Western Allies and the non-Communist world. They deny it, but they could have no other purpose.

Even though the President has nothing to gain from such a meeting, except a tenuous understanding with a government whose word is shaky, he has no choice but to agree to it, unless the Russians make his attendance impossible by willful obstinacy.

They are not likely to do that. Their premier has everything to gain from this form of recognition as the chief negotiator for the Communist world and the diplomatic equal of President Eisenhower. The omen for a summit meeting continues to be good, despite the fact no one can be satisfied with Geneva.

President Wilson said international negotiations were impossible under such close scrutiny. It is a handicap. But the foreign ministers conference never was intended to negotiate anything. It was to be exploratory.

Before wondering why it seems to be getting nowhere, a critic must consider that in even so tiny a world problem as whether or not the Steelworkers Union will tie up with the U.S. steel industry in a strike this summer negotiators have been at work longer than the diplomats in Geneva without accomplishing anything either.

But they have not failed in either New York City or Geneva. They simply have not succeeded in settling an questions so far.

Silence Can Be A Crime, Too

From this point forward, every hoodlum suspect who is asked a question and refuses to give a straight answer will find himself staring at potential indictment for conspiracy to balk justice. The federal government has forged a new weapon to fight racketeers.

Its first large-scale test is the indictment of 27 of the visitors who showed up at Apalachin, N.Y., last summer — the cream of the underworld in the United States. If their legal defense turns into the same kind of showdown the federal government had with the 11 top Communist defendants who fought indictment on a charge of conspiracy, legal history will be made.

This is obviously the hope of the Department of Justice, which has set up a special division to work out the details of a legal offense against entrenched racketeering. It is no longer enough to look at a suspect's income tax return. Major malefactors can hire all the high-priced help they need to keep their accounts in apple-pie order.

They will have high-priced help to take care of them in court, too.

But so did the Communists whose trial in Judge Harold R. Medina's court in 1949 resulted in five jail sentences for the defense lawyers besides terms for 10 of the 11 defendants. The U.S. Supreme Court upheld the findings for both the defendants and their counsel.

The Apalachin trials will be even more important; there is more at stake. Sooner or later it must be found out whether racketeering by any name and under any auspices finally has grown so powerful that it can control government from within, whereas Communists conspire to overthrow government from without.

Something To Cover The Carpet?

A taxpayer — any taxpayer — can be pardoned for finding a moral in the way the U.S. Senate solved the problem of slippery floors in its new 25-million-dollar office building.

The moral is that public spenders rarely can be counted on to show private sense. The money they spend is abstract. They did not earn it. They do not have to replace it. They do not have to choose between spending it for one thing or another. There's always more where that came from.

Consequently, when the tile floors in the new Senate buildings proved to be dangerously slippery, the easiest thing for a public spender to do was order enough wall-to-wall carpeting to cover up the tile floors.

Bear in mind that the floors, themselves, were special. They had not been put down with a view to covering them with carpet.

In office buildings all over this country the problem of slippery tile floors has been faced and solved. Particularly for people whose shoes do not have rubber heels—and especially for women in high-heeled shoes—tile floors can be hazardous, unless they are covered with a kind of wax that inhibits their tendency to be slippery.

The wax is cheap. It makes cheap maintenance possible. It is, therefore, the obvious solution to the problem of slipperiness.

But among public spenders the obvious solution is to spend more money — to buy wall-to-wall carpeting, to make everything a little bigger, to appropriate an extra million or billion, to do things up brown. It's only money to a public spender. To all the rest of us it's earning power. It makes a difference.

Little Leaguers

The Little League baseball season will get under way here again next week.

A league of this nature is made up of many parts that must function as one to assure its success.

There must be a group of young ballplayers eager and willing to learn the game and play it to the limit; there must be sponsors to foot much of the bill necessary to keep things going; there must be league officials, managers, coaches and umpires giving of their time and enthusiasm on behalf of youth.

The local Little League has been blessed with all of these and can look forward to another outstanding season. The overwhelming support of the fans could make it a banner one.

The youngsters play an interesting and enjoyable game of ball. Get out and watch them.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Mrs. Zadie Bunker, 71 and a great grandmother, just broke the sound barrier in an 800-mile-per-hour jet, piloting it part of the way. That's nothing. Grandma Samantha ("The Rocket") Hosley, of our neighborhood, took her first flight at 70, immediately following the fifth cocktail at her birthday party, using only a broom. She was up two miles before realizing that she was operating it by will power.

She is now 86 and thinks nothing of doing her washing and ironing, and then taking off into the stratosphere in her own jet. For years she refused to use a motor, and depended entirely on a four-leaf clover.

GRANNIE HOSLEY was airplane minded even as a child. She once took a red apple to teacher by a rocket. While a teen-ager she flew the ocean but had no press agent and got no recognition.

"He never admitted it, but Slim Lindbergh got his ocean route from me and I made the sandwich he carried," she said today. "These jets are wonderful but 800 miles per hour is pretty slow from the standpoint of a grandmother who has been around."

She took all her flying lessons by mail and made most of her stratospheric flights without neglecting her housework or 11 kids.

She once flew an ironing board around the Capitol at Washington, fell out while repairing a wing and circled the building four times before realizing the plane was no longer with her. The order of finish was — plane first; false teeth second; grannie third. Only grandma finished unharmed.

"It's a shame they're choosing kids for the first U.S. moon flights," said Grannie. "I could be first into outer space with half the fuss. I hereby volunteer to fly the first moon ship, bake a cake and compose a theme song for the boys at Cape Canaveral at the same time."

JOE COOK, famed comedian who died the other day, had a golf course with putting-green shaped like a funnel. No guest at his Sleepless Hollow home could miss a hole-in-one. His Four Hawaiians routine was well known but we found funnier his description, street-by-street of a trip downtown in Evansville.

FLORIDA BOOM makes that of the 20's seem small-time. No note of caution moves buyers and we just read where a development was quickly sold despite a frank advertisement, "We will sell these lots by acre or by gallon. If you see 'em you won't buy 'em. But if you don't buy 'em you will miss golden opportunity."

Shelley Berman is best comic to hit scene in years. Here is a comedian of quality and depth. In a day when so many depend on physical energy, perspiration, it's great to find a performer who can sit quietly in a chair and by sheer ability grip an audience with a memorable routine. His sketch on his delicatessen-shop father reacting to his request for $100 to take acting lessons is alternately side-splitting and touching. . . .

TV's half hour in which three Cuban officials got equal time to attack Stuart Novens' recent charge of Red influence in Cuba was a curious proceeding. A senator and Leo Cherne also appeared, with result that nobody got over his point, let alone Novens.

LONG DELAYED AID from church and synagogue in a war on the potential killer at the wheel of an auto may be forecast by proposal of French bishop that reckless driving be included in the catechism as a grave sin.

Disrespect for human life is a sin in any form and especially in the wide form represented by the selfish, arrogant auto driver visible on all roads at all times, the bishop indicates. This is smacking the nail on head.

Why can't every church devote at least a couple of minutes every Sunday to the killer-tactics of millions who hog it up on highways?

We haven't heard more than an annual reference, and a very casual one, from any pulpit in a long time. (Even where the pastors have to step gingerly crossing a street immediately following the services.)

Thumbs Down!

Chinese Reds Don't Trust Khrushchev

By Victor Riesel

This is an exclusive interview with the Dalai Lama's brother, who was not only the intimate and constant companion of the God-King, but also a member of the governing Tibetan high council before the Communists took over.

Those very clever people, the Chinese Communist leaders, neither trust Nikita Khrushchev nor do they seem to be fond of the burly little man, said Lobsang Samden of the Tibetan God King's House of Tahkla in a voice through which echoed the wisdom and weariness of the Orient. Young Lobsang knows.

Victor Riesel

He and his brother observed it in Peiping. His brother the Dalai Lama, now in Mussoorie, India, binding up the wounds of his refugee people — wounds from the machine guns of Red Chinese pursuit planes.

Slim, graceful, 26-year-old Lobsang, not too long ago a member of the Dalai Lama's five-man high government council, is in New York. We talked for hours the other day of the months he spent with his God-King brother watching Khrushchev, Mao Tze-Tung, Liu Shao-chi and the others in the global Communist high command trying futilely to brainwash or break the Dalai Lama.

"I SPENT A YEAR with my brother in Peiping," Lobsang said as we sat somewhere in mid-Manhattan. "One day the Communists drove us out to the airport. We found ourselves shaking hands with Khrushchev and Bulganin. The next night there was a big state banquet. Afterwards, Khrushchev sought out my brother, who was being isolated from all ambassadors.

"Khrushchev talked to us privately. He told us how lucky we were to be liberated from the Americans and British. He said that religion was evil. He would send engineers and technicians into Tibet and show us they could do what God couldn't.

"Just then the Chinese Foreign Office official in charge of the Tibetan - Mongolian - Manchurian section came over. He asked us to excuse ourselves for a moment. We went with him. He told us neither to speak to the Russians nor to trust them. They seemed to hate each other," Lobsang continued.

THE TIBETAN spoke quickly, apologetic for his occasionally broken English. His gracious voice grew wistful and nostalgic when he talked of his four brothers and two sisters. He is closest to the Dalai Lama.

When they returned to Lhasa from Peiping, they found Russian engineers digging for oil in the north and trying to locate iron and lead deposits.

"The Russians dug. But the Chinese Communists began wiping us out as a people — all six million of us. In Peiping, Mao and Liu told us that religion is poison. He said the monks — and I am one of them — should be put to work," Lobsang said.

"They were brainwashing some 7,000 of our young people, from the ages of 7 to 27. They took them from Lhasa and the farms.

"The Communists brought them to Peiping where I saw 2,000 of them. They taught our young people to hate us and to speak only Chinese. Then they sent them back into Tibet — 500 at a time. They used them to form youth groups, women's groups, business groups and unions.

"The Chinese have burned all our temples. They have stolen much of our food and goods. The wool of the yaks, which used to go to the United States and India, now is taken by them. They take butter, cheese, grain as well as the yaks. They used to pay in gold; then with Chinese silver. Then they just took the people's food and goods on credit."

I asked Lobsang why he left Tibet in 1957. He was with his brother, the Dalai Lama, in Sikkim, India, then.

"It is not enough to say there is no freedom," he replied looking at me and the gentle fellow from the Church World Service, now caring for Lobsang.

"IT IS SLOW DEATH in an open air prison. The Communists built roads and said you can travel. But you need a pass and they didn't give us any. They created a 'public' bus system. But we found that only the Red soldiers can travel, just as only they could eat much of our food.

"It is all — all China — a big prison. When we were there, they surrounded our party of 250 with secret police. Two to each 10 of us. They always kept talking about God being Marx and Lenin and Mao. They showed us the so-called industrial wonders of Manchuria, the big machinery. They said it was made by the Communists. But the little plates said 'Made in U.S.A.'"

"In Harbin, we saw few people on the street and no traffic. Everybody was working all day in big factories — except a few. Children were packed into nurseries and taught to say God is evil, Lenin and Mao are good.

"I said to my brother I do not return to a prison. The Dalai Lama said in Tibetan as one young brother to another even in your country, 'Take it easy, go your way. Find Freedom.'

"I find it here in your country. And I hope to find some way to help my people."

No matter how hard I try, the image of Eddie and Liz doesn't light up my vicarious existence—the side of me that is supposed to sigh, "Gee, I sure wish I was that lucky!"

Whenever I see the latest report on the rise in employment and the decline in unemployment I mentally catalog the things that could change all that in a hurry, beginning with the probable decision to call a steel strike on July 1.

It occurs to me that she has been in the White House as first lady for more than six years but I have no firm opinion about Mamie Eisenhower one way or the other — nothing like the ones I had about Bess Truman, Eleanor Roosevelt and Lou Henry Hoover.

I have just discovered my packet of Alaskan wildflower seeds where I had forgotten I put them —in the food freezer. The directions said to freeze and thaw them three times to get them in shape. But on the other hand it must be too late for Alaskan wildflowers now.

I think it would be interesting in all cases to know what public officials get for stating opinions and answering questions on sponsored television, especially when the information should be put into the public domain without charge, as it is when newspapers go after it.

I wonder how many people remember that all government schemes for making workers retire and limiting their work week by edict originated in the minds of the kind of people who flocked around the first New Deal in Washington and at one time were making gaint strides toward an American form of fascism.

I, for one, am taking no stock in the idea of a tax revolt until most of the people I know give legislators strict orders to spend no more money on any account—not even to build new roads, airports, lakes, waterways, or veterans' hospitals that would boom business in the old home town.

Caviar does not have to be sturgeon eggs, but if it isn't it's only fish eggs as far as I'm concerned.

At least one senator won't let them put down any of the $150,000 worth of carpet the silly senators bought to cover up the $100,000 tile floor in their new 25-million-dollar office building that has turned out to be a monument to senatorial snafu.

In case you lost track, the four white youths accused of raping a Negro co-ed in Tallahassee have pleaded not guilty. Rape is punishable by death in Florida. No white man, of course, ever has been found guilty of raping a Negro, if you've lost track of that, too.

A discovery that could revolutionize public affairs is that businessmen who go into government have everything to gain and nothing to lose if they steer clear of partisanship at local levels and concentrate on public affairs.

Yet, the Soviets and Red Chinese went ahead by leaps in their own internal development, particularly the Soviet Union in the field of weapons which put added pressure on the West to stand back. The cold war between East and West was just as intense when Dulles went to the hospital as when he took office six years ago.

This is why many years must pass before history can give a final verdict on the policy and wisdom of Dulles, for it will take many years and many events as they unfold to show:

1. Whether his policy led, or helped lead, to the ultimate ruination or triumph of communism or to a peaceful understanding between East and West.

2. Whether, by the time he took office and Stalin died, the Acheson policy was outmoded and Dulles should have sought and pursued a different one of his own making, with more aggressiveness and less defensiveness, or with more friendliness and less hostility.

3. Whether the forces already let loose before he became secretary in 1953—ultimately favorable or unfavorable to the West—were already too powerful to be affected in their direction or destination by him or any one man.

4. Whether he was wise in depending so much on his own thinking or whether he should have made far greater use of the minds of the men around him in the State Department.

No one now—and certainly not Dulles, whose sense of history was too sharp for that—can claim to know positively the answers to the questions just raised. But no one can challenge this about him: he did his best as he saw it.

The invention of today's parking meter is credited to Carl C. Magee, a newspaperman of Albuquerque, N. M., who got the idea of a parking meter while serving on a traffic survey committee in Oklahoma City in 1935.

Human Relationships Subject Of Address To Kiwanis Club

Fourteen principles of human relationships were outlined by Frank Poland, Weirton Steel Co. official, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Poland, director of education and training at the steel firm, spoke on "Human Relations in Action," describing the inter-relationships of motivation, abilities and attitudes.

"Money, food, clothing and a home are among the primary needs of a human," Poland explained, "But there are other wants and goals, such as advancement, a car, old age security, job security, luxuries and others."

Poland explained people differ in such goals and with respect to ability and motivation. "Some people have a great motivation or drive to do things, but lack ability; others have great ability, but are lazy or uncaring. The problem is to develop these missing factors.

"When anyone is frustrated in reaching certain goals, he can revise his goals, adapt himself to the situation or, in some cases, develop emotional troubles." He said it is the people who have such emotional problems who need understanding and help.

Poland listed 14 principles of practice which are taught personnel at the steel firm. The initials spell "human relations," and they are: Have self - control. Understand viewpoints of others. Make others' interests yours. Admit when you're wrong. Never make promises you can't keep. Reason — don't argue. Explain thoroughly. Lead—don't drive. Avoid snap judgments. Take care of the little things. Inform people of changes affecting them. Observe, listen with understanding. Never criticize in public. Stress rewards.

He said they are not the answer to all problems, but provide the solution to many, largely because they are based on a principle laid down over 2,000 years ago—"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." William Smith was program chairman.

Father To Make Appeal In Behalf Of His Son, 15

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Richard Harter Sr. of Garfield Heights, whose 15-year-old son has been sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary for killing a Youngstown man, says he will go to the Ohio Supreme Court in an effort to get a jury trial for the boy.

Richard Jr., who had run away from his home in the Cleveland suburb when he shot Edward E. Craven, 61, Oct. 8, pleaded guilty to second-degree murder. He is in Mahoning County jail awaiting transfer to the penitentiary.

The father said Thursday he has fired attorney Russell Mock, who entered the guilty plea for young Richard, and will ask the Supreme Court to set aside the boy's sentence so he can be tried before a jury.

Mock, reached in Cincinnati, said he doubted the Supreme Court would set aside the sentence. He said Richard's guilty plea was voluntary and that the youth was satisfied with the outcome.

"I don't think Richard will change his plea and gamble his life," Mock said. "Richard is the defendant, not the father."

If a trial were secured for the boy it apparently would be on a charge of first-degree murder.

Foreign Mission Units Slate Joint Meetings

CLEVELAND (AP) — Foreign mission groups representing the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church will hold joint meetings in Akron Oct. 19-23.

The General Council of the Congregational Christian Churches united with the Evangelical and Reformed Church here in June, 19 to form the United Church of Christ.

The Board of International Missions also authorized an increase of $300 in annual base salaries of missionaries, making the salary for married missionaries $4,800 and that for single missionaries $2,800. Actual pay of missionaries is adjusted according to cost of living and number of children, a church spokesman reported.

Ohio Bar Urged To Stop Talking 'Mumbo-Jumbo'

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Texas lawyer has told Ohio lawyers to stop talking in legal mumbo-jumbo.

Cecil E. Burney of Corpus Christi told the convention of the Ohio Bar Assn. Thursday night that:

"I think, even with shy and bashful modesty, that we of the legal profession have to admit that we are notorious for legal mumbo-jumto or legal jargon."

Burney, a committee vice chairman of the American Bar Assn., said lawyers trying to make a document legally sound sometimes make it illiterate.

At a meeting, merit awards went to bar associations in Akron, Athens County, Cleveland, Columbus, Cuyahoga County, Ottawa County, Stark County, Toledo and the Portsmouth Bar and Law Library.

Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota addresses the group today.

Parents View Display Of Wellsville Pupils

Parents viewed a students' display Wednesday afternoon at the McKinley School in Wellsville.

Correspondence and research work of pupils of the fourth grade Social Science Class of Miss Isa Anderson resulted in the extensive exhibit on Ohio and the United States.

Arranged on tables are the Ohio displays of carnations made by Mrs. John Minor, a local resident; grains, manufactured products, samples of water from spring, reservoir and river, samples of clay in raw state to the finished products of bricks and dishes. There are also literature, postcards, booklets and samples of rocks from various states, two personal letters from President Eisenhower and letters from several governors. Some of the articles are from Hawaii.

On the walls are art work of the pupils showing the state and national flags, maps of Ohio, the state flower, birds and Ohio river scenes, especially of Wellsville.

Cleveland Area Woman Files $100,000 Suit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Francis Beran, Fairview Park, has filed suit for $100,000 in Common Pleas Court for injuries she said apparently make it impossible for her to bear children.

She said she was injured Oct. 16, 1958 when about to enter a car in a parking lot. James G. Bellinger, Lakewood, backed his car into another car, which struck her, the suit alleged.

Bellinger was named a defendant in Thursday's suit, along with Sears Roebuck & Co., in whose parking lot the accident allegedly happened.

Her husband also sued the same defendants for $10,000.

Ohio's First Lady Subs For Governor At Parley

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio's first lady is the substitute for Gov. Michael V. DiSalle at a conference of Democratic women from eight states today. The governor still is sticking to his campaign pledge to avoid leaving Columbus during his first six months in office.

Main speaker at the conference dinner tonight is Gov. J. Howard Edmonson of Oklahoma, who at 32 is the nation's youngest governor.

The conference is expected to draw 800 to 1,000 Democratic women from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, western Pennsylvania and western New York.

Nuclear Physicist Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Louis N. Ridenour Jr., 47, nuclear physicist and aircraft company executive, died Thursday. Ridenour, the Air Force's first chief scientist, was a vice president of the Lockheed Aircraft Corp. He was born in Montclair, N.J.

Officers Named By Beaver Group

Permanent officers of the four-month-old Mental Health Auxiliary of Beaver County have been elected for one-year terms. They include:

Mrs. Leon Wohlgemuth of Beaver, president; Mrs. John Nave of Beaver Falls, vice president; Mrs. Graham Shaddick of Beaver, treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Stitt of New Brighton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Barner of Rochester, recording secretary, and Mrs. Theodore Ondocsin of Beaver Falls, and Mrs. Charles Stone, of Aliquippa, both regional chairmen.

Committee chairmen include Mrs. R. Clifton Hood of Beaver Falls and Mrs. Stone, service projects; and Miss Dorothy N. Frederick of Beaver Falls, publicity.

Next meeting will be Sept. 25 at the Beaver Valley Country Club.

Honest GOP Due Back 14 Cents On Gas Tax Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Honesty is the best policy, thought William Spencer. So he mailed the governor a check for 14 cents.

It was to cover the cost of a two-cent-a-gallon tax increase on gasoline. Spencer, of Forest in Hardin County, had about seven gallons of gasoline in his car when the law became effective at 12:01 a.m. Thursday.

What Spencer apparently didn't know Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told newsmen, was that the law exempted from the tax increase any gasoline in the tanks of private cars or filling stations at the effective hour.

Not only that, DiSalle said, but it's going to cost the state four cents postage to return the 14-cent check to the "honest Republican" as Spencer dubbed himself in the letter. DiSalle, of course, is a Democrat.

Lawyer Denies Phoning Bogus Bomb Threat

CINCINNATI (AP) — Robert James Smith, who was lawyer for a bonding firm run by his wife, has denied he telephoned a bogus bomb threat to Greater Cincinnati Airport.

Smith testified Thursday in U. S. District Court. He is accused of making a false report on interstate aircraft Jan. 30.

The prosecution contends Smith made the call to delay departure of a man who signed a bond application improperly. The defense contends someone else made the call.

Final arguments were scheduled today.

Doctor On Probation For Looting Homes

WAUPACA, Wis. (AP) — A small-town physician has been placed on probation to satisfy a burglary charge stemming from a compulsive yearning for antiques that led him to loot the homes of patients.

"I feel good about it," said Dr. Ralph Wiley, 42, after the penalty was imposed Thursday. A native of Amityville, N.Y., Dr. Wiley practices at Iola, a village of 867 persons in east-central Wisconsin.

As for reaction from his neighbors and patients, Wiley referred to an "understanding between us."

Details of his collection were made public March 23.

Students Gets Medal

LISBON — Robert N. Cake, who is graduating from the University of New Mexico College of Pharmacy, has been awarded the 1959 Lehn & Fink gold medal plaque for the highest scholastic record for the entire course of study. His wife, Mrs. Helen McGeehan Cake, is a former resident of Gavers. He formerly resided in Columbus. The school is at Albuquerque.

Boxes, Bags Of Sales Tax Stamps

Paper Flood Hits Capital

By MURRAY SEEGER
Cleveland Plain Dealer Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state capital, which was soaked in a watery flood last winter, has been struck by a paper flood this spring.

Boxes and bags of sales tax stamps have poured into Columbus as the result of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's battle to abolish the little green pieces of paper.

The stamps are coming in from individuals and organizations eligible for cash redemptions for taking the trouble to collect the stamps.

Since May 1, when the flood started to crest, the sales tax redemption center has been receiving an average of 23 mailbags and 35 boxes of stamps a day.

The boxes that come by mail are too big to fit into mailbags.

In addition, 45 or 50 boxes a day are brought to the center by individuals.

Before May 1 an average of 10 mailbags a day came into the center.

The actual number of stamps in the bundles and their face value are hard to determine.

After the six employes at the redemption center, supervised by Norman H. Egler, have weighed and counted the stamps and checked the applications for rebates, the figures are sent to another office.

Individuals and public services or charitable groups can earn 3 per cent of the face value of the stamps they send to the state.

The test is whether they helped the state enforce the sales tax law by collecting their stamps when they made purchases or by encouraging others to pick up their stamps.

Egler said his workers are processing 300 redemption applications a day under the new pressure.

"We normally don't process nearly that many applications," he said.

Under the usual circumstances, it takes six to eight weeks between the time a batch of stamps is received and a check is mailed to the sender.

The flood has slowed this operation to the point where it will take three months for applications to be processed and checks approved.

Last year 14,000 Ohioans turned in sales tax stamps and collected $234,000 in state money.

In addition, 71,004 church, civic and veterans groups collected $4,911,000.

In the 20 years since Ohio started redeeming tax stamps, $50,730,651 has been paid out.

Ohio is the only state that uses stamps as receipts for the payment of sales tax.

In addition to redemptions paid individuals and groups the state pays discounts to county treasurers, agents and vendors for handling the stamps. These distributors get 2 per cent of the stamp's face value in the form of discounts.

Pitt Coed Bares Love Affair With Missing Teacher

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Detectives report a coed at the University of Pittsburgh says she had a romance with a married instructor before he disappeared May 12, and has heard from him since. He had been feared dead.

Allegheny County Detective Ted Botula disclosed the new twist in the case Thursday night. He said the 18-year-old girl from Columbia in Lancaster County, told of having fallen in love last February with Ronald T. Field and dating him frequently.

Field, 27, was an assistant instructor in real estate at Pitt and also was a supply minister for the Methodist Church. He has two children.

Field's auto was found wrecked at the foot of a steep Monongahela River embankment between nearby Dravosburg and Clairton May 13. Authorities feared he had drowned.

Botula said the coed, whose name was not revealed, told him she later received letters from Field postmarked Clarksburg, W. Va., and St. Louis.

Water Repair Project Ends; Basin Refilled

The threat of impaired service for at least 2,500 East Liverpool households was lifted today after the water department completed replacement of two 10-inch valves at the high service reservoir — a project which required it to drain the big concrete basin.

Replacement of the two old valves on lines just outside the reservoir was completed at 2:30 p. m. yesterday and water was being pumped normally into the storage area by 3, Supt. Frank K. Robinson said.

Although the department had anticipated that many homes in West End, the St. Clair Ave. area and the Bradshaw Ave.-Avondale St. district might be without water, an auxiliary supply plan worked better than expected and there was no indication that any household lacked water completely, Robinson said.

Water was kept in the lines by constant pumping at the plant in Klondyke — bypassing the reservoir — and a supply also was fed in from the two standpipes on Henry Ave.

Robinson pointed out the department learned a valuable lesson in the emergency — the extent to which homes in the high service area can be supplied from the standpipes and the pumping station. In the event the high service reservoir is drained in the future, the department now has learned that it can furnish an adequate auxiliary supply, he said.

The reservoir was allowed to drain Wednesday night. Replacement of the valves got under way about 7 yesterday morning.

DiSalle Raps GOP Minority, Lobbyists On Defeat Of Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Admittedly hurt by defeat of his bill to change Ohio's utility rate-making formula, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle Thursday bitterly denounced the Republican minority in the Ohio House. He also leveled criticism at some utility lobbyists.

The governor said Wednesday's 80-52 House vote aginst the bill was a defeat for the people of Ohio.

In a prepared statement handed to newsmen, he said his criticism was based on the fact that 58 Republicans voted with 22 Democrats against the bill.

He said it seems evident that the Republicans' position "continues to be one of servitude to a special interest when it is opposed to the welfare of the general public."

DiSalle added:

"I am happy that 52 of the 72 Democrats voted in favor of the public, and I am convinced that, of the 22 who voted against the legislation, a goodly number were sincere in their conviction that the legislation might be inimical to the best interest of the investors in utilities.

The governor said he regretted "some of the tactics used by some of the lobbyists which were more in keeping with the practices of the 19th rather than the 20th century."

There were "more utility lobbyists in Columbus during this week than at any time in my experience," he said.

"They won a momentary victory at the expense of the people of Ohio."

Teachers Union Snubs Proposed Salary Schedule

CLEVELAND (AP) — Demanding an immediate across-the-board raise of $600 a year, the Cleveland Teachers Union has rejected a proposed new salary schedule for teachers.

Union President Paul A. Corey called the new schedule, approved by the Board of Education Monday, a "slap in the face" and said, "We may refuse to sign our contracts in the fall."

But union spokesmen said nothing about a possible strike. The union represents about 2,500 of the 4,000 classroom teachers, Corey said.

The proposed new schedule calls for an eventual scale ranging from $4,500 for a teacher with a bachelor's degree and no experience to $9,800 for one with a master's degree and 36 years' experience.

The present range is $4,250 to $7,250, the latter going to a teacher with a masters' degree and 15 years' experience.

Corey said the proposed schedule would be good if it went into effect immediately but complained about the board's proposal to implement the plan gradually. It would be 1968 before the schedule would go into full effect. Raises next year would average about $150 in addition to annual increments which teachers would receive anyway for longer service.

A new Mississippi River - Gulf Canal at the port of New Orleans will cut approximately 40 miles off the present route.

House Group Cuts Gas Tax On Road Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to continue the nation's big superhighway program without increasing gasoline taxes has been approved by the House Public Works Committee.

The committee skirted President Eisenhower's bid for a federal gasoline tax increase from 3 to 4½ cents to meet the money crisis in the road program. Instead, it chose to suspend a pay-as-you-go provision.

Suspension of the provision would mean that money needed to keep the 41,000-mile highway program going can come out of general treasury funds.

An immediate effect would be to allow apportionment of 2½ billion dollars in federal funds to the states this July as scheduled. The apportionment would be for fiscal 1961, starting July 1, 1960, but the states could let road contracts immediately on the basis of allotments.

A Republican member of the committee, Ohio's Rep. Gordon H. Scherer, said Democrats steamrollered through Thursday's actions without warning, without notice and without hearings.

June 1 Deadline On Price Support

The last date to obtain price support on 1958-crop corn will be Monday, June 1, according to G. M. Swick of the Beaver County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office. The official closing date is May 31, but since that falls on a Sunday the deadline is automatically extended until the next business day.

Corn price support may be obtained by means of non-recourse loan on either farm-stored or warehouse-stored corn or through a purchase agreement with the government.

All corn of the 1958 crop is eligible for support provided it is of acceptable quality. In Beaver County, the support rate is $1.13 for corn nor produced in compliance with allotments.

To be eligible for price support, ear or shelled corn must grade No. 3 or better except the corn grading No. 4 because of test weight only will be eligible. The corn must meet certain moisture requirements and must be in adequate storage, either on the farm or in a warehouse or elevator.

Corn loans and purchase agreements being entered into now will mature July 31. Between now and that date, the corn may be redeemed at any time. At maturity, the grain may be resealed and kept in storage for an additional period.

Farmers interested in meeting the deadline on 1958-crop corn price support should apply at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office at Beaver.

Boxes, Bags Of Sales Tax Stamps

Paper Flood Hits Capital

By MURRAY SEEGER
Cleveland Plain Dealer Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state capital, which was soaked in a watery flood last winter, has been struck by a paper flood this spring.

Boxes and bags of sales tax stamps have poured into Columbus as the result of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's battle to abolish the little green pieces of paper.

The stamps are coming in from individuals and organizations eligible for cash redemptions for taking the trouble to collect the stamps.

Since May 1, when the flood started to crest, the sales tax redemption center has been receiving an average of 23 mailbags and 35 boxes of stamps a day.

The boxes that come by mail are too big to fit into mailbags.

In addition, 45 or 50 boxes a day are brought to the center by individuals.

Before May 1 an average of 10 mailbags a day came into the center.

The actual number of stamps in the bundles and their face value are hard to determine.

After the six employes at the redemption center, supervised by Norman H. Egler, have weighed and counted the stamps and checked the applications for rebates, the figures are sent to another office.

Individuals and public services or charitable groups can earn 3 per cent of the face value of the stamps they send to the state.

The test is whether they helped the state enforce the sales tax law by collecting their stamps when they made purchases or by encouraging others to pick up their stamps.

Egler said his workers are processing 300 redemption applications a day under the new pressure.

"We normally don't process nearly that many applications," he said.

Under the usual circumstances, it takes six to eight weeks between the time a batch of stamps is received and a check is mailed to the sender.

The flood has slowed this operation to the point where it will take three months for applications to be processed and checks approved.

Last year 14,000 Ohioans turned in sales tax stamps and collected $234,000 in state money.

In addition, 71,004 church, civic and veterans groups collected $4,911,000.

In the 20 years since Ohio started redeeming tax stamps, $50,730,651 has been paid out.

Ohio is the only state that uses stamps as receipts for the payment of sales tax.

In addition to redemptions paid individuals and groups the state pays discounts to county treasurers, agents and vendors for handling the stamps. These distributors get 2 per cent of the stamp's face value in the form of discounts.

Pitt Coed Bares Love Affair With Missing Teacher

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Detectives report a coed at the University of Pittsburgh says she had a romance with a married instructor before he disappeared May 12, and has heard from him since. He had been feared dead.

Allegheny County Detective Ted Botula disclosed the new twist in the case Thursday night. He said the 18-year-old girl from Columbia in Lancaster County, told of having fallen in love last February with Ronald T. Field and dating him frequently.

Field, 27, was an assistant instructor in real estate at Pitt and also was a supply minister for the Methodist Church. He has two children.

Field's auto was found wrecked at the foot of a steep Monongahela River embankment between nearby Dravosburg and Clairton May 13. Authorities feared he had drowned.

Botula said the coed, whose name was not revealed, told him she later received letters from Field postmarked Clarksburg, W. Va., and St. Louis.

Water Repair Project Ends; Basin Refilled

The threat of impaired service for at least 2,500 East Liverpool households was lifted today after the water department completed replacement of two 10-inch valves at the high service reservoir — a project which required it to drain the big concrete basin.

Replacement of the two old valves on lines just outside the reservoir was completed at 2:30 p. m. yesterday and water was being pumped normally into the storage area by 3, Supt. Frank K. Robinson said.

Although the department had anticipated that many homes in West End, the St. Clair Ave. area and the Bradshaw Ave.-Avondale St. district might be without water, an auxiliary supply plan worked better than expected and there was no indication that any household lacked water completely, Robinson said.

Water was kept in the lines by constant pumping at the plant in Klondyke — bypassing the reservoir — and a supply also was fed in from the two standpipes on Henry Ave.

Robinson pointed out the department learned a valuable lesson in the emergency — the extent to which homes in the high service area can be supplied from the standpipes and the pumping station. In the event the high service reservoir is drained in the future, the department now has learned that it can furnish an adequate auxiliary supply, he said.

The reservoir was allowed to drain Wednesday night. Replacement of the valves got under way about 7 yesterday morning.

Trophies from the class were presented to Irene McSwegin and Dixie Hill, valedictorians, and Mike Kapp, salutatorian.

Kapp also received the mathematics award while Miss Hill was presented with the Bausch & Lomb Co. science award.

The activities trophies, also presented by the Senior Class, were awarded to David Buzzard, president, and Miss Hill.

The B'Nai Jacob Boosters Club trophy for fellowship went to Charles Jennings while Larry Clark and Margaret Bridge received checks from the DAR for citizenship.

Medals were presented to William Rager, Sally Stone and Barbara Radeschi for not being absent or tardy during their high school careers. Four other seniors not absent were recognized. They were Ray Baker, Robert Beck, Lois Beckwith and William McKinnon.

All of the awards were presented by Principal George Hargraves.

The class presented a photo copying machine as its memorial gift.

The program opened with a processional by seniors in caps and gowns with Buzzard leading the national anthem and pledge of allegiance.

Hargraves spoke briefly on the background of the assembly and the awards prentation followed.

Buzzard read the class' last will and testament and the concluding remarks were made by the principal. The class recessional followed the singing of the Alma Mater.

Music was provided by the band directed by Donald C. Allen, supervisor of instrumental music.

Child's False Alarm Points Up Trouble For City Firemen

The possible consequences of children turning in false alarms was illustrated Thursday night when firemen received a call to a St. George St. home as they were returning from fighting a fire in an East End service station.

Firemen said pumpers from the East End and Central Stations, along with the emergency truck from Central, responded to an alarm at 9:08 p. m. at the Petrosol Service Station at Pennsylvania Ave. and Park Way.

The Central truck was en route back downtown, the emergency truck still was at the station and the East End truck was just backing into its station when firemen received a call at 9:25 p. m. of a fire at 930 St. George St.

The East End firemen left immediately for the reported fire, trailed by the emergency truck, while the North Side truck, filling in at Central, raced to the scene.

When firemen arrived, they learned it was a false alarm. Firemen said it is the second time the address has been reported for a fire. A child turned in the alarm, they said.

Firemen pointed out if another alarm or a call for the rescue boat had been received at the same time, only one man and truck from the Pleasant Heights station would have been available. The pumper from Central would not be available until it got back to the station, refilled its booster tank, and learned the location of the new alarm. It reported back in service 10 minutes after the false alarm was received.

The service station fire was caused by a spark igniting gasoline.

They said C. F. Williams, an attendant, was cleaning the sediment bowl on a car owned by D. R. Dolan. Williams had the engine started and the spark set fire to the gasoline on the engine and floor of the station.

The trucks laid 200 feet of 2½-inch line, 2 booster lines and used 3 carbon dioxide extinguishers to quell the flames.

Firemen investigated a complaint of burning rubbish on Harvey Ave. at 4:20 p. m. yesterday and were called yesterday morning to let a woman into her apartment on the third floor of the Walnut St. apartments. Firemen said a 24-foot ladder was used to gain entrance after the woman locked herself out.

first overtures to get the talk about Berlin started.

Soviet sources are passing out word that Gromyko is not in any hurry either. They say he is prepared to carry on the deadlock indefinitely.

For today's debate at the Palace of Nations the Western ministers deployed their forces as for a military campaign.

The session began at 3:32 p.m. (9:32 a.m. EST).

Herter was assigned to discuss European security, and Couve de Murville was given the problem of Berlin to talk about. Lloyd was named cleanup man with the task of replying instantly to Gromyko if he launched into a new attack on the West.

In calling at his news conference for a Soviet pledge on Berlin, Von Brentano said the Soviets should also display a genuine readiness for a solution of the German question before the Western government chiefs agree to a meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Von Brentano did not reply when asked if he had formal assurance from the Western Big Three that they would refuse to attend a summit parley if the Soviets would not assure Western rights in Berlin.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter already has warned Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko that President Eisenhower will refuse to attend a summit conference if the Soviets set some new deadline for a Communist squeeze play on Berlin.

Khrushchev originally demanded that the Western powers withdraw their garrisons by May 27. He postponed the deadline indefinitely to clear the way for the Big Four conference to discuss the future of Germany and the Berlin issue.

As the second week of the conference here drew to a close, the Western ministers expected Gromyko to abandon his sharp attacks on Allied military policy after a stiff warning from Herter.

The American secretary's rebuke at the Big Four conference Thursday implied that Gromyko would poison the atmosphere of the sessions and endanger the prospects of a summit meeting if he continued to denounce the Western alliance as aggressive.

The Western ministers called a strategy meeting today to consider whether to try to wind up the deadlocked debate on a German peace settlement and get the conference into negotiations on the Berlin crisis.

Barring an unexpected change of signals, the formal Big Four session in the Palace of Nations later today was slated to bring another spate of speeches on details of the contradictory Western and Soviet proposals for Germany.

The central point of the deadlock is that the Soviet Union wants to sign an immediate peace treaty with East and West Germany while the Western powers insist Germany must be unified first.

Disagreement over how long this seemingly fruitless debate should be prolonged was reported developing again within the Western camp. Informants said French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, on instructions from President Charles de Gaulle, was standing firm against any move to shelve the full Western package proposal and negotiate with Gromyko for a stopgap arrangement on Berlin in exchange for Western agreement to attend a summit conference.

At 4:22 a.m. Robinson signed the order staying the execution.

Word was phoned to Greenholtz and a U.S. marshal arrived at the prison with the signed order at 6:10 a.m.

In denying Starkweather's writ, Judge Van Pelt noted the question of the youth's innocence was not raised in his application.

Starkweather had said previously he thought he should have received no more than a life sentence.

A bespectacled, bowlegged youth who stood 5 feet 5, Starkweather vaulted into notoriety in January of 1958.

Accompanied by his 14-year-old sweetheart Caril Ann Fugate, he set out on a killing spree. Nine victims in and around Lincoln were counted in three days, among them Caril's mother, stepfather and baby sister.

The trail ended with capture of the pair near Douglas, Wyo., Jan. 29 after a parting-shot killing of a shoe salesman on a Wyoming highway. Starkweather subsequently admitted the previously unsolved slaying of a Lincoln filling station attendant, to bring his string to 11.

Starkweather was tried specifically in the Jan. 27 shooting of a Bennet, Neb., high school junior, Robert Jensen, whose body was found in a storm cave with that of his girl friend Carol King.

Caril, now 15, was tried six months later, was convicted of murder on grounds she aided and abetted Starkweather in the Jensen killing. She drew a life sentence. Her appeal to the State Supreme Court is pending.

with the Senate to compromise differences. The Senate earlier this session voted a $2,690,000,000 program.

Republicans were counting on a presidential veto if the bill sticks to present lines. None of Thursday's major votes gave the Democrats the two-thirds majority they would need to override a veto.

Presidential displeasure appears certain to be centered on authority for continuing government-subsidized low-rent public housing.

President Eisenhower in his January message to Congress asked for an end to public housing. But the Senate voted to subsidize 45,000 new units, the House 140,000 new units over four years at the rate of 35,000 a year.

Cornerstone Rites Awaited

A parade and special program will be held for the cornerstone laying for a new addition to the Chester First Christian Church Saturday afternoon.

West Virginia Grand Lodge Masons will be in charge of the cornerstone laying following a program conducted by the Rev. E. D. Gleaton, pastor, starting at 2:30.

Grand Lodge officers will be guests of the Chester Masonic Lodge 142 Club for lunch at the temple, and the officers will convene at 1 p. m. to prepare for the program.

The parade will form at the temple about 1:45, and will include city officials, the Chester High School band, the Tri - State Burial Squad, church members, Weirton Commandery 14, Knights Templar, and the Grand Lodge of officers, headed by William R. Loper of Wheeling, grand master.

The parade will move at 2 south on 1st St. to Pennsylvania Ave., and on Pennsylvania and Indiana Ave. to the church between 3rd and 4th Sts.

More Foreign Language Urged In Schools

By Garry Meyers

Yesterday I urged parents who can speak a foreign tongue to teach their child this language, beginning only after he is three or four or has evinced good mastery of English. Also, I urged parents to keep on speaking to these children, singing with them, reading to them and with them in this second language as they grow older. As children easily learn a foreign language by speaking and hearing it, some groups of children are taught a foreign language in private nursery schools, kindergartens and primary schools. When the child continues in such schools and is taught the foreign language all through the grades and high school, the results can be very good.

SOME PUBLIC school systems provide special teachers, often volunteers, to spend short periods with primary school children, conversing with them in French, Spanish and the like. But, as a rule, this program lasts only a few years.

Teaching a foreign language to young children in private or public schools appeals to many parents. They tend to see in it a kind of social prestige, marveling at how rapidly the young children learn.

As a rule, this foreign language teaching is discontinued long before the children reach high school, even the upper grades, maybe never to be resumed again. These sporadic efforts are usually very wasteful.

TRAVELING IN European countries last summer, I was impressed, upon asking adults how they learned to speak English so well, to hear the very frequent answer, "I learned it at school."

But in most European countries, the teaching of a foreign language at school is not begun till the age of ten or twelve. It is then continued for the rest of his school life. This makes sense to me.

Certainly the study of any one foreign language in high school for less than two or more years is wasteful. A reasonable minimum is four years.

Gaiety Club members were entertained Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Rose White of 1st St.

Two tables of 500 were in play with prizes going to Mrs. Jennie Deshler, Mrs. Ann Bucher, Mrs. Mamie Wolf and Mrs. Mary Scarabino. The hostess and her sister, Miss Erla Wolf, served lunch. A dinner will be held June 9, the place being indefinite.

Castro Denounces Labor Agitation; Hints Reds' Link

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro today denounced extremist labor agitation for wage raises and hinted that the Communists are behind it.

The revolutionary leader threatened to slap on price and wage controls if pay increases granted by his government result in rises, without government approval, in the cost of essential goods.

He suggested that some labor leaders were conspiring with businessmen to set off a wage-price spiral.

It was the first time Castro has suggested a link between Cuban Reds and acts he called counter-revolutionary. He made the statements during another in a series of marathon TV panel programs on which he is appearing.

Castro acknowledged that his criticism of labor probably would brand him a reactionary. But he said his government has "not sold itself to any imperialism."

Ohio Township

The monthly meeting of the Fairview Grange Tuesday night ended abruptly when the use of extra outside lights for the Ohio Township firemen's carnival being held on the grange grounds caused the lights to go out in the hall.

Grangers left the darkened hall and attended the carnival.

Earl Sherman, master, presided for brief business. The program, presented before the meeting, consisted of a song and dance by Linda Laughlin and a son, "Little White Duck," by Melanie Engle. The youngsters are juvenile grangers. Mrs. Robert Dawson was in charge of the program. The next meeting will be June 9 in the Grange Hall.

Mrs. Irene Birch and Mrs. Betty Murphy, both of Center Grange, were guests.

2 Teachers Total 75 Years Service

Two South Side teachers, Mrs. Edith Swearingen, left, who has taught 31 years, and Miss Zona Keifer, 44 years, were honored at a meeting of the South Side Teachers Association Wednesday evening in the elementary school near Hookstown.

Both are retiring when school ends and they were presented corsages and gifts. George Thompson, president, presided and some 40 attended.

Miss Keifer, who resides at Hookstown R. D. 1, has taught elementary school 31 years in Hanover Township, 10 years in the Burgettstown Union, and 3 years at South Side in the Southern Beaver County Joint Schools.

Mrs. Swearingen, librarian and high school teacher at South Side for three years, has taught elementary grades 22 years in Greene Township and high school 6 years in Allegheny County.

She received her bachelor of science degree at Pittsburgh University in 1917. She is married, has two children and three grandchildren. Mrs. Swearingen, a sponsor of the Future Teachers of America at South Side, has no definite plans after retirement but to "keep house for my husband" she said. She is a gold star mother and resides at Georgetown R. D. 1.

7 Astronauts Awed At Seeing Space Flight Jump-Off Spot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —"Their reaction was silence — they watched in awe."

These were the first impressions of six of the seven Mercury astronauts Thursday when they were given their first look at the jumping-off spot for the first manned flight into space.

The future spacemen made a driving tour of the Cape, but planned to follow this up today with a detailed visit to each of the launching pads for the giant U.S. ballistic missiles. The astronauts will wind up their brief trip Saturday.

No interviews were allowed, but the astronauts' escort officer, Lt. Col. John Powers, gave newsmen some of the highlights of their first reactions to the Cape.

Sometime in 1961 one of the seven will be fired into space aboard an Atlas intercontinental range ballistic missile.

"We'll see that one again," one of the group commented as their bus passed a huge tower housing the mighty Atlas.

The astronauts are Air Force Captains Leroy Cooper Jr., 32, Carbondale, Ohio; Donald Slayton, 35, Sparta, Wis.; and Virgil Grissom, 33, Mitchell, Ind.; Lt. Cmdr. Alan Shepard Jr., 35, East Gerry, N.H.; Lt. Cmdr. Walter Schirra Jr., 36, Hackensack, N.J.; and Lt. Malcolm Carpenter, 33, Garden Grove, Calif., of the Navy; and Marine Corps Lt. Col. John Glenn Jr., 37, New Concord, Ohio.

Cleveland Bares Master Plan For Downtown Area

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's new master plan for downtown development was unveiled Thursday.

The City Planning Commission will call a series of hearings at which the public will be invited to discuss the plan. The first meeting will be held within the next 10 days.

Major features of the plan include proposals for an apartment development south of Lakeside Avenue between E. Ninth and E. 14th streets, three new office towers close to Public Square, convention-type hotel and motel facilities, a subway under Euclid avenue with terminals on east and west-side rapid transit systems, new ship berths on the lakefront, an underground garage beneath the Mall and addition of 330,000 square feet of exhibit space to Public Hall to increase its attractiveness as a convention site.

Living Costs Climb Back To Record High

WASHINGTON (AP)— Living costs rose in April, climbing back to the record high reached in July and November of last year.

The government index went up two-tenths of one per cent from March to 123.9 per cent of the 1947-49 base. This matched the peak recorded in two months last year.

Announcing the figure today, the Labor Department said that rising state and local taxes helped shove up the living-cost level. Costs of transportation, medical care, recreation and personal care items all were up also.

Food, however, declined one-tenth of one per cent continuing nine-months drop interrupted only in January.

The new living cost rise was accompanied by a Labor Department report showing the purchasing power of factory worker earnings also rose to a record level in April. The previous record was in December 1956.

Spendable earnings of factory workers—their pay less federal tax deductions—also set a record in April.

Factory worker take-home pay average $80.68 per week for the worker with three dependents and $73.14 for the single worker. This reflected both increased wages and premium overtime rates for extra work hours.

Spendable earnings of factory workers are now up about 10 per cent over the level last year.

Most of 1½ million workers whose pay rates are geared for a quarterly living cost adjustment based on the government index will receive no change in pay because the change for the three-month period was too small. This includes nearly a million workers in the auto and auto parts industry.

75 Attend Class Dinner For Seniors At Chester

About 75 attended the annual Chester High School Senior Class banquet at the Chester American Legion home Tuesday night.

Jerry Linger, president, was master of ceremonies for the program which included a talk by R. M. McFarland, principal, and an instrumental duet by Donald Gillespie and Keith Hubbard. Cynthia Pinney gave a pantomime.

Mrs. Thelma Drumm gave the invocation, and John Clovis accompanied group singing. The class presented gifts to McFarland and Roy Cashdollar, class sponsor.

Potters Outing Fixed June 20 At Stark Park

The 31st annual Potters Picnic has been scheduled Saturday, June 20, at Meyers Lake Park in Canton, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters announced today.

Albert Kenst of Local Union 42 at Salem is chairman of the picnic committee, which includes: Roy Masker of Local 4 in East Liverpool, secretary; James T. Slaven of Cannons Mills, IBOP third vice president, treasurer; Robert Vance of Local 22 at Cambridge, Wallace Green of Local 51 at Canonsburg, Joseph Harp of Local 59 at Sebring, Bradford Townsend of Local 33 at Beaver Falls, Howard Huston of Local 133 in New Castle, Clarence Craig of Local 31 in East Palestine, Frank Allison of Local 124 in East Liverpool and Harry L. Gill, manager of the Potters Herald.

Both the date and the site are traditional. For many years, the annual outing for members of the IBOP, their families and friends has been held on the third Saturday of June at the Stark County resort.

The picnic committee will schedule a series of meetings to work out an all-day program. Two of the highlights always are a baby show — termed "the largest in Ohio" — which generally attracts 300 entries and a "junior bathing beauty contest" for boys and girls 4-7.

Another feature is a baseball game for the mythical world's championship of the pottery industry. It's played between two teams representing ceramic centers.

The picnic generally attracts crowds of more than 25,000 from pottery - manufacturing cities throughout the east.

$5,000 Loss Now Set In Golf Club Burglary

SALEM — Loss of golf equipment in a burglary of the Salem Golf Club Wednesday night has now been evaluated at $5,077 as sheriff's deputies continue an investigation.

Vincent Leskosky, golf pro at the club along Route 45 south of here, is making a further check of the loss of equipment today in addition to compiling serial numbers for possible later identification.

Chief Deputy James Miller said a car stolen from Leetonia Wednesday night has not been located and an attempt will be made to determine if it has any connection with the burglary. Area police agencies were alerted to the stolen auto's description, Miller said.

Motorist Wins $255 Claim In Crash Damage

A damage claim for $255 was granted by Squire Eugene Allison of Chester Thursday to L. G. Dewitt of Kingswood, W. Va., as a result of a truck-car collision May 8 at Carolina Ave. and 5th St.

Dewitt sought the money from L. V. Patterson of Pittsburgh, driver of the truck which collided with Dewitt's car driven by his wife, Mrs. Opal Dewitt. Both drivers claimed they had the green traffic signal.

Man Pleads Guilty

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — James Monroe, who had been indicated for second-degree murder in the beating death of a widow, Mrs. Elmina M. Mull, 31, March 8, pleaded guilty to first-degree manslaughter and armed robbery Thursday. The 27-year-old Monroe was sentenced to 11-45 years in the Ohio Penitentiary. He was allowed to plead to the lesser charge because police said he cooperated in helping solve a store robbery.

Ware Bankruptcy Hearing Slated

EAST PALESTINE — A meeting of creditors of the W. S. George Pottery Co. has been scheduled by Harold B. Doyle, referee in bankruptcy at Youngstown, June 4 at his offices at the Post Office Building.

A report is slated from the receiver of the pottery, along with various applications for compensation and reports on other aspects of the firm, which was placed in receivership in 1957, followed by a re-organization and refinancing program.

The distributing agents' report will show a balance on hand of $32,364, according to an announcement from Doyle.

Applications for compensation will include $9,035 from the receiver and distributing agent; $8,780 from attorneys for the receiver; $1,625 from fees of attorneys petitioning creditors; $5,000 from attorney for the debtor; $3,500 for acting as receiver and $2,800 for attorneys of the receiver as appointed by the County Common Pleas Court.

Atty. Jack Cohen, receiver during the earlier part of the transactions, and Atty. J. E. Bauknecht who served as attorney for the transaction, have waived fees for their services. The applications being filed will apparently come from other representatives of creditors.

235 Cars Inspected

EAST PALESTINE — A total of 235 autos were given a "safety check" in a two-lane volunteer inspection program conducted at the Junior High School field Wednesday by the Rotary Club. The final inspection will be held Saturday afternoon from 12 to 6.

300 Strikers Arrested In Buenos Aires Riot

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Some 300 strikers were arrested Thursday night after thousands of rioters and police had turned downtown Buenos Aires into a battlefield.

A visiting dignitary, President Sukarno of Indonesia, was caught in the melee when strikers shouting antigovernment slogans pressed around the open car. Police finally detached the car from the mob.

Two persons were killed when a fourth-story balcony crammed with battle viewers crashed to the street.

Violence erupted when bank clerks striking for higher wages demonstrated one day before a government deadline for a return to work.

Youth In Tournament

EAST PALESTINE — Don Hotten, 83 E. Rebecca St., city marbles champion will take part in the Ohio Veterans of Foreign Wars marbles tournament at Youngstown Saturday. Hotton won the city event sponsored by VFW Post 4579.

Potters Outing Fixed June 20 At Stark Park

The 31st annual Potters Picnic has been scheduled Saturday, June 20, at Meyers Lake Park in Canton, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters announced today.

Albert Kenst of Local Union 42 at Salem is chairman of the picnic committee, which includes: Roy Masker of Local 4 in East Liverpool, secretary; James T. Slaven of Cannons Mills, IBOP third vice president, treasurer; Robert Vance of Local 22 at Cambridge, Wallace Green of Local 51 at Canonsburg, Joseph Harp of Local 59 at Sebring, Bradford Townsend of Local 33 at Beaver Falls, Howard Huston of Local 133 in New Castle, Clarence Craig of Local 31 in East Palestine, Frank Allison of Local 124 in East Liverpool and Harry L. Gill, manager of the Potters Herald.

Both the date and the site are traditional. For many years, the annual outing for members of the IBOP, their families and friends has been held on the third Saturday of June at the Stark County resort.

The picnic committee will schedule a series of meetings to work out an all-day program. Two of the highlights always are a baby show — termed "the largest in Ohio" — which generally attracts 300 entries and a "junior bathing beauty contest" for boys and girls 4-7.

Another feature is a baseball game for the mythical world's championship of the pottery industry. It's played between two teams representing ceramic centers.

The picnic generally attracts crowds of more than 25,000 from pottery - manufacturing cities throughout the east.

$5,000 Loss Now Set In Golf Club Burglary

SALEM — Loss of golf equipment in a burglary of the Salem Golf Club Wednesday night has now been evaluated at $5,077 as sheriff's deputies continue an investigation.

Vincent Leskosky, golf pro at the club along Route 45 south of here, is making a further check of the loss of equipment today in addition to compiling serial numbers for possible later identification.

Chief Deputy James Miller said a car stolen from Leetonia Wednesday night has not been located and an attempt will be made to determine if it has any connection with the burglary. Area police agencies were alerted to the stolen auto's description, Miller said.

Motorist Wins $255 Claim In Crash Damage

A damage claim for $255 was granted by Squire Eugene Allison of Chester Thursday to L. G. Dewitt of Kingswood, W. Va., as a result of a truck-car collision May 8 at Carolina Ave. and 5th St.

Dewitt sought the money from L. V. Patterson of Pittsburgh, driver of the truck which collided with Dewitt's car driven by his wife, Mrs. Opal Dewitt. Both drivers claimed they had the green traffic signal.

Man Pleads Guilty

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — James Monroe, who had been indicated for second-degree murder in the beating death of a widow, Mrs. Elmina M. Mull, 31, March 8, pleaded guilty to first-degree manslaughter and armed robbery Thursday. The 27-year-old Monroe was sentenced to 11-45 years in the Ohio Penitentiary. He was allowed to plead to the lesser charge because police said he cooperated in helping solve a store robbery.

Ware Bankruptcy Hearing Slated

EAST PALESTINE — A meeting of creditors of the W. S. George Pottery Co. has been scheduled by Harold B. Doyle, referee in bankruptcy at Youngstown, June 4 at his offices at the Post Office Building.

A report is slated from the receiver of the pottery, along with various applications for compensation and reports on other aspects of the firm, which was placed in receivership in 1957, followed by a re-organization and refinancing program.

The distributing agents' report will show a balance on hand of $32,364, according to an announcement from Doyle.

Applications for compensation will include $9,035 from the receiver and distributing agent; $8,780 from attorneys for the receiver; $1,625 from fees of attorneys petitioning creditors; $5,000 from attorney for the debtor; $3,500 for acting as receiver and $2,800 for attorneys of the receiver as appointed by the County Common Pleas Court.

Atty. Jack Cohen, receiver during the earlier part of the transactions, and Atty. J. E. Bauknecht who served as attorney for the transaction, have waived fees for their services. The applications being filed will apparently come from other representatives of creditors.

235 Cars Inspected

EAST PALESTINE — A total of 235 autos were given a "safety check" in a two-lane volunteer inspection program conducted at the Junior High School field Wednesday by the Rotary Club. The final inspection will be held Saturday afternoon from 12 to 6.

300 Strikers Arrested In Buenos Aires Riot

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Some 300 strikers were arrested Thursday night after thousands of rioters and police had turned downtown Buenos Aires into a battlefield.

A visiting dignitary, President Sukarno of Indonesia, was caught in the melee when strikers shouting antigovernment slogans pressed around the open car. Police finally detached the car from the mob.

Two persons were killed when a fourth-story balcony crammed with battle viewers crashed to the street.

Violence erupted when bank clerks striking for higher wages demonstrated one day before a government deadline for a return to work.

Youth In Tournament

EAST PALESTINE — Don Hotten, 83 E. Rebecca St., city marbles champion will take part in the Ohio Veterans of Foreign Wars marbles tournament at Youngstown Saturday. Hotton won the city event sponsored by VFW Post 4579.

Denies Making Threat

Hoffa Says Union Never Would Call National Strike

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Although he said he favors system and industry bargaining, Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa says his union never would call a national walkout.

He denied making the threat of such a strike in a talk at Brownsville, Tex. and reiterated an earlier claim that he had been misquoted.

But, Hoffa added, he does not feel to have been "victimized" by the press because "I can handle myself."

Hoffa, here to talk with Minneapolis and St. Paul Teamsters, said his union would abide by any restrictions Congress imposes in new laws. "But," he added, "we reserve the right to have the advantages as well as the disadvantages of any new legislation."

Told that Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) had made a speech Thursday night in which he accused Hoffa of a "public-be-damned" attitude, he said Kennedy would "do well to examine his own remarks to see whether he is talking in the best interests of the working man."

Holding himself to be a responsible labor leader, Hoffa told a news conference that a man is entitled to any position the people he represents want to give him. He complained that about a third of the last 18 months he has spent contending with the Senate committee studying labor rackets.

Hoffa repeated that he would be willing to appear before that group concerning his Brownsville remarks about a national strike.

At that time, he was quoted by Whitey Sawyer, Associated Press reporter, as having said, with respect to possible restrictive laws: "The only answer is that if such a law is passed, we would have all our contracts end on a given date. They talk about a secondary boycott. We can call a primary strike all across the nation that will straighten out the employers once and for all."

The same quotation was carried by at least two southeastern Texas newspapers.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell called the threat the most arrogant and brazen thing he ever heard.

AWAITING POPPY DAY. These representatives of district veterans' organizations are conferring over final plans for the annual Poppy Day sale to be held Saturday in area communities. Proceeds from sale of the artificial flowers, made by men in veterans' hospitals, go to their rehabilitation and for local veterans' welfare activities. In front row left to right are Alvia Tucker, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9285 at Wellsville; Mrs. Dorothy Galloway, auxiliary of American Legion Post 374 in East End; Mrs. Geneva Hill, auxiliary of American Leigon Post 121 of Chester, and Mrs. Mary Tucker, auxiliary of VFW Post 9285; second row, John Wright of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66 of East Liverpool; Mrs. Iva Johnson, auxiliary of American Legion Post 114 of Newell; Mrs. Katharyn Hughes, auxiliary of American Legion Post 70 of Wellsville, and Mrs. Irene Hughey, auxiliary of American Legion Post 4 of East Liverpool. The auxiliary of American Legion Post 163 will hold a house-to-house canvass in the Lawrenceville area tomorrow; the date of the sale by VFW Post 9285 has not been set, but Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5647, also of Wellsville, will hold its sale during the firemen's homecoming the week of June 26.

200-Million Success Scored

House Drive To Cut Ike's Money Bids To Face Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The annual House drive to cut President Eisenhower's money requests, currently a 200-million-dollar success, faces a crucial test next week.

That 1 per cent cut may be tossed into reverse by bills to finance the Defense Department, the Commerce Department and the public works programs. These measures, along with a bill to provide congressional operating funds are due to reach the House then.

Among them they call for the appropriation of between 40 and 50 billion dollars.

How closely Congress follows the President's recommendations on these bills will determine to a large extent the size of the federal budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1. The bills give Congress a direct control over spending. The control is not complete, however, since considerble spending comes from money provided in previous years and from nonappropriation bills allowing Treasury withdrawals.

With one exception, every big 1960 appropriation bill considered this year has been cut by the House. None of them has been acted on finally by the Senate, which often increases the House figures.

The Senate Appropriations Committee did just that Thursday, adding $35,061,600 to the amount the House voted for the Treasury and Post Office departments and the Tax Court.

The committee sent to the Senate a bill to provide $4,628,097,000 to run the three agencies in the coming year. That still was $25,168,400 less than Eisenhower asked.

The single exception to the House cutting drive was a bill providing $3,367,969,681 for the Welfare Department and related agencies. This was $181,348,300 more than the President requested.

This was more than counterbalanced by cuts of about 280 millions in two bills financing the Agriculture Department and a group of independent agencies whose funds are allotted in a single bill.

In all, the House this year has considered or has before it presidential requests for about $20,300,000,000. It has approved about $20,100,000,000 of this amount, assuming it follows the Appropriations Committee's recommendations for financing of the State and Justice departments which will be voted on next week.

Dulles Condition Same, State Department Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department says there is nothing new to report on the condition of John Foster Dulles.

Press Officer Lincoln White said Thursday the condition of the former secretary of state was about the same as earlier this week when Dulles was reported growing weaker.

Dulles, 71, has been hospitalized with cancer most of the time since early February. His condition was complicated by pneumonia two weeks ago.

Removed From List

WASHINGTON (AP)—New Philadelphia and Dover, Ohio, have been removed from the list of smaller labor market areas with substantial labor surplus, the labor department reports.

394 Youngsters Listed In School Registration

A pre-school registration Wednesday saw 394 youngsters signed to enter the first grade in September, Asst. Supt. Paul Blair said.

The total enrollment when school opens Sept. 1 is expected to be less than 584 enrolled now, Blair said. The annual enumeration lists 509 due to enter first grade.

Generally, about 70 per cent of those scheduled to start school sign up at the pre - school registrations, he explained.

The breakdown by buildings shows:

Garfield, 25; Glenmoor 34; Horace Mann, 42; Klondyke, 10; LaCroft, 40; Lincoln, 50; McKinley, 44; Neville, 21; Pleasant Heights, 27; Taft, 35, and Westgate, 66.

Vote For Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Ohio Republicans, Reps. William H. Ayres, A. D. Baumhart Jr. and Frances P. Bolton, joined the Democratic majority in passing the housing bill Thursday, 261-160. All Ohio Democrats voted for the bill, except Rep. Wayne L. Hays, who did not vote, but announced himself as being for it. The remaining GOP representatives from Ohio voted against the bill.

Boys, Girls To Graduate

Education-Jobs, Jobless Link Again To Be Realized

By JAMES P. MITCHELL
Secretary of Labor
(Written for The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Within a few weeks about 1¾ million boys and girls will be graduating from high schools throughout the United States.

Some will immediately become members of the American labor force; others will be preparing themselves for additional training in colleges, through apprenticeship training and other educational programs. But, whatever their course of action, each of these boys and girls will in a very real sense be highlighting once again one of the critical problems of our time: The relationship between education on the one hand and employment and unemployment on the other.

We have been learning a great deal about the relationship between education and employment during the recent recession, from which, I am glad to say, we are making a very vigorous recovery. These past months have shown us again how important a good education and a skill are when the chips are down.

Look at the figures for this very last month. They show an unemployment rate among unskilled workers 2½ times as high as the skilled worker. They show an unemployment rate among unskilled workers as much as eight times as high as among professional and managerial workers. These few figures tell better than a thousand words the story of the great importance of getting the best education and training possible in preparing for the world of work.

To those young people who are now receiving their high school diplomas, this story is particularly important. Because, while these graduates were completing their current senior term, about 800,000 of their colleagues were dropping out of school, to their very great disadvantage.

In a recent series of studies which we have just completed in the Department of Labor, the contrast in the employment and unemployment experience among high school graduates as against dropouts was dramatically illustrated. In a study of almost 25,000 young boys and girls, we found that the high school graduate got better jobs at higher pay. The dropouts experienced unemployment rates that were anywhere from 3 to 10 times as high as those of the high school graduates.

Thus, our urging young people to stay in school and get the maximum amount of education and training fits the economic facts of life.

200-Million Success Scored

House Drive To Cut Ike's Money Bids To Face Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The annual House drive to cut President Eisenhower's money requests, currently a 200-million-dollar success, faces a crucial test next week.

That 1 per cent cut may be tossed into reverse by bills to finance the Defense Department, the Commerce Department and the public works programs. These measures, along with a bill to provide congressional operating funds are due to reach the House then.

Among them they call for the appropriation of between 40 and 50 billion dollars.

How closely Congress follows the President's recommendations on these bills will determine to a large extent the size of the federal budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1. The bills give Congress a direct control over spending. The control is not complete, however, since considerble spending comes from money provided in previous years and from nonappropriation bills allowing Treasury withdrawals.

With one exception, every big 1960 appropriation bill considered this year has been cut by the House. None of them has been acted on finally by the Senate, which often increases the House figures.

The Senate Appropriations Committee did just that Thursday, adding $35,061,600 to the amount the House voted for the Treasury and Post Office departments and the Tax Court.

The committee sent to the Senate a bill to provide $4,628,097,000 to run the three agencies in the coming year. That still was $25,168,400 less than Eisenhower asked.

The single exception to the House cutting drive was a bill providing $3,367,969,681 for the Welfare Department and related agencies. This was $181,348,300 more than the President requested.

This was more than counterbalanced by cuts of about 280 millions in two bills financing the Agriculture Department and a group of independent agencies whose funds are allotted in a single bill.

In all, the House this year has considered or has before it presidential requests for about $20,300,000,000. It has approved about $20,100,000,000 of this amount, assuming it follows the Appropriations Committee's recommendations for financing of the State and Justice departments which will be voted on next week.

Scouts And Leaders Will Attend Conference

LISBON — Approximately 100 Boy Scouts and leaders will attend a junior leaders training conference, beginning tonight at Camp McKinley. It will continue to Sunday afternoon.

The group will be trained in patrol methods, set up patrol camps and operate as a patrol unit throughout the sessions.

Bruce Nichols of East Palestine will be director.

Dulles Condition Same, State Department Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department says there is nothing new to report on the condition of John Foster Dulles.

Press Officer Lincoln White said Thursday the condition of the former secretary of state was about the same as earlier this week when Dulles was reported growing weaker.

Dulles, 71, has been hospitalized with cancer most of the time since early February. His condition was complicated by pneumonia two weeks ago.

Removed From List

WASHINGTON (AP)—New Philadelphia and Dover, Ohio, have been removed from the list of smaller labor market areas with substantial labor surplus, the labor department reports.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing in regard to the letter concerning boys visiting girls who are baby sitting. I agree with you that this should not be permitted. My reasons, however, are not entirely the same as yours.

When people hire a sitter they trust her with their most valuable possessions — their children. If the sitter is entertaining a boy friend she's not so likely to give her full attention to her responsibilities.

The girl who goes to work in an office or a retail store wouldn't think of entertaining friends on the job. Why, then, should she expect to do this while baby-sitting?

She's being paid for her time and her employer has the right to expect her undivided attention.

Sitters should have this explained to them from the outset. It should not be assumed that they "know better." Most of them don't.—MOTHER OF FIVE.

-:-

Dear M. O. Five: Many mothers and a surprising number of conscientious sitters write along these same lines. There's no question about it—"She sits best, who sits alone."

—:—

Big-Hearted Boob

Dear Ann: It happened again last night for the 20th time. I decided to write for advice before I lose my temper and hit my big-hearted husband over his dumb head.

We've been married 10 years. He's loyal, loving and never has caused me any trouble. The problem I'm having with him has never been mentioned in your column that I know of.

When we're with family or friends someone invariably admires my earrings, a pin, a scarf, a novel eye-glass case or even a hat. My husband puts me on the spot by saying, "Give it to her, honey. You can get another one." What can I do but hand it over or look cheap?

Last night I lost a lovely hand-painted scarf to his sister. I tried to smile and be gracious but I was boiling inside. If you can think of a solution to this one you're a genius. — STRIPPED.

Dear Stripped: I wish they were ALL this easy. Simply tell your husband (when you're alone) that you shop, hunt and pay good money for things you like because you want to enjoy them.

If he insists on putting you in this awkward position after you've explained your feelings privately, then publicly pretend you have a sound-proof head.

Place Is In Home

Dear Ann: I'm a 30 - year - old woman with a child, 7. My husband suddenly took into his head that I should "go to work like other modern women."

I'm not trained for anything so I couldn't earn more than about $35 a week. By the time I paid someone to take care of my child, plus the carfare, I'd have less than $10 a week left. I don't think this is worth leaving my home for.

My husband has always been strong - willed and domineering. I have to get up at 4 a.m. to fix his breakfast. Two years ago I had a serious operation and I'm still nervous and underweight.

He never has helped me around the house and he comes and goes evenings as he pleases. I don't think he'd change if I went to work. He makes $100 a week and we've always been in debt. Please tell me what is the right thing to do.—E.J.J.

-:-

Dear E. J. J.: In your case, working outside the house makes no sense. A hubsand has no right to demand his wife get an outside job when she has a home and young child to care for. If he's so eager for the extra money, he should get a part-time evening job instead of "going and coming as he pleases."

Confidentially

TO BORED AND BLUE: Have you seen your doctor? Maybe it's "a-boy-for-you and a-girl-for-me" that is needed to pump a little meaning and purpose into this anemic relationship.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

2 Indiana Men Admit 7 Robberies In Dayton Area

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Seven robberies here that netted $5,200 have been solved, police report. Three Indiana men, currently in an Indianapolis jail on other charges, have admitted the Dayton crime spree, detectives said.

Two of the three were traced through drawings made by a former newspaper artist. LaVerne W. Wilson, former artist for the Dayton Journal Herald, put together composite portraits of the robbers from descriptions furnished by witnesses, police said.

The sketches bore a remarkable resemblance to two men in the Indianapolis jail, James Paul Marshall, 35 and Kenneth Gene Mahurin, 22. Detective Lt. Richard Grundish said they admitted the seven holdups Thursday.

They also implicated a third man in one of the robberies—Gilbert Phillips, 38, Phillips was in jail with them and readily admitted his part in the crime, Grundish said.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Life's Pleasures Not Based On Food

One young woman has written to complain bitterly that keeping weight controlled does not add to the joy of living for her. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"In today's paper you told of a young woman who had been very heavy two years ago, followed fad diets like mad, but finally learned to stay on a healthy pattern of eating and stay slim. Your general idea was that this is certainly worth the results and not too unpleasant. I wonder. In order to keep my weight within reason, I have to constantly curb calories. I have about 1,500 calories a day and I do stay at right weight, and I'm as healthy as a horse. But I will never get used to my co-workers eating a doughnut at ten, having dessert at lunch and a candy bar at three—and staying slim.

"I'M NOT SURE how one would classify me as far as activity goes. I do no organized exercise or calisthenics. I work in an office and do household chores at night. My husband and I separated before my baby was born.

"But to my real question—what role do cakes, pies, ice cream, etc. play in a person's diet? Surely you are aware that the majority of recipes in newspapers and magazines are for these forbidden sweets. Obviously somebody eats them.

"In a 'slimming" family—one like I intend to have where neither I nor my son, possibly even a husband in time, ever get obese—what desserts are in order? I love fruit, but must dessert always consist of fruit and not the cakes, pies, etc. that delight a cook's heart, both esthetically and gastrically?

"I don't precisely know what puzzles me, but maybe just asking for some sort of reconciliation between your column and the adjoining recipes will be of help."

First get the picture straight. You have a legitimate complaint with your life as it is at present. But why transfer it to food? Eating cake and pie would not substitute for the things you are not getting out of life.

On the dessert question: A rich dessert can be an occasional treat. Why not adventure in low calorie desserts such as dieter's cheesecake and desserts sweetened with a non-nutritive sweetener? Did you ever experiment with whipped topping made from dry skim milk powder?

RECOGNIZE, however, that the real issue is not rich desserts. What you are missing on one level cannot be fixed with food. You sound like a spirited gal.

Make the effort to cope with your dis-satisfactions in some way that will make life more interesting and you will be the winner. Arrange to have a free evening out and do something stimulating. Opportunity doesn't knock only once.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Youth In Check Case Goes To Reformatory

Christopher Karamanolis, 19, of Steubenville, accused of forgery and uttering a false check, was sentenced to 1-20 years in the Mansfield Reformatory on each count Wednesday afternoon by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Karamanolis was indicted by the April Grand Jury, along with Frank J. Ferraro, 18, also of Steubenville, for passing a forged check March 5 at the A. & P. Super-Market in East Liverpool. He pleaded not guilty at arraignment April 22 but admitted guilt Wednesday.

Judge Buzzard said he could serve the sentences concurrently, along with a sentence he received in Jefferson County for the same offense.

Bond Issue On Ballot

School Parents Told Site Shifted For New Building

IRONDALE — A group of 40 Stanton Local School District residents heard arguments for the $498,000 bond issue to be decided in a special election June 2 at the meeting Thursday night in the high school building.

The issue is for a new elementary school in the Empire area and installation of inside toilet facilities in the Hammondsville elementary school.

The group was told that the site for the proposed 10 - classroom building had been moved north several hundred feet to higher ground out of reach of any flood waters from the nearby Ohio River.

Stanton officials also assured the group that construction of the new building would not affect pupils now attending elementary schools at Hammondsville and Irondale.

They also emphasized that the bond levy rate has been decreased from 5.1 mills to 2.4 mills due to construction of the multi-million dollar Ohio Edison Co. plant in the district. The tax potential of the district was boosted from $5 million to approximately $11 million with the development of the electric plant — thus doubling funds available for school operating expenses, the group was told.

The Board of Education is asking the bond issue to replace two schools at Empire and Stratton which fail to meet standards adopted by the state. The buildings must be replaced by Sept. 1, 1959, officials stressed.

While the new site selected for the building must have a dirt fill before construction, expense of the fill is included in the estimate of the cost of the building, it was reported.

Residents will vote on the bond issue for the third time in less than a year. It was originally a $480,000 proposal for only the elementary building at Empire, but was later increased to $498,000 to provide funds for the inside toilets at Hammondsville.

Acting as moderators at the meeting were Supt. C. P. Henderson and C. M. Hoobler, chairman of a Citizens' Committee for Better Schools.

Attorney Is Speaker For GOP At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE—Atty. Walter J. Hunston of Salem was guest speaker at a meeting of the Men's Republican Club Thursday night at the City Hall. About 20 attended.

Atty. Hunston said, "The Republican party needs to come forth with a program based on sound principles, define it and take it to the people."

In referring to the county Democrats, he said he did not resent the political machine which Don Gosney, county chairman, has built up — "I hope the GOP can do as well."

"But I do resent the fact that the taxpayers are buying the gas for this machine," Hunston said, stating Gosney is receiving a salary of about $7,000 as secretary to Rep. Wayne L. Hays and $2,500 as a member of the County Election Board.

The men's group made plans for a summer meeting with the women's GOP club.

to $3.40 to the monthly gas bill of customers.

The petitions state: "Of all the improvements the company has boasted, regarding better service and more gas supply, we have not noticed any difference from past years. There have been improvements such as extending new lines to housing projects and territories for new customers and new revenue.

"From all indications, the company always makes requests for rate increases so they may pursue new revenues by laying the burden of costs on old customers."

The firm has a larger rate increase request filed with the PSC for increased labor costs, taxes and added return for the company which is slated to go into effect Sept. 12 unless the PSC rules otherwise.

Moose Lodge To Honor New Chairmen Group

Newly appointed committee chairmen for Moose Lodge 122 will be honored at a reception Saturday night at the lodge home.

They include G. B. M. Kilmer, publicity and civic affairs; Arnold Densmore, enrollment; W. A. McGonigal, ritualistic; Homer Mercer, endowment; Eugene Springer, conservation, and George Simms, entertainment.

Appointments were made by Springer, governor of the lodge. Kilmer is also district publicity and civic affairs chairman.

The chairmen and wives will be guests at the event for which a program of entertainment and dancing is slated. Mrs. Ruth Lister will play the piano, and birthday anniversaries of nine members will be observed.

Potter Hurt At Work; Youth Hit By Baseball

A potter hurt at work and a boy struck by a baseball were treated Thursday at City Hospital, along with two youngsters injured in other mishaps.

Howard Touvelle, 1023 Hazel St., employe of the Hall China Co., suffered a laceration of the wrist while grinding ware yesterday.

Thomas Kraft, 13, of 233 Center St. suffered an elbow injury when struck by a ball while practicing with the PONY League.

Mary Jane Watkins, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Watkins, 1068 Bank St., received a cut of the right arm on a storm door.

Gary Bonnell, 11, of R. D. 1 suffered a fractured arm when he tripped on steps.

Council To Meet

SALINEVILLE — Council will meet Monday night at 7:30 for routine business, Mayor Karl Lindner said.

Health Board Plans Action

The Board of Health Thursday night decided to confer with City Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper on a course of action after sanitarians reported two householders, one on St. Clair Ave. and the other on Ohio Ave., have not complied with orders to connect their properties with the sanitary sewer system.

Action was deferred pending the conference with the solicitor and results will be reported at the meeting June 18.

Mrs. Luella Bevan, registrar of vital statistics, reported 53 deaths during the five - week period ending yesterday.

Deaths included 31 adult males, and 18 adult females.

During the same period, 131 births were reported — 66 boys and 65 girls, of which 66 were born to East Liverpool parents, 16 to Wellsville, 12 to Chester, 8 to Newell, 5 each to Midland and Salineville, 3 each to Hammondsville and Smiths Ferry, and the others to parents from scattered areas.

Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, health nurse, reported 34 guidance visits and 5 auxiliary visits made in tuberculosis control. Six new patients were admitted to the TB control. Seven patch tests were conducted and reported negative.

In the heart control program, there were 6 therapy visits and one visit to a rheumatic heart patient. In the adult health program, 51 therapy visits were made and in the clinic service 13 tri-immunal shots were given and 11 patients treated.

Sanitary Inspectors Septimus Cook and John D. Owen answered 23 complaints and conducted 13 interviews during the month.

The inspections included 3 grocery stores, 27 milk farms and 25 general calls.

During the same period, 13 milk samples were tested and found satisfactory.

E. R. Liebschner Jr., chairman, presided.

City Motorist Cited After Route 7 Crash

A city motorist was cited for driving left of center by the Wintersville State Highway Patrol following a traffic collision Thursday at 9:45 a. m. on Route 7, south of Wellsville.

Robert R. Futhey, 53, of 2407 St. Clair Ave., will be given a hearing Monday before Mayor Oliver Fleischer of Toronto. His vehicle hit one driven by Nathan W. Jones, 34, of Philadelphia.

The patrol said Futhey was headed south and was slowing for a halted vehicle when the mishap occurred. Damage was slight and neither driver was injured, the patrol reported.

3 LaCroft Youths Due Hearing For Burglary

Three LaCroft youths, 9, 11 and 13, will be given a hearing Thursday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan, who said they admitted breaking into the home of Carl Cline of 5th Ave., taking a clock radio and a phonograph.

Mrs. Cline reported to the sheriff's office yesterday afternoon that the home had been entered while she was shopping during the morning.

Deputy Robert Beresford investigated and rounded up the three juveniles. They admitted the theft and Deputy Beresford restored the the radio and phonograph to the owner.

Salineville Auxiliary To Conduct Poppy Sale

SALINEVILLE — Poppies will be sold by the auxiliary of American Legion Post 442 Saturday in a house - to - house canvass and street solicitation. Youngsters will aid in the canvass, Mrs. Helen Thompson, president, said.

A public spaghetti supper will be sponsored by the auxiliary at the post home at 4:30 p. m., Mrs. Thompson said.

With U.S.-Wide Strike Threat

Hoffa Declared Wrong On Blocking Legislation

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, is mistaken if he thinks the threat of a nationwide strike will block legislation he doesn't like, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) says.

The union president has been quoted as threatening such a strike if Congress should pass restrictive labor legislation. He has denied the statement, which was attributed to him in a speech at Brownsville, Tex., last Tuesday.

Kennedy, in a speech here Thursday night, said Hoffa's threatened strike was "a general strike such as those which have paralyzed less stable nations with less powerful governments in the past."

Hoffa was reported to have said that a nationwide halt would be ordered if Congress placed unions under antitrust laws.

"I have never favored placing unions under antitrust laws," Kennedy said.

His labor bill, already with Senate approval, contains no such provisions. Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), has announced he will introduce a bill proposing to do just that, however.

Such a law would fail to correct corruption or racketeering in the labor-management field, Kennedy said.

"If Mr. Hoffa feels that any and all legislation in this area can be stifled by his threats of pressure—if he thinks the legislative processes of this nation are going to falter and halt as a result of his strong arm tactics—then he does not understand either the American people or the Democratic 86th Congress," he said.

In Minneapolis, Hoffa retorted: "The senator might do well to examine his own remarks to see whether he is talking in the best interests of the working man."

Chester Man Forfeits For Traffic Violation

David Smith, 46, of 3rd St. Ext., Chester, forfeited a $30.50 bond Thursday night when he did not appear before acting Mayor Roy Cashdollar on a charge of failing to halt at the scene of an accident.

Police said his car struck one operated by William Mountjoy of Neptune Ave., Monday night at Indiana Ave. and 5th St. Mountjoy described the auto to police, and Smith was arrested Tuesday at his home outside the city by a deputy sheriff.

Ronald R. Pearl, 17, of Chester R. D. 1 was fined $25 and costs last night by Cashdollar for hazardous driving. Pearl was cited Wednesday in a school zone along 6th St.

Cashdollar suspended $15 of the fine on condition Pearl surrender his driver's license until the end of the school term.

Reform To Hurt Castro

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — Fidel Castro says his family stands to lose by Cuba's new agrarian reform program chopping up big estates. The Prime Minister told newsmen his family owns 2,178 acres of sugar land which will be reduced by the law to 1,000.

Out Of The Air

Rebuttal By A TV Man

John Crosby is on vacation. While he is away his column will be written by guests.

By ROBERT W. SARNOFF
Chairman, NBC

Possibly in deference to broadcasting's "equal-time" tradition, John Crosby generously has offered me equal space to discuss a recent column of his on my keynote address at this year's convention of the National Association of Broadcasters.

I am grateful for the opportunity to confirm what his column suggested: that he and I are in fundamental disagreement over the character of the national television audience.

"I have yet," wrote Mr. Crosby, "to run down that 'mass audience' who sit there lapping up 'The Price Is Right' and screeching for more of same. I think people accept 'The Price Is Right' with varying degrees of indifference."

-:-

IN MY OPINION, the American television fan is not the passive and indifferent citizen that Mr. Crosby suggests. I believe that watching television normally involves a conscious act of selection, and that no program ever maintains a large audience through indifference.

Surely it is stretching to attribute the success of "The Price Is Right" to viewer indifference. Is it indifference when as many as a million Americans a week mail in postcards to that single show? No more so, I believe, than when readers in droves enter the Tangletown Puzzle contest of the New York Herald Tribune or similar circulation - building projects in other newspapers that carry Mr. Crosby's column.

Today, 81 per cent of American TV set owners can choose from at least four channels. With the daytime "The Price Is Right," for example, one of the competing network programs is "I Love Lucy" —reruns, true, but still a program that Mr. Crosby indicates is acceptable even to intellectuals.

BUT EVEN if Lucy reruns, or the programs on other channels, are not to the viewer's taste, does indifference still chain him to "The Price Is Right?"

Sociologists say we live in the midst of the richest variety of leisure-time activities in the history of mankind — and all of them compete with television. We can listen to the radio or the phonograph, go to a movie or a bowling alley, read "Dr. Zhivago" or the latest magazine, play bridge or study the stock market, practice putting or photography or scores of other hobbies — or read newspapers.

When tens of millions of people tune consistently to one television program, I believe they are making a deliberate selection over a vast array of alternatives.

The mass audience is anything but the faceless blob or the row of ciphers that the phrase suggests when it prompts Mr. Crosby to ask: "Hath not a mass eyes? Hath not a mass ears?"

Indeed it does — in fact, more eyes and ears than anyone else. It consists, after all, of the same people who make up perhaps the most selective and most vocal political electorate in the world. It is an articulate mass, quick to register like or dislike.

ON SOME happy day, I hope, Mr. Crosby will come forth and confess that when he criticizes broadcasters for much of their popular entertainment fare, he really means to criticize popular taste.

And there is no reason he should don sackcloth to do so. The fact that his own preferences often depart from popular taste in no sense makes him a less worthy critic.

The job facing the television industry, as I see it, is to attempt to reconcile more effectively the varying, and often contradictory, tastes of the national audience—including those of Mr. Crosby. And we must do so, not by abdicating under the whip of criticism our primary responsibility to majority tastes but by seeking areas where all tastes can be satisfied more effectively.

In my NAB speech at Chicago I suggested that the industry embark on a communications effort to seek, from all groups, a clearer understanding of television's role in our society.

After only 11 years, television has become the first "total" mass medium. The questions surrounding its operation are many and complex, and they call for some clam reflection.

WHY SHOULD mass entertainment, per se, become a phrase of almost ill repute? How can we achieve a more effective program mix to satisfy both majority and minority desires?

Everybody I've met in this industry wants to find better answers to these questions. That was a primary purpose for the communications effort I proposed — not, as some of the more superficial observers of the medium have suggested, to "whitewash" our "mediocrity."

I hope this effort will produce a new two - way informational bridge between broadcasters and the public, including those groups who voice dissatisfaction with today's fare.

From it we hope to learn more of how all elements of the public feel about television. And, above all, we hope to obtain that knowledge within a framework of genuine public understanding of the task we try to perform.

If it comes to us within that framework, we feel it will be enormously helpful in shaping television's future.

Husband, Wife Same Rank In Air Force

MAGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. (AP)—It looks as though one husband and wife team will always have trouble deciding who's boss.

Last September, David F. Peterson was promoted to senior master sergeant.

Recently, his wife, Grace, was promoted to the same new enlisted grade. They are the first senior top-kick team in the Air Force.

Kresge Cited On Sales Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Board of Tax Appeals says the S. S. Kresge Co. owes the state $396,579 in sales taxes.

The board Thursday unanimously upheld a decision by Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers. It's considered likely that Kresge will appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court.

A 15 per cent penalty—Amounting to $57,487—will be tacked on if Kresge fails to pay within 30 days after final disposition of the case. That would increase the total to $456,066.

This is the largest tax assessment in Ohio's history. The Kresge chain has 83 stores in Ohio and 631 nationally. Thirty-six are involved in this case.

The proceedings began with an audit of some of the firm's books in 1956. It was a periodic spot check made by the state tax commissioner to insure that businesses are paying their sales taxes.

But the tax commissioner said records were insufficient for the 1952-55 sales by Kresge which were subject to the 3 per cent Ohio sales tax. The records showed, Bowers said, that the 36 Kresge stores did not buy enough sales tax stamps between 1952-55.

The commissioner said the firm owed $396,579. Kresge asked for a reassessment. On Feb. 21, 1958 the assessment was reaffirmed and Kresge appealed to the Tax Board.

New Increases Shown For County's Sales Tax

Another increase was shown in Columbiana County sales tax collections in the week ending May 9, compared with the same week in 1958, State Treasurer Joseph Ferguson reported today at Columbus.

The collections hit $37,104, up $6,326 from the $30,778 shown in the same week of last year, Ferguson said.

The tax income stands at $1,554,551 since the start of the fiscal year July 1, down $42,769 from the $1,597,320 recorded in the similar period of the preceding fiscal year.

On a statewide basis, the collections for the week ending May 9 were up 15.5 per cent from the same week of 1958. In the cumulative total for the two fiscal years, 1959 is running 1.2 per cent ahead.

Waterford Pupils Win Area Field Day Event

LISBON — Fairfield-Waterford School won first place in the annual Columbiana County school Field Day held Wednesday at the County Fairgrounds for seventh and eighth grade pupils in the county system.

Fairfield-Waterford posted 73 points to win the top trophy. Beaver Local was second with 45 points, and United Local was third in the competitions in which nine schools took part.

Salvation Army Expects 75 For Board Banquet

Approximately 75 are expected at the annual civic banquet of the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army tonight at 6:30 at the First Church of Christ, a highlight of the observance of National Salvation Army Week. High School senior graduates of the corps will also be recognized, Maj. William Murtaugh, commander, said.

The principal address will be given by Dr. W. J. Smart of London, England, who has served as an exchange minister at the Irondale Methodist Church for several years. His subject will be "The World's Future Is In the Home."

Donald B. Baxter, chairman, will preside, and the invocation will be given by the Rev. Russell Owens, president of the East Liverpool Ministerial Association, a member of the board, and pastor of the Grace United Presbyterian Church in East End.

Senior-Capt. Albert Scott of Cleveland, financial secretary of the Northeast Ohio Division, representing headquarters, will present a certificate of organization and membership cards to members of the Advisory Board.

The annual report will be presented by Senior-Maj. Murtaugh.

Music will be provided by the Ceramic Corps Citadel Brass ensemble.

The Rev. James C. Gardner, secretary of the Association, a member of the board, and pastor of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church, will give the benediction.

86 Students At Lisbon Wait Gettysburg Tour

LISBON — Eighty-six American history students at David Anderson High School will make a field trip this weekend to study the battle of Gettysburg at the scene.

The students will leave tonight and will arrive at Gettysburg at 7 a. m. Saturday. They will visit the battlefield museum, cyclorama and national cemetery. They will stay Saturday night at a motel on the battlefield and return home Sunday.

The students will be accompanied by their instructor, Edwin Bucher, and three other teachers. School busses will be used for the trip.

$13,907 Given To Fund Drive

A total of $13,907.47 has been collected to date for the Columbiana County Cancer Fund drive, according to Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine, county campaign chairman.

The amount is more than $1,000 above the collection last year.

A breakdown of county collections shows:

East Liverpool, $5,524; Wellsville, $1,213; Salem, $4,036; Lisbon $1,249; East Palestine, $1,391; Leetonia, $171; New Waterford, $119; Kensington, $96; Clarkson, $10.49, and granges, $94. Salineville-Columbiana and Knox Township made no reports at the report meeting held at Wick Hotel Wednesday noon.

C. M. Brownfield, 87, was the oldest canvasser. He collected $26.80 from West Point and vicinity. It was added to the Lisbon total.

Scholarship Awarded At Palestine Assembly

EAST PALESTINE — A four-year scholarship to Youngstown University was awarded to John Sinsley in the annual senior honors program held Wednesday at East Palestine High School.

The L. W. Nash Co. engineering scholarship for Sinsley, son of Mrs Lee Affolter of Columbiana R. D. 2, includes tuition and all fees. The scholarship was established in 1956, and was presented by T. W. Nash, vice president of the firm.

Harold Black received the Kyes award, a $100 scholarship to any accredited college offered by Roger M. Kyes.

Arthur Herriott received the Leader Press trophy for a senior football team member who achieves a high scholastic standing, and the Rotary Club $100 college scholarship.

Other awards were presented to band members, basketball players and Road-E-O and mathematics contest winners.

Tourist Obliged

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Lee Ferguson asked a tourist if she could photograph him in front of a building in this restored colonial capital. He obliged and she promised him a print "if the shot was good." It was and she sent two prints, asking that one be autographed and returned. It was, along with a gracious letter from Arturo Frondizi, president of Argentina.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Filmy Plastic Bags —A Warning

- Plastic Bags
- Growing Pains
- Buttons and Bows
- Vitamin F

Q. What makes thin plastic, such as that used for dry cleaning bags, stick to the skin?

A. The plastic becomes electrified and is attracted to objects which have an opposite charge just as steel is attracted to a magnet. This can be very dangerous. At least four children have suffocated in the filmy dry cleaning bags. Medical alerts are being issued on the containers. Static electricity in the bags cause them to cling to the victim's face and cut off breathing. Of the four known victims, three were 2 years old and the other 4. Medical societies and health departments are notifying people of the danger.

Small children should not be allowed to play with the plastic bags.

Q. What causes growing pains in children? Does the condition indicate rheumatic fever?

A. In most cases the cause of pain in children's legs occuring at night is unknown. Rheumatic fever is rarely the cause. There seems to be no reason to call them "growing pains" except that they occur during childhood.

Q. You sometimes hear of people who have swallowed a variety of objects such as spoons, buttons, etc. Are there any authentic medical reports of such cases?

A. Deliberate swallowing of foreign bodies is not so rare among mentally ill persons. A New York doctor recently operated on a 43-year-old woman and removed 393 objects from the stomach. Their combined weight was three pounds, seven ounces. They included 78 spoon handles, several bolts and many nuts, screws, nails, hairpins, a religious medal with chain, several beads, earrings, pins, pieces of glass and gravel.

Q. What is vitamin F?—Mrs. C.

A. "Vitamin F" is a term formerly used for certain essential fatty acids. It is no longer employed in scientific writings.

Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N.Y. 10 N.Y., will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Rebuttal By A TV Man

John Crosby is on vacation. While he is away his column will be written by guests.

By ROBERT W. SARNOFF
Chairman, NBC

Possibly in deference to broadcasting's "equal-time" tradition, John Crosby generously has offered me equal space to discuss a recent column of his on my keynote address at this year's convention of the National Association of Broadcasters.

I am grateful for the opportunity to confirm what his column suggested: that he and I are in fundamental disagreement over the character of the national television audience.

"I have yet," wrote Mr. Crosby, "to run down that 'mass audience' who sit there lapping up 'The Price Is Right' and screeching for more of same. I think people accept 'The Price Is Right' with varying degrees of indifference."

-:-

IN MY OPINION, the American television fan is not the passive and indifferent citizen that Mr. Crosby suggests. I believe that watching television normally involves a conscious act of selection, and that no program ever maintains a large audience through indifference.

Surely it is stretching to attribute the success of "The Price Is Right" to viewer indifference. Is it indifference when as many as a million Americans a week mail in postcards to that single show? No more so, I believe, than when readers in droves enter the Tangletown Puzzle contest of the New York Herald Tribune or similar circulation - building projects in other newspapers that carry Mr. Crosby's column.

Today, 81 per cent of American TV set owners can choose from at least four channels. With the daytime "The Price Is Right," for example, one of the competing network programs is "I Love Lucy" —reruns, true, but still a program that Mr. Crosby indicates is acceptable even to intellectuals.

BUT EVEN if Lucy reruns, or the programs on other channels, are not to the viewer's taste, does indifference still chain him to "The Price Is Right?"

Sociologists say we live in the midst of the richest variety of leisure-time activities in the history of mankind — and all of them compete with television. We can listen to the radio or the phonograph, go to a movie or a bowling alley, read "Dr. Zhivago" or the latest magazine, play bridge or study the stock market, practice putting or photography or scores of other hobbies — or read newspapers.

When tens of millions of people tune consistently to one television program, I believe they are making a deliberate selection over a vast array of alternatives.

The mass audience is anything but the faceless blob or the row of ciphers that the phrase suggests when it prompts Mr. Crosby to ask: "Hath not a mass eyes? Hath not a mass ears?"

Indeed it does — in fact, more eyes and ears than anyone else. It consists, after all, of the same people who make up perhaps the most selective and most vocal political electorate in the world. It is an articulate mass, quick to register like or dislike.

ON SOME happy day, I hope, Mr. Crosby will come forth and confess that when he criticizes broadcasters for much of their popular entertainment fare, he really means to criticize popular taste.

And there is no reason he should don sackcloth to do so. The fact that his own preferences often depart from popular taste in no sense makes him a less worthy critic.

The job facing the television industry, as I see it, is to attempt to reconcile more effectively the varying, and often contradictory, tastes of the national audience—including those of Mr. Crosby. And we must do so, not by abdicating under the whip of criticism our primary responsibility to majority tastes but by seeking areas where all tastes can be satisfied more effectively.

In my NAB speech at Chicago I suggested that the industry embark on a communications effort to seek, from all groups, a clearer understanding of television's role in our society.

After only 11 years, television has become the first "total" mass medium. The questions surrounding its operation are many and complex, and they call for some clam reflection.

WHY SHOULD mass entertainment, per se, become a phrase of almost ill repute? How can we achieve a more effective program mix to satisfy both majority and minority desires?

Everybody I've met in this industry wants to find better answers to these questions. That was a primary purpose for the communications effort I proposed — not, as some of the more superficial observers of the medium have suggested, to "whitewash" our "mediocrity."

I hope this effort will produce a new two - way informational bridge between broadcasters and the public, including those groups who voice dissatisfaction with today's fare.

From it we hope to learn more of how all elements of the public feel about television. And, above all, we hope to obtain that knowledge within a framework of genuine public understanding of the task we try to perform.

If it comes to us within that framework, we feel it will be enormously helpful in shaping television's future.

Husband, Wife Same Rank In Air Force

MAGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. (AP)—It looks as though one husband and wife team will always have trouble deciding who's boss.

Last September, David F. Peterson was promoted to senior master sergeant.

Recently, his wife, Grace, was promoted to the same new enlisted grade. They are the first senior top-kick team in the Air Force.

Kresge Cited On Sales Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Board of Tax Appeals says the S. S. Kresge Co. owes the state $396,579 in sales taxes.

The board Thursday unanimously upheld a decision by Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers. It's considered likely that Kresge will appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court.

A 15 per cent penalty—Amounting to $57,487—will be tacked on if Kresge fails to pay within 30 days after final disposition of the case. That would increase the total to $456,066.

This is the largest tax assessment in Ohio's history. The Kresge chain has 83 stores in Ohio and 631 nationally. Thirty-six are involved in this case.

The proceedings began with an audit of some of the firm's books in 1956. It was a periodic spot check made by the state tax commissioner to insure that businesses are paying their sales taxes.

But the tax commissioner said records were insufficient for the 1952-55 sales by Kresge which were subject to the 3 per cent Ohio sales tax. The records showed, Bowers said, that the 36 Kresge stores did not buy enough sales tax stamps between 1952-55.

The commissioner said the firm owed $396,579. Kresge asked for a reassessment. On Feb. 21, 1958 the assessment was reaffirmed and Kresge appealed to the Tax Board.

New Increases Shown For County's Sales Tax

Another increase was shown in Columbiana County sales tax collections in the week ending May 9, compared with the same week in 1958, State Treasurer Joseph Ferguson reported today at Columbus.

The collections hit $37,104, up $6,326 from the $30,778 shown in the same week of last year, Ferguson said.

The tax income stands at $1,554,551 since the start of the fiscal year July 1, down $42,769 from the $1,597,320 recorded in the similar period of the preceding fiscal year.

On a statewide basis, the collections for the week ending May 9 were up 15.5 per cent from the same week of 1958. In the cumulative total for the two fiscal years, 1959 is running 1.2 per cent ahead.

Waterford Pupils Win Area Field Day Event

LISBON — Fairfield-Waterford School won first place in the annual Columbiana County school Field Day held Wednesday at the County Fairgrounds for seventh and eighth grade pupils in the county system.

Fairfield-Waterford posted 73 points to win the top trophy. Beaver Local was second with 45 points, and United Local was third in the competitions in which nine schools took part.

Salvation Army Expects 75 For Board Banquet

Approximately 75 are expected at the annual civic banquet of the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army tonight at 6:30 at the First Church of Christ, a highlight of the observance of National Salvation Army Week. High School senior graduates of the corps will also be recognized, Maj. William Murtaugh, commander, said.

The principal address will be given by Dr. W. J. Smart of London, England, who has served as an exchange minister at the Irondale Methodist Church for several years. His subject will be "The World's Future Is In the Home."

Donald B. Baxter, chairman, will preside, and the invocation will be given by the Rev. Russell Owens, president of the East Liverpool Ministerial Association, a member of the board, and pastor of the Grace United Presbyterian Church in East End.

Senior-Capt. Albert Scott of Cleveland, financial secretary of the Northeast Ohio Division, representing headquarters, will present a certificate of organization and membership cards to members of the Advisory Board.

The annual report will be presented by Senior-Maj. Murtaugh.

Music will be provided by the Ceramic Corps Citadel Brass ensemble.

The Rev. James C. Gardner, secretary of the Association, a member of the board, and pastor of the Orchard Grove Community Methodist Church, will give the benediction.

86 Students At Lisbon Wait Gettysburg Tour

LISBON — Eighty-six American history students at David Anderson High School will make a field trip this weekend to study the battle of Gettysburg at the scene.

The students will leave tonight and will arrive at Gettysburg at 7 a. m. Saturday. They will visit the battlefield museum, cyclorama and national cemetery. They will stay Saturday night at a motel on the battlefield and return home Sunday.

The students will be accompanied by their instructor, Edwin Bucher, and three other teachers. School busses will be used for the trip.

$13,907 Given To Fund Drive

A total of $13,907.47 has been collected to date for the Columbiana County Cancer Fund drive, according to Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine, county campaign chairman.

The amount is more than $1,000 above the collection last year.

A breakdown of county collections shows:

East Liverpool, $5,524; Wellsville, $1,213; Salem, $4,036; Lisbon $1,249; East Palestine, $1,391; Leetonia, $171; New Waterford, $119; Kensington, $96; Clarkson, $10.49, and granges, $94. Salineville-Columbiana and Knox Township made no reports at the report meeting held at Wick Hotel Wednesday noon.

C. M. Brownfield, 87, was the oldest canvasser. He collected $26.80 from West Point and vicinity. It was added to the Lisbon total.

Scholarship Awarded At Palestine Assembly

EAST PALESTINE — A four-year scholarship to Youngstown University was awarded to John Sinsley in the annual senior honors program held Wednesday at East Palestine High School.

The L. W. Nash Co. engineering scholarship for Sinsley, son of Mrs. Lee Affolter of Columbiana R. D. 2, includes tuition and all fees. The scholarship was established in 1956, and was presented by T. W. Nash, vice president of the firm.

Harold Black received the Kyes award, a $100 scholarship to any accredited college offered by Roger M. Kyes.

Arthur Herriott received the Leader Press trophy for a senior football team member who achieves a high scholastic standing, and the Rotary Club $100 college scholarship.

Other awards were presented to band members, basketball players and Road-E-O and mathematics contest winners.

Tourist Obliged

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Lee Ferguson asked a tourist if she could photograph him in front of a building in this restored colonial capital. He obliged and she promised him a print "if the shot was good." It was and she sent two prints, asking that one be autographed and returned. It was, along with a gracious letter from Arturo Frondizi, president of Argentina.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Filmy Plastic Bags —A Warning

- Plastic Bags
- Growing Pains
- Buttons and Bows
- Vitamin F

Q. What makes thin plastic, such as that used for dry cleaning bags, stick to the skin?

A. The plastic becomes electrified and is attracted to objects which have an opposite charge just as steel is attracted to a magnet. This can be very dangerous. At least four children have suffocated in the filmy dry cleaning bags. Medical alerts are being issued on the containers. Static electricity in the bags cause them to cling to the victim's face and cut off breathing. Of the four known victims, three were 2 years old and the other 4. Medical societies and health departments are notifying people of the danger.

Small children should not be allowed to play with the plastic bags.

Q. What causes growing pains in children? Does the condition indicate rheumatic fever?

A. In most cases the cause of pain in children's legs occuring at night is unknown. Rheumatic fever is rarely the cause. There seems to be no reason to call them "growing pains" except that they occur during childhood.

Q. You sometimes hear of people who have swallowed a variety of objects such as spoons, buttons, etc. Are there any authentic medical reports of such cases?

A. Deliberate swallowing of foreign bodies is not so rare among mentally ill persons. A New York doctor recently operated on a 43-year-old woman and removed 393 objects from the stomach. Their combined weight was three pounds, seven ounces. They included 78 spoon handles, several bolts and many nuts, screws, nails, hairpins, a religious medal with chain, several beads, earrings, pins, pieces of glass and gravel.

Q. What is vitamin F?—Mrs. C.

A. "Vitamin F" is a term formerly used for certain essential fatty acids. It is no longer employed in scientific writings.

Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N.Y. 10 N.Y., will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Gas Rate Hike Due In Beaver

Some 250,000 consumers in 13 Western Pennsylvania counties, including Beaver, will pay higher gas bills due to an increase of $995,815 allowed on a rate boost of $2,837,000 to the Peoples Gas Co. of Pittsburgh by the state Public Utility Commission.

The increase is retroactive to last Friday and was made to offset increased prices of wholesale suppliers.

The commission allowed the increase with the understanding that utility will refund any part if scaled down later by a Federal Power Commission ruling.

The Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. and the Hope Natural Gas Co. raised their supply prices. Peoples is also asking an additional $1,841,185 rate increase to meet other higher costs other than for whole gas.

Hearings for the remainder of the proposed increase are planned soon. The original boost was scheduled to go into effect last Jan. 27 until suspended for PUC investigation.

2 Levies Get Ballot OK

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The Lake County Board of Elections has approved the placing of two levies on the November ballot. The first, 1.1 mills for one year, would provide $245,000 for construction of a juvenile detention home and expansion of the county jail. The other is renewal of Willowick's two-mill operating levy. The levy, to last five years, would return $75,000 annually.

Wellsville Ministerial Group Plans Outdoor Union Services

Plans for a series of four outdoor union summer services were outlined at a meeting of the Wellsville Ministerial Association Wednesday night at the home of the Rev. Bruce Davis. All will be on Sunday nights.

Under the schedule adopted, two of the services will be at rural churches and the others at city churches. The first will be June 7 at the Central Methodist Church with the Rev. George Marsteller of the Evangelical United Brethren Church as guest speaker.

The Rev. Philip Fletcher of the First Presbyterian Church will preach at the second June 14 at the Oak Ridge Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. James Lassister of Lee's Chapel of the African Methodist Episcopal Church will preach at the service June 21 at the Second Presbyterian Church.

The newly called pastor of the First Methodist Church, the Rev. Arden E. Beck, will preach at the session June 28 at the Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church.

Host pastors will plan the program except for the message. Other pastors will be asked to participate and may be asked for help from their choirs for special music, according to the Rev. Richard Beidler, president.

A free will offering will be taken at each service for work of the association. The meetings will be held outdoors when possible.

Attending the session were the Rev. E. E. Bacon, Rev. Marsteller, the Rev. William Hewitt, Rev. Beidler and Rev. Davis. Also present were Leo L. Sayre and Edgar Brennan, church laymen.

Police Chief, Wife And Son Missing In Gang Probe Town

OWEGO, N.Y. (AP) — Police Chief Howard Branning, his wife and their young son are missing from this Tioga County seat, a center for much of the investigation of the notorious Apalachin gangland conclave.

Branning, 39, has not been seen since Monday. His wife and son John left their home by automobile Thursday.

"I don't know where the chief is," Mayor John Day said. "He certainly is missing."

On Monday, two auditors from the state comptroller's office began checking records of the Owego Police Department. The auditors would tell newsmen only that they had been ordered to examine village records.

Police said Branning and a patrolman left here Monday morning to drive a new police patrol car to an Endicott garage for a checkup. The patrolman reported that the chief left the garage and said he would get another ride back to Owego. The distance is 13 miles.

His wife told a reporter she had no idea where he was.

Neighbors said Mrs. Branning, her son and a woman whom they did not know left the Branning home about midmorning. They took luggage with them, the neighbors said.

Divorce Action Puts Man's Ark On Legal Snag

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Charlie Poliquin's 33-ton ark was held fast on a legal snag today after slowly but successfully maneuvering sandbars, shallow water, rapids and sharp bends of the Minnesota River in the first five miles of his projected voyage to South America.

"Guess I'll just have to sell, or start dismantling it," said the man who sold his farm last year to finance the trip. "That divorce action just knocks the bottom out of things."

Poliquin's pregnant 22-year-old wife, who filed the complaint, won custody Thursday of their 2-year-old daughter and $20 per week support money.

"You put this idea of a South American trip ahead of your marriage," Judge Theodore Knudson told Poliquin, who appeared without an attorney.

"Can you imagine — he wanted me and the baby to go along and that just didn't make any sense," said the brunette Mrs. Poliquin.

She left her husband in March and got a secretarial job in Minneapolis. That was shortly before Charlie started edging the 70-foot, aluminum-sheathed houseboat down the winding Minnesota from his Mankato home.

The Fortunes Of War Prove To Be Fickle

BAYONNE, N.J. (AP) — The fortunes of war are fickle.

The escort carrier Guadalcanal was towed a few miles upstream Thursday from the naval base here to be scrapped. She is listed in Navy records as the only American vessel to capture an enemy submarine on the high seas during World War II.

The submarine she captured—a German U-boat — has been preserved as a museum attraction in Chicago.

X15 In 4th Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif (AP)—The X15 rocket plane made its fourth flight suspended under a B52 bomber Thursday. The Air Force said "all went well." The rocket ship is intended to carry a pilot to an unprecedented 100-mile altitude at more than 4,000 miles an hour.

Memorial Day Awaited

Area Parks Prepare For Opening

Tri-State District parks are just about ready for another summer season, with all but one due to open Memorial Day. Some are already in use for picnic outings but they go into high gear with the approaching holiday. Lake Marwin will open Saturday.

The municipal swimming pool in Thompson Park will be ready on Memorial Day, William Bell, manager, said today.

THE POOL WILL BE open daily from 1:30 to 9:30 p. m. and the prices remain the same as last year — 40 cents for adults, 30 cents for those from 12 to 21, and 20 cents for children under 12.

Lance Manypenny of Ridgeway Ave. will be the lifeguard with two to be hired later, Bell said.

Erla Kidd of Louise St. will be the cashier while Donald Duke, city chemist, will conduct the water tests. Laverna Kraft of Center St. will be the first aid attendant.

Becky Hall of Michigan Ave. and Arlene Thomas of W. 6th St. will be in charge of the girls' lockerroom with David Buzzard of St. Clair Ave. and Ronald McAtee of St. George St. handling the boys' lockerroom.

Gene Gilbert of Boyd St. will be the night watchman.

Bell said the pool has been repainted, repairs made to the bathhouses and canopies erected over two doors. The refreshment stand also has been repainted.

THE WORK IN THE park proper, which already is open for picnics, included painting some 72 picnic tables and erecting the charcoal ovens, Bell said. All pavilions are ready.

The season will open tomorrow at 8 a. m. for boating and fishing at Lake Marwin on Radio Heights while swimming will begin at 1 p. m. The park then will be open daily from 8 a. m. to dark with swimming each afternoon at 1.

ANOTHER SEASON'S NIGH. Supt. George Armstrong inspects rowboats in readiness for the opening of Raccoon Creek State Park, Pennsylvania's big recreation center off Route 30 some 15 miles east of this city. The 7,600-acre park with 25 miles of roads now has 25 boats on the lake and will add 13.

The lake this year boasts a new trampoline diving board and water bicycles. There are separate pools for adults and children. Aside from the lake there also are facilities for picnics. The ELHS Band Mothers will operate the pool concession stand.

A fireworks display will highlight the Memorial Day program at Rock Springs Park, Chester, officially launching its summer season.

The park will open at noon Saturday, May 30, and the fireworks will be staged at 10:30 p. m. Robert Hand, manager, said. Dances will start June 7.

THE PARK HAS 16 amusement rides, including a new streetcar ride for youngsters, and Virginia Gardens, a dance pavilion in which a large fountain has been installed in the center of the dance floor.

Better boating facilities and a number of other improvements await the first vacationing groups this year at 1,353 - acre Tomlinson Run State Park on Route 2 near Pughtown.

The picnic season has been in full swing since late April but the swimming pool and boat rental will not open until Memorial Day, N. T. Holbrook, park supervisor, said.

Holbrook said a new boat dock will be completed by May 30 for rental of boats for fishing or rowing. The Hancock County recreational spot has 13 boats.

Tomlinson Run's V-shaped lake covers 28 acres and has been stocked by the Hancock County Fishermen's Club.

—:—

THE NEW swimming pool located within sight of Route 2 has been cleaned recently but is painted only every other year, Holbrook reported. Some 34,000 persons used the pool last year.

Other improvements include new toilet facilities, both at the lake area and at the upper shelter area overlooking the park.

Holbrook said he expects at least 200,000 persons to use the park this year, if the weather is favorable.

Bert Evans and Dave Wilson will be lifeguards, with another to be employed later in the season. Mrs. Betty Pearl is cashier and Carol Holbrook is bathhouse attendant. Lucille Miller is in charge of the concession stand at the pool.

HOLBROOK, who has had experience at four other state parks, is beginning his sixth year as supervisor at Tomlinson Run.

George Armstrong, new superintendent of Raccoon Creek State Park, said swimming in the lake will be open Memorial Day.

A beach director and five lifeguards will be on hand. The park offers picnicking the year round, tenting and trailer camping areas opened April 15 and boating on weekends started about May 15.

The park is located 15 miles east of East Liverpool off Route 30.

—:—

ARMSTRONG SAID THAT the main park roads connecting Routes 18 and 30 are being repaired and mud slips removed. He said he is working on a new drinking water supply for the boat area. The road to the family picnic area was paved last fall.

Trout has been stocked in fishing streams and the lake with blue gills and crappies about two weeks ago.

The park employes some 10 persons now and will increase the staff to about 20 on June 1.

Large crowds at the park on holidays have numbered 35,000 and 40,000, he said. The main picnicking acreage has a blacktopped parking area for 1,000 cars. There are about 900 picnic tables and 150 charcoal burning stoves.

Armstrong said that picknickers should bring their own fuel, including wood. Charcoal will be sold at the concession stand. The park formerly supplied wood but discontinued it due to the expense.

Armstrong was transferred to the park from Cowan's Gap State Park in Fulton County where he was superintendent two years. He was superintendent at the Cook Forest State Park in Clarion County in 1953. He began in 1949 at the Ole Bull State Park in Potter County.

AT EAST Palestine's City Park, the swimming pool will officially open for the season next Saturday at 10 a. m., but the annual "Free Day" — in which no admission is charged — will be held Friday afternoon.

A new concession stand is under construction at the pool, and a new sun bathing area has been added, according to Thomas Quilter, park director.

Lisbon Memorial Pool Prepared For Opening

LISBON — The Sadie VanFossan Memorial Swimming Pool will open for the season Saturday, May 30, at 1 p. m., according to Thomas Washam, manager.

Dennie Reese, a senior, and Tom Brooks, a junior at David Anderson High School have been hired as life guards by the pool commission. Both hold senior life guard certificates.

The pool will be open daily from 1 to 9 p. m. and Washam will also conduct swimming lessons for children and adults during the summer.

Painting and cleaning of the pool is progressing and everything should be in readiness for the opening day, the commission said.

Mrs. Joyce Rose Tops Exam For City Position

Mrs. Joyce L. Rose, 817 St. Clair Ave., who holds the post at present under a provisional appointment, scored the top grade in a field of seven when the Municipal Civil Service Commission conducted a test Wednesday night to fill the job of assistant clerk-stenographer in the sewage treatment department.

Names of three top contestants were certified by the commission to Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross, who will make the appointment. Mrs. Rose scored 94. Others on the certified list were: Mrs. Wanda L. Greenwood, 1866 Idaho Ave., who scored 91.5, and Mrs. Helen E. Duncan, 575 Williams Ave., whose grade was 86.5.

The job pays $245 monthly. The employe works in the city water department office, as water and sewage service charges are billed jointly. Six scored passing grades in the test, held in the Ohio Valley Business College.

There are approximately 200 American oil companies exploring in 30 foreign countries for possible new oil fields.

Report On Survey Cites Community, Church Demands

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Many parents belonging to the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. feel that the demands of church and community tend to separate family members too much.

This was brought out in a preliminary report on a survey conducted by the Board of Christian Education of the church, issued Thursday at the 171st General Assembly of United Presbyterians.

Some of the report's preliminary conclusions included:

Families in rural, urban and suburban areas alike complained that community and church activities scatter family members too much. Mentioned were baseball leagues for youngsters, church choirs, school clubs, PTAs, scouts, 4-H clubs and other "youth-serving agencies . . . which contribute to the rush and confusion that aroused our parents."

It added that "awkward scheduling . . . makes Sunday for some families the busiest and tensest day of all the week," and concluded that "the church itself needs to re-examine what it expects of families."

County Nurses' Group Returns Mrs. Peterson

LISBON — Mrs. Violet Peterson, county health nurse, was re-elected chairman of the Columbiana County School and Public Health Nurses at a meeting Wednesday afternoon in the County Health Department offices.

Council President B. E. Warner of East Liverpool, past president of Columbiana County Retarded Children's Society, was guest speaker. He discussed the early organization of the society and its function today. There are two classes for retarded children in the county at present, one at East Liverpool and one at Salem. He said statistics show that 3 per cent of the population of the United States is retarded to some degree and that in Columbiana County there are approximately 300 retarded persons.

Twelve nurses attended. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Wednesday, Sept. 23.

Canton Man Forfeits

LISBON — Harold E. Farley, 43, of Canton forfeited a $25 bond in Mayor John Todd's court Wednesday when he failed to appear for a scheduled hearing on a charge of driving an over-length vehicle. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol.

FTC Cites Firestone On 'Price Favoring'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission today ruled that the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. of Akron, Ohio, has given illegal price concessions to favored customers. It ordered Firestone to stop the practice.

The FTC adopted the initial decision by examiner Joseph Callaway. The examiner held that Firestone had classified less than 50 of its 12,000 dealers as "warehouse dealers" and granted them price benefits not made available to their competitors.

The FTC said this might lessen competition between the dealers and violate antitrust laws.

The first steels containing three alloying elements, nickel, chromium and molybdenum, were introduced during World War I.

Memorial Day Awaited

Area Parks Prepare For Opening

ANOTHER SEASON'S NIGH. Supt. George Armstrong inspects rowboats in readiness for the opening of Raccoon Creek State Park, Pennsylvania's big recreation center off Route 30 some 15 miles east of this city. The 7,600-acre park with 25 miles of roads now has 25 boats on the lake and will add 13.

Tri-State District parks are just about ready for another summer season, with all but one due to open Memorial Day. Some are already in use for picnic outings but they go into high gear with the approaching holiday. Lake Marwin will open Saturday.

The municipal swimming pool in Thompson Park will be ready on Memorial Day, William Bell, manager, said today.

THE POOL WILL BE open daily from 1:30 to 9:30 p. m. and the prices remain the same as last year — 40 cents for adults, 30 cents for those from 12 to 21, and 20 cents for children under 12.

Lance Manypenny of Ridgeway Ave. will be the lifeguard with two to be hired later, Bell said.

Erla Kidd of Louise St. will be the cashier while Donald Duke, city chemist, will conduct the water tests. Laverna Kraft of Center St. will be the first aid attendant.

Becky Hall of Michigan Ave. and Arlene Thomas of W. 6th St. will be in charge of the girls' lockerroom with David Buzzard of St. Clair Ave. and Ronald McAtee of St. George St. handling the boys' lockerroom.

Gene Gilbert of Boyd St. will be the night watchman.

Bell said the pool has been repainted, repairs made to the bathhouses and canopies erected over two doors. The refreshment stand also has been repainted.

THE WORK IN THE park proper, which already is open for picnics, included painting some 72 picnic tables and erecting the charcoal ovens, Bell said. All pavilions are ready.

The season will open tomorrow at 8 a. m. for boating and fishing at Lake Marwin on Radio Heights while swimming will begin at 1 p. m. The park then will be open daily from 8 a. m. to dark with swimming each afternoon at 1.

The lake this year boasts a new trampoline diving board and water bicycles. There are separate pools for adults and children. Aside from the lake there also are facilities for picnics. The ELHS Band Mothers will operate the pool concession stand.

A fireworks display will highlight the Memorial Day program at Rock Springs Park, Chester, officially launching its summer season.

The park will open at noon Saturday, May 30, and the fireworks will be staged at 10:30 p. m. Robert Hand, manager, said. Dances will start June 7.

THE PARK HAS 16 amusement rides, including a new streetcar ride for youngsters, and Virginia Gardens, a dance pavilion in which a large fountain has been installed in the center of the dance floor.

Better boating facilities and a number of other improvements await the first vacationing groups this year at 1,353 - acre Tomlinson Run State Park on Route 2 near Pughtown.

The picnic season has been in full swing since late April but the swimming pool and boat rental will not open until Memorial Day, N. T. Holbrook, park supervisor, said.

Holbrook said a new boat dock will be completed by May 30 for rental of boats for fishing or rowing. The Hancock County recreational spot has 13 boats.

Tomlinson Run's V-shaped lake covers 28 acres and has been stocked by the Hancock County Fishermen's Club.

THE NEW swimming pool located within sight of Route 2 has been cleaned recently but is painted only every other year, Holbrook reported. Some 34,000 persons used the pool last year.

Other improvements include new toilet facilities, both at the lake area and at the upper shelter area overlooking the park.

Holbrook said he expects at least 200,000 persons to use the park this year, if the weather is favorable.

Bert Evans and Dave Wilson will be lifeguards, with another to be employed later in the season. Mrs. Betty Pearl is cashier and Carol Holbrook is bathhouse attendant. Lucille Miller is in charge of the concession stand at the pool.

HOLBROOK, who has had experience at four other state parks, is beginning his sixth year as supervisor at Tomlinson Run.

George Armstrong, new superintendent of Raccoon Creek State Park, said swimming in the lake will be open Memorial Day.

A beach director and five lifeguards will be on hand. The park offers picnicking the year round, tenting and trailer camping areas opened April 15 and boating on weekends started about May 15.

The park is located 15 miles east of East Liverpool off Route 30.

ARMSTRONG SAID THAT the main park roads connecting Routes 18 and 30 are being repaired and mud slips removed. He said he is working on a new drinking water supply for the boat area. The road to the family picnic area was paved last fall.

Trout has been stocked in fishing streams and the lake with blue gilis and crappies about two weeks ago.

The park employes some 10 persons now and will increase the staff to about 20 on June 1.

Large crowds at the park on holidays have numbered 35,000 and 40,000, he said. The main picnicking acreage has a blacktopped parking area for 1,000 cars. There are about 900 picnic tables and 150 charcoal burning stoves.

Armstrong said that picknickers should bring their own fuel, including wood. Charcoal will be sold at the concession stand. The park formerly supplied wood but discontinued it due to the expense.

Armstrong was transferred to the park from Cowan's Gap State Park in Fulton County where he was superintendent two years. He was superintendent at the Cook Forest State Park in Clarion County in 1953. He began in 1949 at the Ole Bull State Park in Potter County.

AT EAST Palestine's City Park, the swimming pool will officially open for the season next Saturday at 10 a. m., but the annual "Free Day" — in which no admission is charged — will be held Friday afternoon.

A new concession stand is under construction at the pool, and a new sun bathing area has been added, according to Thomas Quilter, park director.

Lisbon Memorial Pool Prepared For Opening

LISBON — The Sadie VanFossan Memorial Swimming Pool will open for the season Saturday, May 30, at 1 p. m., according to Thomas Washam, manager.

Dennie Reese, a senior, and Tom Brooks, a junior at David Anderson High School have been hired as life guards by the pool commission. Both hold senior life guard certificates.

The pool will be open daily from 1 to 9 p. m. and Washam will also conduct swimming lessons for children and adults during the summer.

Painting and cleaning of the pool is progressing and everything should be in readiness for the opening day, the commission said.

Murtaugh Shuffles Lineup For 7-2 Victory

The Review Sports

FRIDAY, MAY 22, 1959 EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW PAGE 18

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Harris Starred In Grade Schol . . .

It must have been with a great deal of satisfaction that Sam Brown, postmaster and a member of the Board of Education, made the formal motion for the appointment of Jim Harris as high school basketball coach Monday night.

Brown recalled that he was Jim's first coach in grade school.

Sam was coaching 6th St. in the Grade School League at the time and first saw Harris, then a fifth-grader, shooting baskets and invited him out for the team.

During the next two years, the team won the league championship, chiefly because of Harris' ability. "It gives me extreme pleasure to make the motion," Brown said.

Brown's sentiments seem to set the pattern around East Liverpool. Basketball fans have had a week now to "kick" the appointment around and all feel confident that Jim can do the job.

Jim will be in town Saturday for two reasons. He is looking for a house to rent and he will meet with the boys who will be coming out for basketball next season.

Harris returns to his home town highly recommended after four successful years of coaching behind him.

It didn't take him long to become popular in Pettisville, where he began his coaching career. The Toledo area school hadn't won much of anything until Harris appeared on the scene and immediately led them to two county championships.

He also laid the groundwork for his successor — Dencil Miller — another East Liverpool boy, who took over the reigns at Pettisville and chalked up two more county titles and last year had one of the best records in the school's history.

Feeling he was ready for a step up, Jim jumped into Class AA ball at Warrensville High School two years ago.

The 32-year-old mentor took one season to feel his way around and finished with a 10-10 record.

His team must have benefitted, because last year Warrensville chalked up one of its best records in basketball with a 15-5 mark.

In tournament play, Jim's team won its first game but clashed with the "giants" from East Tech in its second and were knocked from the running.

As a parting note, some type of a dinner or get-together during the summer, welcoming Harris back to town, probably would go over in a big way.

Wade Announces Top Races . . .

HORACE WADE dropped in the other day and promised the finest meeting yet at Waterford Park this summer.

Since Wade took over the mile oval a year ago he has been attempting to bring in the top horses and jockeys. He admitted that Waterford "tried to change overnight" but it just couldn't be done in one season.

Called "racing's man in motion," Wade is constantly working toward improvements. He indicated several months ago that more time would be spent at Waterford Park after resinging as secretary of Gulfstream Park in Florida.

Wade has an interest in Waterford Park and the Latonia (Ky.) race course.

Wade said that Waterford Park will offer 20 major feature races during the June 17-Aug. 8 meeting.

Richest race on the summer program is the $5,000 Independence Day Handicap for 3-year-olds and up over a mile and one-eighth, on July 4.

Wade again will have 14 races on the July 4 program which attracted more than 5,000 fans last year.

The $2,000 Waterford Park Handicap at six-furlongs will be the opening day feature, with the $3,000 Waterford Mile Handicap headlining the racing on the first Saturday, June 20.

A new race has been inaugurated this year in the Boyle Memorial — worth $3,000 — in memory of the late owner of Waterford Park.

Carlyle Johnson, who serves as a steward at Waterford, has arrived at the track and opened his offices. Johnson served at Gulfstream Park during the winter.

From Football To Lacrosse . . .

IT WASN'T surprising when Jay Hunton, son of the Rev. and Mrs. James Hunton of Jennings Ave., was awarded a lacrosse trophy as the "most improved" member of the Rutgers College squad.

Hunton, whose father is pastor at the First Church of the Nazarene, didn't play lacross until this year, but progressed so quickly that he earned a spot on the midfield unit.

The reason we say it wasn't surprising that young Hunton should pick up the sport so fast is that he was an all-city choice in football for two years running in Cleveland, where he performed for Shaw High School.

He was an all-around athlete at Shaw. East Liverpool missed out on his talents since he moved here with his family after graduating from high school.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

ONE OF golfing's rarities—the hole - in - one—now has happened twice to Frank Dawson Sr.

His second ace came on No. 6 hole at the East Liverpool Country Club Wednesday. Dawson used an eight - iron on the par 3 145-yard hole.

His first hole - in - one came in August 1952 when he aced the No. 4 hole at the Country Club.

Dawson said of his latest achievement: "The ball took one hop and dropped into the cup."

—:—

WHEELING DOWNS recorded one of its lowest daily double payoffs in history Monday when a 4-4 combination returned only $8 for a $2 ticket.

Compare that with Ohio's highest double return of $4,212 posted several years ago by Miss Bab and Judith G at the Fort Miami track, now Maumee Downs.

Jaycee Junior Golf Play Scheduled Here June 29

Plans for the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Junior Golf tournament for high school youths were announced today by Robert Hoover, chairman.

The event will be conducted June 29 at the Country Club. A practice session for those who enter will be held June 22 at the club.

The Jaycee program is being conducted in cooperation with the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. The committee in charge is working with Leonard C. Webber, president of the local plant.

All boys who will not have reached their 18th birthday by Aug. 15 are eligible to compete, Hoover said. Applications may be obtained at the Country Club, from Litten Motors, at Tom Osborn's barbershop or from Hoover at 420 E. 5th St.

This will be the 14th international tourney. Last year more than 17,000 teenagers representing 950 communities participated. The program, will conclude with the international finals at Portsmouth, Va.'s Elizabeth Manor course Aug. 22-29.

The local winner will be sent to the state contest, Hoover said.

'Learn To Swim' Lessons Begin Next Week At Local YMCA

Beginning Tuesday at 8 p. m. the first of five lessons of swimming instructions will be offered at the YMCA for men who do not know how to swim.

The lessons will be free to any male in the area who wishes to learn how to swim.

All applicants must attend all five sessions which will be held May 26 and 28 and June 1, 4 and 9. If the response is good additional classes will be arranged at 45-minute intervals.

The lessons will be under the direction of Carl A. (Pop) Werner, general secretary of the YMCA.

Registration may be made at the YMCA any time prior to the opening of the first lesson or on Tuesday before class time.

Werner said last year the YMCA in the United States gave swimming instructions to over half a million people. The YMCA owns and operates more than 630 swimming pools throughout the United States.

During the past winter 235 people passed their beginners swimming test in the East Liverpool YMCA pool and within the next three weeks learn to swim instructions will be offered to men, women and children.

Archers At Cumberland

A 56-target field round will be held at the Wyandot Archery Club at New Cumberland Sunday at 1 p. m. Registration will begin at noon.

Phillies End Losing Streak Against Cubs

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh might be wondering why he didn't speak up sooner. His lecture on curfew and all didn't sink in until he shuffled the lineup, but then his sixth-place Pirates got the idea.

Thursday night they put aside a slump that had draped them with four defeats in five games and scored a 12-hit, errorless 7-2 victory at St. Louis.

Murtaugh, who reminded his Bucs of the club's 2 a.m. curfew after they lost the Tuesday opener at St. Louis, shook up the lineup after they were whipped again Wednesday. He replaced shortstop Dick Groat with Dick Schofield and made Rocky Nelson his first baseman in place of the alternating Ted Kluszewski and Dick Stuart.

The worst skid of the year came to an end in the only other National League game scheduled when the Philadelphia Phillies, who had lost eight in a row, won 3-0 at Chicago behind Ruben Gomez's four-hit pitching.

The Pirates ripped into Cardinal right-hander Lindy McDaniel (2-5) for three runs in the first inning, then scored three in the third against reliever Ernie Broglio. Southpaw Harvey Haddix (3-2) was the winner.

Gomez and Cub rookie Bob Anderson had a shutout duel going until the eighth. Then the Phils, who had managed just two hits, scored twice on singles by Willie Jones and Gomez, a double by Sparky Anderson and sacrifice flies by Jim Hegan and Richie Ashburn.

Jim Harris Will Meet With Cage Prospects

All boys interested in trying out for basketball next season at East Liverpool High School are requested to attend a meeting Saturday at 1 p. m. at the high school when the new Potter cage mentor, Jim Harris, will meet with all prospects.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Ruben Gomez, Phillies, helped crack Philadelphia's losing streak at eight with a four-hit shutout that beat the Cubs 3-0.

Hitting — Don Hoak, Pirates, drove in two runs with a pair of singles and scored a third after doubling for his third hit in 7-2 victory over the Cardinals.

Bell To Hurl Against Tigers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Back home and still in first place, the Cleveland Indians send Gary Bell (3-2) to the mound tonight to try to cool off Detroit's torrid Tigers.

The Tigers, still glowing over the rare feat of dumping the New York Yankees to the depths of the American League, will bid to knock the Indians from their half game grip over the streaking Chicago White Sox.

Cleveland has beaten Detroit five times without a loss this season, but those triumphs all came before Jimmy Dykes replaced Bill Norman as manager. Since then the Tigers have won 11 of 16 games and climbed to seventh place.

Bell's opponent will be Paul Foytack (1-5), beaten once this season by the Tribe. Manager Joe Gordon plans no lineup changes from the crew that whipped Washington twice to wind up a road trip which produced seven triumphs in a dozen games.

That means Ray Webster will be at second base instead of Billy Martin; Granny Hamner at shortstop for the injured George Strickland, and Hal Naragon catching in place of Russ Nixon, who is in a bad hitting slump.

The Indians play the Tigers in an afternoon game Saturday and wind up with a Sunday double header. Cal McLish, Herb Score and Mike Garcia will pitch in those three games. Then Cleveland goes to Chicago for a two game set with the White Sox.

Third Major League Gets Approval From Top Heads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Baseball's major leagues have opened the gate for the formation of a third loop with major league status.

Operating heads of the 16 National and American League clubs agreed unanimously Thursday "to favorably consider" applications for major league status by "an acceptable group of eight clubs which could qualify."

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick says his personal belief is that such a league is inevitable and that it certainly will come within five years.

An even more optimistic report came from William Shea of New York's Majors Committee on Baseball. He said: "We ought to be ready in four or five weeks to do something. The third major league should be in the formative stage by that time."

Frick's statement, at the windup of a hastily called meeting, said, "There is no existing plan to expand the present major leagues." By that he meant expansion of the National and American loops to 10 or 12 club organizations.

The statement from the club owners loosed a flood of speculation.

One was — How about ball players?

A third major league would need 200 players under the present player limit rule.

To that, Frick said, "The players will develop if you have the jobs for them."

He said there was no discussion in the meeting of player talent or a possible "share the player" plan with a new league.

Another question was — How about the cost and the effect on the minors?

One of the qualifications set up in the meeting Thursday was that the new league would be responsible for all territorial provisions and financial obligations necessary to set it up.

The best guess was that would cost many thousands of dollars to recompense the top minor leagues for cities taken from them. It undoubtedly would mean a wholesale realignment of the minors.

Among the cities which have been suggested as possible members of a new major league are New York, Buffalo, New Orleans, Dallas-Fort Worth, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Montreal, Seattle, Mexico City and Toronto.

The club owners set up 10 qualifications members of a new league would have to meet in order to "go major."

In addition to the territorial qualification, they would have to show proof of financial responsibility, have a park or a commitment for a park seating a minimum of 25,000, have a balanced 154-game schedule, adhere to the major league salary agreement with no maximum, accept the various major league agreements, agree to join the player pension plan to adopt a comparable plan, have a population in each city not less than the smallest city in the present major leagues.

Thomas Seen Big Worry At Plate For Cincinnati

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Frank Thomas, the strapping, 6-foot-3 Pittsburgh strong boy, is stationed on third base now for Cincinnati's Reds. It may not last.

He says, "As long as I play every day and get my four or five swings, I don't care where I play."

But it's beginning to look as if Thomas, rated a slugger but not performing as spectacularly as the Reds hoped, may get a rest.

On the Reds' current road trip, something less than a big success, Thomas has hit safely nine times in 52 tries. He has three homers this season and 19 runs batted in.

Thomas was apparently designed to hit the long ball offensively and patrol the outfield defensively.

When his former masters at Pittsburgh last year put him to work at third, his efficiency was not top notch but he did the best he could.

Thomas is normally placid, but his troubles at the plate seem to be knawing at him.

He was thrown out of the game at Los Angeles Monday night in the second inning because he squawked about a call on a pitch. He said it was only the fourth time he'd ever been ejected from a game.

Whatever the cause of his fade at the plate, he's a prime worry of manager Mayo Smith right now, as the manager tries to shake the Reds out of their current win-one, lose-one doldrums.

Bob Purkey, with a 4-4 record, is slated to pitch tonight, opposing Vern Law.

Mrs. Kelly Wins Feature In Golf At Country Club

Mrs. William R. Kelly won the 18-hole medal play in ladies golf at the East Liverpool Country Club Wednesday with a low gross of 52-43-95.

Second in the event was Mrs. R. E. Moninger who recorded a 50-46-96. Miss Pam Porter had low net of 106-36-70 and Mrs. E. R. Westfall had second low net of 107-28-79.

The putting title also went to Mrs. Kelly with 30 putts.

In the second division of nine-hole play, Mrs. J. N. Porter took low gross with a 52. Low net went to Mrs. R. J. Kinsey, 57-24-33. Mrs. D. E. Beatty had second low net with 59-25-34 and Mrs. Arthur Doak third low net of 61-25-36.

Mrs. W. A. Porter won the putting with 16 putts.

BOSTON (AP) —Bobby Avila, 1954 American League batting champion now sporting a meek .170 average, today is the property of the Boston Red Sox. General Manager Bucky Harris purchased Avila, 32, from Baltimore Thursday for an undisclosed amount to strengthen the infield reserves and the pinch-hitting corps.

Michigan Takes Lead In Big 10 Tennis Play

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Favored Michigan came through in form in early round play and held a six-point lead over runnerup Illinois today in the Big Ten tennis tournament at Michigan State University.

The Wolverines went undefeated in their first 1[illegible] matches Thursday and amassed 24 points to 18 for the Illini. Minnesota was third with 12 points, Iowa had 10, Ohio State 6, Michigan State 5, Wisconsin 4; and Northwestern 1. Purdue failed to score.

Second round doubles matches and advanced singles contests are scheduled today. The tournament ends Saturday.

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

Harris Starred In Grade Schol . . .

It must have been with a great deal of satisfaction that Sam Brown, postmaster and a member of the Board of Education, made the formal motion for the appointment of Jim Harris as high school basketball coach Monday night.

Brown recalled that he was Jim's first coach in grade school.

Sam was coaching 6th St. in the Grade School League at the time and first saw Harris, then a fifth-grader, shooting baskets and invited him out for the team.

During the next two years, the team won the league championship, chiefly because of Harris' ability. "It gives me extreme pleasure to make the motion," Brown said.

Brown's sentiments seem to set the pattern around East Liverpool. Basketball fans have had a week now to "kick" the appointment around and all feel confident that Jim can do the job.

Jim will be in town Saturday for two reasons. He is looking for a house to rent and he will meet with the boys who will be coming out for basketball next season.

Harris returns to his home town highly recommended after four successful years of coaching behind him.

It didn't take him long to become popular in Pettisville, where he began his coaching career. The Toledo area school hadn't won much of anything until Harris appeared on the scene and immediately led them to two county championships.

He also laid the groundwork for his successor — Dencil Miller — another East Liverpool boy, who took over the reigns at Pettisville and chalked up two more county titles and last year had one of the best records in the school's history.

Feeling he was ready for a step up, Jim jumped into Class AA ball at Warrensville High School two years ago.

The 32-year-old mentor took one season to feel his way around and finished with a 10-10 record.

His team must have benefitted, because last year Warrensville chalked up one of its best records in basketball with a 15-5 mark.

In tournament play, Jim's team won its first game but clashed with the "giants" from East Tech in its second and were knocked from the running.

As a parting note, some type of a dinner or get-together during the summer, welcoming Harris back to town, probably would go over in a big way.

Wade Announces Top Races . . .

HORACE WADE dropped in the other day and promised the finest meeting yet at Waterford Park this summer.

Since Wade took over the mile oval a year ago he has been attempting to bring in the top horses and jockeys. He admitted that Waterford "tried to change overnight" but it just couldn't be done in one season.

Called "racing's man in motion," Wade is constantly working toward improvements. He indicated several months ago that more time would be spent at Waterford Park after resinging as secretary of Gulfstream Park in Florida.

Wade has an interest in Waterford Park and the Latonia (Ky.) race course.

Wade said that Waterford Park will offer 20 major feature races during the June 17-Aug. 8 meeting.

Richest race on the summer program is the $5,000 Independence Day Handicap for 3-year-olds and up over a mile and one-eighth, on July 4.

Wade again will have 14 races on the July 4 program which attracted more than 5,000 fans last year.

The $2,000 Waterford Park Handicap at six-furlongs will be the opening day feature, with the $3,000 Waterford Mile Handicap headlining the racing on the first Saturday, June 20.

A new race has been inaugurated this year in the Boyle Memorial — worth $3,000 — in memory of the late owner of Waterford Park.

Carlyle Johnson, who serves as a steward at Waterford, has arrived at the track and opened his offices. Johnson served at Gulfstream Park during the winter.

From Football To Lacrosse . . .

IT WASN'T surprising when Jay Hunton, son of the Rev. and Mrs. James Hunton of Jennings Ave., was awarded a lacrosse trophy as the "most improved" member of the Rutgers College squad.

Hunton, whose father is pastor at the First Church of the Nazarene, didn't play lacross until this year, but progressed so quickly that he earned a spot on the midfield unit.

The reason we say it wasn't surprising that young Hunton should pick up the sport so fast is that he was an all-city choice in football for two years running in Cleveland, where he performed for Shaw High School.

He was an all-around athlete at Shaw. East Liverpool missed out on his talents since he moved here with his family after graduating from high school.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

ONE OF golfing's rarities—the hole - in - one—now has happened twice to Frank Dawson Sr.

His second ace came on No. 6 hole at the East Liverpool Country Club Wednesday. Dawson used an eight - iron on the par 3 145-yard hole.

His first hole - in - one came in August 1952 when he aced the No. 4 hole at the Country Club.

Dawson said of his latest achievement: "The ball took one hop and dropped into the cup."

—:—

WHEELING DOWNS recorded one of its lowest daily double payoffs in history Monday when a 4-4 combination returned only $8 for a $2 ticket.

Compare that with Ohio's highest double return of $4,212 posted several years ago by Miss Bab and Judith G at the Fort Miami track, now Maumee Downs.

Jaycee Junior Golf Play Scheduled Here June 29

Plans for the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Junior Golf tournament for high school youths were announced today by Robert Hoover, chairman.

The event will be conducted June 29 at the Country Club. A practice session for those who enter will be held June 22 at the club.

The Jaycee program is being conducted in cooperation with the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. The committee in charge is working with Leonard C. Webber, president of the local plant.

All boys who will not have reached their 18th birthday by Aug. 15 are eligible to compete, Hoover said. Applications may be obtained at the Country Club, from Litten Motors, at Tom Osborn's barbershop or from Hoover at 420 E. 5th St.

This will be the 14th international tourney. Last year more than 17,000 teenagers representing 950 communities participated. The program, will conclude with the international finals at Portsmouth, Va.'s Elizabeth Manor course Aug. 22-29.

The local winner will be sent to the state contest, Hoover said.

'Learn To Swim' Lessons Begin Next Week At Local YMCA

Beginning Tuesday at 8 p. m. the first of five lessons of swimming instructions will be offered at the YMCA for men who do not know how to swim.

The lessons will be free to any male in the area who wishes to learn how to swim.

All applicants must attend all five sessions which will be held May 26 and 28 and June 1, 4 and 9. If the response is good additional classes will be arranged at 45-minute intervals.

The lessons will be under the direction of Carl A. (Pop) Werner, general secretary of the YMCA.

Registration may be made at the YMCA any time prior to the opening of the first lesson or on Tuesday before class time.

Werner said last year the YMCA in the United States gave swimming instructions to over half a million people. The YMCA owns and operates more than 630 swimming pools throughout the United States.

During the past winter 235 people passed their beginners swimming test in the East Liverpool YMCA pool and within the next three weeks learn to swim instructions will be offered to men, women and children.

Phillies End Losing Streak Against Cubs

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh might be wondering why he didn't speak up sooner. His lecture on curfew and all didn't sink in until he shuffled the lineup, but then his sixth-place Pirates got the idea.

Thursday night they put aside a slump that had draped them with four defeats in five games and scored a 12-hit, errorless 7-2 victory at St. Louis.

Murtaugh, who reminded his Bucs of the club's 2 a.m. curfew after they lost the Tuesday opener at St. Louis, shook up the lineup after they were whipped again Wednesday. He replaced shortstop Dick Groat with Dick Schofield and made Rocky Nelson his first baseman in place of the alternating Ted Kluszewski and Dick Stuart.

The worst skid of the year came to an end in the only other National League game scheduled when the Philadelphia Phillies, who had lost eight in a row, won 3-0 at Chicago behind Ruben Gomez's four-hit pitching.

The Pirates ripped into Cardinal right-hander Lindy McDaniel (2-5) for three runs in the first inning, then scored three in the third against reliever Ernie Broglio.

Southpaw Harvey Haddix (3-2) was the winner.

Gomez and Cub rookie Bob Anderson had a shutout duel going until the eighth. Then the Phils, who had managed just two hits, scored twice on singles by Willie Jones and Gomez, a double by Sparky Anderson and sacrifice flies by Jim Hegan and Richie Ashburn.

Jim Harris Will Meet With Cage Prospects

All boys interested in trying out for basketball next season at East Liverpool High School are requested to attend a meeting Saturday at 1 p. m. at the high school when the new Potter cage mentor, Jim Harris, will meet with all prospects.

National Loop Linescores

Chicago	000 000 000	0	4 1

Gomez and Hegan; R. Anderson, Buzhardt (9) and S. Taylor. W—Gomez (1-2). L—R. Anderson (2-3).

Pittsburgh	303 000 100	7	12 0
St. Louis	000 200 000	2	10 2

Haddix and Burgess; McDaniel, W. Smith (1), Broglio (4), Cheney (8) and H. Smith. W—Haddix (3-2). L—McDaniel (2-5).

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Ruben Gomez, Phillies, helped crack Philadelphia's losing streak at eight with a four-hit shutout that beat the Cubs 3-0.

Hitting — Don Hoak, Pirates, drove in two runs with a pair of singles and scored a third after doubling for his third hit in 7-2 victory over the Cardinals.

Boston Hitters Club 3 Homers In 5-0 Win Over Athletics

Yankees Can Jump To Sixth In 24 Hours

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

The New York Yankees could escape the cellar in 24 hours.

By winning the first two games of their four-game set against the Baltimore Orioles, the Yankees could jump to sixth place—if seventh-place Detroit does no better than split two games at Cleveland, and Washington can take two from sixth-place Boston in that span.

This is no pitch to resurrect the Yankees. But it does point out that it's a bit early to start the requiem for the champion.

The task of pulling out of the cellar doesn't figure to be easy. The Yankees have lost four in a row to the Orioles, who are third, just 2½ games behind first-place Cleveland. And the Birds will have their surprise ace, right-hander Hoyt Wilhelm (5-0), on the mound.

Manager Casey Stengel will start his ace Bob Turley.

Only one game was scheduled in the AL Thursday and Boston won it with Tom Brewer and Leo Kiely blanking Kansas City 5-0.

The Red Sox busted loose for all their runs on homers by Jim Busby, Jackie Jensen and Dick Gernert, who made his good for three in the eighth.

Ned Garver (3-2) dropped his fourth in a row to the Red Sox.

PAOLI ROSI, third-ranked lightweight fighter and former hair stylist, seems to have his professions scrambled as he attempts to give actress Gretchen Wyler a hair-do while wearing boxing gloves. Rosi is scheduled to meet lightweight champion Joe Brown in Washington on June 3 in a title match. He is a native of Rieti, Italy, now living in New York. (UPI Telephoto)

Beaver Local Wins Crown

Beaver Local elementary school won the Class A championship in the county school system's softball circuit with an 18-5 victory over United Local Thursday morning on the Fairfield-Waterford School field.

Gene Smith was the winning pitcher. Glasser pitched for United Local. George Gaydos, Beaver Local captain, helped lead his team to victory with two triples and three singles. Beaver Local's other top hitter was Gary McKinney, who got two triples and a home run.

Beaver Local put the game on ice in the first two innings, scoring three runs in the first and four in the second. The team went scoreless in the third and fourth innings, then racked up five in the fifth, four in the sixth and two in the seventh. United Local brought in one run each in the second, fourth and fifth innings and two in the third.

Loren A. Ruff, assistant county school superintendent, presented a trophy to Gaydos for the team. The losing team received the softball used in the game.

Ex-Wellsville Resident Named Baseball Head

Victor McIntire, head coach at Willoughby High School and former Wellsville resident, has been appointed a baseball commissioner for the East Lake Division of Cleveland.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. McIntire of Center St., he participated in Wellsville High School sports and baseball sports program of the city.

Buc Manager To Stick With Bob Friend

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Just like tomorrow, tarnished Pittsburgh pitching ace Bob Friend knows it's coming.

"It" is the inevitable inquiry: "What's the matter, Bob?"

"I'll bet I've been asked that question over 500 times," said the 22-game winner of last year who has absorbed seven losses in a victoryless 1959.

But Friend has not outwardly allowed the seven defeats to dilute his aplomb.

"I'm confident I'll snap out of it," Friend said Thursday night. "It's one of those things that happen in baseball."

The 28-year-old right-hander continued:

"My stuff has been good. Ballplayers on other clubs have told me this. And I've gotten some bad breaks."

Backing up Friend is his manager, Danny Murtaugh. He says he will suffer with Friend until he flashes the form of a winner.

Rookie Holds Memphis Lead

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Tom Veech of Milwaukee, a rookie with a host of old pros breathing down his neck, held a narrow lead today in the $25,000 Memphis Open.

The 29-year-old golfer, playing in the 10th tournament of his professional career, jumped ahead of the pack with a 7-under-par 63 first round that equaled the competitive course record.

Veech toured the 6,501-yard Colonial Country Club course in 31-32. Par is 34-36—70.

In pro scrambles, Veech has yet to win. And the two pros running hard behind him — Al Besselink and Jay Hebert — haven't won one in so long they've forgotten how it feels.

Besselink of Grossinger, N. Y., overcame two bogie holes to turn in a 32 - 33 — 65. Hebert, of Lafayette, La., overcame a bogie start for an identical score.

Lurking at 66, were five of the circuit's big boys — Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa.; Bo Wininger of Odessa, Tex.; Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla.; Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex.; and Doug Ford of Paradise, Fla.

Race Tracks' Hearing On Tax Issue Delayed

CLEVELAND (AP)—A hearing on tax value cases involving Randall Park and Thistledown race tracks has been postponed until June 26.

The hearing results from protests that the tax values set on the race tracks by County Auditor John J. Carney are too low.

The protests were made by North Randall and the Warrensville Heights school board.

An appraiser hired by the tracks was not available for the hearing scheduled this morning.

Big Ten To End 13-Year Pact With Rose Bowl

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The Big Ten today will end its 13-year Rose Bowl football hookup unless there is a last-minute switch in conference strategy.

As far as meets the eye, the Rose Bowl agreement has been killed in a standoff 5-5 vote by the individual Big Ten schools. Today's joint meeting of faculty representatives and athletic directors appears destined to deliver the fatal blow.

If the delegates from each school vote as instructed at home, the Big Ten will refuse to renew the Rose Bowl contract because a tie is as good as a no vote.

The opposition has developed at top faculty level, the same group which spurned postseason football competition before the present Rose Bowl pact was signed.

The current Big Ten-Pacific Coast Conference agreement ends with the 1960 New Year's Day game. Renewal of the pact would have to be between the Big Ten and the newly organized "Big Four" coast group of California, Washington, Southern California and UCLA. The present PCC goes out of business July 1.

Sugar Kings Move From Cellar In International

By The Associated Press

Len Cardenas and Dan Morejon are the favorite sons of Havana today. Their hitting lifted the Sugar Kings from the International League cellar with a 5-3 victory over Richmond.

In the only other IL game scheduled Thursday night, Columbus resumed its old habit of beating Miami, knocking off the Marlins, 7-6 at Columbus. It was Columbus' sixth victory in eight games with the league leaders.

Cardens unloaded a bases loaded single in the sixth inning off reliever Johnny James that drove in the deciding run. It gave Havana a 4-0 lead at the time, but Richmond bounced back with three runs in their half of the inning to flash the danger sign. Morejon's ninth-inning solo homer iced it.

Leo Rodriguez and Tom Burgess accounted for half of Columbus' 14 hits.

State Finals Begin In Four Sports Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A starting field of 35,136 athletes from 1,013 Ohio high schools will be on hand today for the two-day test of a four-ring sports circus.

The scholastic stars start their 52nd track-field meet, the 33rd golf tournament, the 32nd baseball playoffs and the 40th tennis championship. All final events are Saturday after today's first rounds in tennis, golf and baseball and qualifying heats in track and field.

Xenia Woodrow Wilson will defend its Class A crown in track, but is given a slim chance to repeat. Springfield is favored to recapture the Class AA laurels.

Yankees Can Jump To Sixth In 24 Hours

By ED WILKS
AP Sports Writer

The New York Yankees could escape the cellar in 24 hours.

By winning the first two games of their four-game set against the Baltimore Orioles, the Yankees could jump to sixth place—if seventh-place Detroit does no better than split two games at Cleveland, and Washington can take two from sixth-place Boston in that span.

This is no pitch to resurrect the Yankees. But it does point out that it's a bit early to start the requiem for the champion.

The task of pulling out of the cellar doesn't figure to be easy. The Yankees have lost four in a row to the Orioles, who are third, just 2½ games behind first-place Cleveland. And the Birds will have their surprise ace, right-hander Hoyt Wilhelm (5-0), on the mound.

Only one game was scheduled in the AL Thursday and Boston won it with Tom Brewer and Leo Kiely blanking Kansas City 5-0.

The Red Sox busted loose for all their runs on homers by Jim Busby, Jackie Jensen and Dick Gernert, who made his good for three in the eighth.

Ned Garver (3-2) dropped his fourth in a row to the Red Sox.

U.S. Davis Cup Team Named

SEATTLE (AP) — The U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn., casting a possessive eye on the huge silver bowl that denotes world tennis supremacy, Thursday nominated Peruvian Alex Olmedo and 19 other to a preliminary, 11-man Davus Cup team for 1959.

Olmedo, a University of Southern California student, almost singlehandedly wrested the Davis Cup from Australia last year. The Peruvian won two singles matches and teamed with Ham Richardson for a doubles victory.

Naming of the preliminary cup team came only a few minutes before Davis Cup team Capt. Perry Jones presented the huge trophy to Victor Denny of Seattle, president of the USLTA.

Named along with Olmedo to the preliminary Davis Cup team were Earl Buchholz Jr., St. Louis; Chris L. Crawford, Piedmont, Calif.; Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio; Bernard Bartzen, Dallas; Don Dell, Bethesda, Md.; John Douglas, Palo Alto, Calif.; Myron J. Frank, Los Angeles; Grant Golden, Evanston, Ill.; Ronald Holmberg, Brooklyn; and Clifton Mayne, Berkeley.

Buchholz, Crawford and MacKay were members of the 1958-59 squad.

Spring Sports Events Slated In M-A Loop

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—The Mid-American Conference concentrates its athletes in track, tennis and golf here today for the annual spring championships.

The two-day meeting also will bring together coaches and other officials of the seven conference schools for annual business meetings.

The championship decisions come Saturday. Preliminary trials start today in all three sports.

Western Michigan will defend its tennis and track crowns. Ohio University is defending golf king.

Other schools in on the three sports weekend are Bowling Green, Kent State, Marshall, Toledo and Miami.

Tight Fairways To Feature Tough British Course

SANDWICH, England (AP)—Bill Hyndman, 43-year-old American challenger for the British amateur golf championship, today forecast that the golfer "who can thread a needle with his drive" will take the title next week.

Hyndman and 17 other Americans are entered in the British championship Monday through Friday over the par 35-36—71 Royal St. George's Links in this windy southeast corner of England.

"The player who strays too often off these tight fairways in the deep, terrible rough might as well pack up and go home," said the big Philadelphian.

Hyndman, a member of the U.S. Walker Cup team which defeated Britain 9-3 at Muirfield last week, is among six American Walker cuppers entered for the championship.

The others are Tommy Aaron of Gainesville, Ga.; Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C.; Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City; Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio; and Deane Beman of Silver Spring, Md.

Johansson Says Aching Back Isn't Serious

NEW YORK (AP) — Aside from a brief interruption in his training program, Ingemar Johansson doesn't think his aching back is too serious.

"I had this happen to me before, training for a fight, and I feel a few days rest will cure it," said the Swedish heavyweight who will meet champion Floyd Patterson in a title bout at Yankee Stadium June 25.

Johansson said he strained what he termed a seldom used back muscle in the training ring Tuesday. He visited a chiropractor Thursday and had a right sacroiliac joint put back in place.

Foreign Sports Cars Featured At Canfield

Foreign sports cars will make their first racing appearance of the season at Canfield Speedway Saturday night.

Some 20 foreign speedsters will be entered in one of three features on Saturday's card.

Gates to the speedway open at 6:30 with time trials at 7 and the first race at 8:30.

Stole Car Of FBI

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—Charles M. Gunter, 18, of Holton, Ind., and Bobby Dunn, 20, Harrison, Ohio, now wish they had picked another car to steal. State police, who arrested them Thursday on Federal auto theft charges, said the pair took the car in Cincinnati Thursday and drove it across the Indiana line. It belonged to E. D. Mason, special agent in charge of the Cincinnati FBI office.

Miteff To Box Bethea

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing returns to Madison Square Garden for a long run tonight with a heavyweight match between Alex Miteff of Argentina and Wayne Bethea of New York. The first Garden ring show since March 20 will be covered on network (NBC) radio and television starting at 10 p. m. (DST).

U.S. Davis Cup Team Named

SEATTLE (AP) — The U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn., casting a possessive eye on the huge silver bowl that denotes world tennis supremacy, Thursday nominated Peruvian Alex Olmedo and 19 other to a preliminary, 11-man Davus Cup team for 1959.

Olmedo, a University of Southern California student, almost singlehandedly wrested the Davis Cup from Australia last year. The Peruvian won two singles matches and teamed with Ham Richardson for a doubles victory.

Naming of the preliminary cup team came only a few minutes before Davis Cup team Capt. Perry Jones presented the huge trophy to Victor Denny of Seattle, president of the USLTA.

Named along with Olmedo to the preliminary Davis Cup team were Earl Buchholz Jr., St. Louis; Chris L. Crawford, Piedmont, Calif.; Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio; Bernard Bartzen, Dallas; Don Dell, Bethesda, Md.; John Douglas, Palo Alto, Calif.; Myron J. Frank, Los Angeles; Grant Golden, Evanston, Ill.; Ronald Holmberg, Brooklyn; and Clifton Mayne, Berkeley.

Buchholz, Crawford and MacKay were members of the 1958-59 squad.

Spring Sports Events Slated In M-A Loop

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—The Mid-American Conference concentrates its athletes in track, tennis and golf here today for the annual spring championships.

The two-day meeting also will bring together coaches and other officials of the seven conference schools for annual business meetings.

The championship decisions come Saturday. Preliminary trials start today in all three sports.

Western Michigan will defend its tennis and track crowns. Ohio University is defending golf king.

Other schools in on the three sports weekend are Bowling Green, Kent State, Marshall, Toledo and Miami.

Tight Fairways To Feature Tough British Course

SANDWICH, England (AP)—Bill Hyndman, 43-year-old American challenger for the British amateur golf championship, today forecast that the golfer "who can thread a needle with his drive" will take the title next week.

Hyndman and 17 other Americans are entered in the British championship Monday through Friday over the par 35-36—71 Royal St. George's Links in this windy southeast corner of England.

"The player who strays too often off these tight fairways in the deep, terrible rough might as well pack up and go home," said the big Philadelphian.

Hyndman, a member of the U.S. Walker Cup team which defeated Britain 9-3 at Muirfield last week, is among six American Walker cuppers entered for the championship.

The others are Tommy Aaron of Gainesville, Ga.; Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C.; Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City; Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio; and Deane Beman of Silver Spring, Md.

Johansson Says Aching Back Isn't Serious

NEW YORK (AP) — Aside from a brief interruption in his training program, Ingemar Johansson doesn't think his aching back is too serious.

"I had this happen to me before, training for a fight, and I feel a few days rest will cure it," said the Swedish heavyweight who will meet champion Floyd Patterson in a title bout at Yankee Stadium June 25.

Johansson said he strained what he termed a seldom used back muscle in the training ring Tuesday. He visited a chiropractor Thursday and had a right sacroiliac joint put back in place.

Foreign Sports Cars Featured At Canfield

Foreign sports cars will make their first racing appearance of the season at Canfield Speedway Saturday night.

Some 20 foreign speedsters will be entered in one of three features on Saturday's card.

Gates to the speedway open at 6:30 with time trials at 7 and the first race at 8:30.

Stole Car Of FBI

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—Charles M. Gunter, 18, of Holton, Ind., and Bobby Dunn, 20, Harrison, Ohio, now wish they had picked another car to steal. State police, who arrested them Thursday on Federal auto theft charges, said the pair took the car in Cincinnati Thursday and drove it across the Indiana line. It belonged to E. D. Mason, special agent in charge of the Cincinnati FBI office.

Miteff To Box Bethea

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing returns to Madison Square Garden for a long run tonight with a heavyweight match between Alex Miteff of Argentina and Wayne Bethea of New York. The first Garden ring show since March 20 will be covered on network (NBC) radio and television starting at 10 p. m. (DST).

ANNOUNCEMENTS

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of my sister NORA BARRETT: In our hearts, your memory lingers Sweetly, tender, deep and true. There is not a day dear sister That we do not think of you. Helen.

GAYLORD B. CLINE. In loving memory of our dear husband, father and grandfather who passed away 2 years ago, May 22, 1957. "Before our eyes he slowly faded away. Growing day by day more frail. Always bearing all his sufferings, Without murmur, without wail. The Golden Gate opened and a gentle voice said "come". And without a farewell unspoken, calmly entered home." Wife, Son, Daughters, and grandchildren.

3 CARD OF THANKS

WE wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, and beautiful floral offerings received from our kind friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved father, son and brother ROY "RED" HARVEY. We especially thank the Rev. Robert Tanguy and the Martin Funeral Home. Sons, Daughter, Brothers and Sisters, Father John Harvey.

Boys Accused In Radio Theft

Six Klondyke area boys were taken into custody Thursday afternoon in connection with the theft of a $70 transistor radio Tuesday from the glove compartment of an auto on the parking lot at the Hall China Co., police reported.

The juveniles and their parents have been ordered to appear today at City Hall before Probation officer Chris Pusey in connection with the theft from the auto of Glenn Burlingame of R. D. 2, police said.

Burlingame told police the tiny radio was taken from his auto between noon and 3:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Four of the boys reside on Harvey Ave. and the other two live on Crawford Ave. and Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., police said. Patrolman Jerry Adkins reported when he and Patrolman Floyd Heddleston questioned the boys yesterday they said the radio was found in a patch of weeds near the factory. They also gave several other conflicting stories, he said.

The radio was recovered, battered and minus one of its knobs.

$300 Damage Set In Vacant House Blaze

NEW CUMBERLAND — Fire caused some $300 damage to a vacant home on Commerce St. Thursday at 11 a. m., volunteer firemen reported.

The house is owned by William Yorko and was vacated recently firemen said. The fire was traced to three mattresses in the frame home left behind by the occupants, but no cause for the blaze was discovered.

Damage included a burned out section of flooring, and a part of the attic.

Pittsburgh Requests Museum Items For Its Bicentennial

Inquiries concerning the borrowing of some exhibits from Wellsville's River Museum for use in an exhibit in connection with the Pittsburgh Bicentennial was reported to the Wellsville Historical Society Thursday night by Ed Pugh, president.

No action was taken pending further negotiations.

Pugh said the inquiry concerned borrowing a model of the Eclipse, a cotton boat, and a bell from the William Larimore Jones, another river boat. The model was made by Ernest Smith of East Liverpool.

Plans call for the two articles to be used in an exhibit at Buhl Planetarium.

The society set June 14 for a tour of six covered bridges in the county. Those making the trip will meet at 1:30 p. m. at the River Museum.

The group also set July 26, the 96th anniversary of Morgan's capture near West Point, as the date for a tour of his route.

Members voted for the society to join the Columbiana County Historical Association and also voted to purchase a Wellsville High School yearbook annually. It also will attempt to secure a complete file of yearbooks.

Edgar Davidson was named chairman of a committee to investigate the purchase of a tape recorder for the society's use.

A discussion was held on the hours for the River Museum to be open. It will be open on weekday afternoons after Memorial Day. The museum now is open on Sundays from 1 to 5 p. m.

Traffic Is Restored Temporarily At Slide

IRONDALE — Traffic has been restored on a temporary basis on Salt Run Rd., scene of a massive landslide in April, which heaved up several hundred yards of roadway and disrupted community water service.

Harold Cope, Saline Township road supervisor, and a crew of workers have completed a corrugated pipe bridge over the creek where the landslide occurred.

Mayor Quenton Henderson urged motorists using the road to proceed with caution and be alert for children playing in a secondary street through which the road was re-routed.

Water service was restored several days after the hillside along Salt Run began sliding and snapped lines leading to a reservoir.

Inspector Honored

LISBON — Earl Wang of North Georgetown, county plumbing inspector, received a certificate of merit Wednesday at Columbus from the Ohio Public Health Association for having given "10 years of meritorious service to the citizens of Ohio in the field of public health." Wang is in his 12th year in the Columbiana County Health Department.
